The Last Speech of Stephen A. Douglas. In the speech made by Stephen A. Douglas at Chicago, May 1st, he used these admirable and memorable words:

"Whoever is not prepared to sacrifice party organizations and platforms on the altar of his country does not deserve to be a member of the party of honest people. How are we to overcome parties and politics in the minds of all parties so as to present a united front against our country? We must cease discussing the details of issues, making distinctions, old party ties, heresies, contrivances, and reifications, indulge in no taunts one against the other; as to who has been the cause of man's kind."

[From the "Daily Gazette"]
Saturday, September 30, 1861.
[S]EASIDE, BOSTON.—You need not fear in regard to the Republican ticket here. Only men could be induced to stand by it, who were deceived. Their candidate for Sheriff, Joshua Rhodes, was not elected. He was not the editor of the "Gazette" letter get some of his friends committed to the up and down railroads and confabulate the stock of this road? We want to know the man's name who is in favor of this road, that we may not only vote against him, but hold him up to the execration and contempt of mankind."

"When we shall have rescued the Government and country from its perils, and seen it float in triumph over every inch of American soil, will there be time enough to inquire as to who and what has brought these troubles upon us? When we shall have secured the freedom of our children to live in peace and happiness, will it be time for each of us to return to our party banners according to our own convictions of right and duty. Let him be a true patriot who will not abandon such a noble cause."

"He who is a friend to humanity is against her. There is no neutral position to be occupied. It is the duty of all, especially to support the Government in all its efforts to bring this unhappy civil war to a speedy conclusion." —GEN. CASE.

"Do not give up the Union. Preserve, it in the name of the Fathers of the Revolution—preserve it for its great elements of good—preserve it in the sacred name of Liberty—preserve it for the faithful and devoted lovers of the Constitution in the rebellion. Let us stand by the Government in its support, and are dying in its defense. Rebellion can lay down her arms to Government—Government cannot surrender to rebellion." —Hon. DAN S. DICKINSON, of New York.

"I am for supporting the government. I do not ask who administers it. It is the government of my country, and as such I shall give it in this extremity all the support in my power. I regard the pending contest with the Secessionists as a death-struggle for Constitutional Liberty and Law." —J. N. A. DIN.

Harry Woods.
"We ask our friends to bear in consideration the claims of Mr. Woods upon their suffrage, and to give him a full and unanimous nomination to the State office, and continue the nomination so gallant a man with Sheriff. Woods has done more for the public welfare than any man in this State. He has, however, apparently laid aside his political career, and has withdrawn from the field of politics. He is a worthy citizen in all the relations of life, has been a faithful, hard working, and upright man, and is a true representative of the political associates that man is Harry Woods." —Gazette

We can afford to publish the articles in this campaign from the "Gazette" in favor of its darling candidate, but have not been indulged in any such courtesy in return. The other day we alluded to the fact that Harry Woods was poorer three years ago, when Mr. Graham, then rich, stepped into a convention and beat Woods, that now, taking the bread out of his mouth. This afforded some capital for the candidate for Sheriff and the "Gazette" to write about being assailed for his poverty. He did not run on the poverty dodge—he was above that; but it appears to be the winning card now, and the "Gazette" as well be opposed to coercion. She is also opposed to being coerced; and since they have shown the wind, let them reap the whirlwind.

Anti-Slavery in Spain.
The Spanish Government has arrived at a conclusion which is not without great significance at this moment. The Madrid Gazette publishes a letter to the Captain General of Porto Rico, from Marshal O'Donnell, President of the Council of Ministers, and Minister of War and the Colonies in which he avows the principle that a slave who has touched the soil of Spain must be considered emancipated, even without the consent of his former master. This recognizes the right of a slave to escape from thralldom, if he can.

Rebels Robbing an Insane Asylum.
The St. Louis papers notice a high-handed outrage recently perpetrated in Northern Missouri:

"As to the amount of lumber, an aged citizen, long engaged in that business, says he never in all his life before saw a similar amount of timber in Ohio. Another lumberman declared the amount, in value, worth millions of dollars—all lost to the owners, from being scattered beyond the likelihood of recovery. Large numbers of men and boys were industriously engaged, with skill, in catching and drawing in much of the floating valuable as they could secure. Happily, although the water was at many points almost over the railroad track, the travel on the road was not interfered with, except during a few hours at the crisis of the flood."

sweat of his brow must stand aside. There are no pitiful appeals for him. What bare-faced hypocrisy!

The Post appears dissatisfied that we spoke favorably of the character of most of the candidates on both tickets. Could we have done otherwise with truth? We have heard that one of the candidates on the Union ticket for the Legislature is in some way committed to the support of the Central Railroad in any schemes it may desire to "push through" this winter, and perhaps our informant will give the individual a name. The Post desires it, we're ready to do it for you, and it will be satisfactory to ourselves at least.

The above is from the "Daily Dispatch," We did not appear nor are we dissatisfied with that paper for speaking favorably of the character of most of the candidates. But we did admire the independence of that sheet in praising and recommending candidates who are on both tickets and had no opposition, and equally dividing its praise between those who had.

What the balance of the article above has to do with the subject spoken of we do not see. If there is a candidate on the Union ticket committed to the Central Railroad in any schemes it may desire to put through next winter, why not give his name. We want to know the monster who is in favor of the Pennsylvania Railroad, an institution which does as much to save Washington City, if not the country, as any helplessness for the transport of troops and supplies. Who is the villain who wants to go to Harrisburg to say a word in favor of the Central Railroad? Had not the editor of the "Dispatch" letter get some of his friends committed to tear up the roads and confabulate the stock of this road?

We want to know the man's name who is in favor of this road, that we may not only vote against him, but hold him up to the execration and contempt of mankind.
