PITTSBURGH:

SATURDAY MOBNING, OCT. 19. CITY MATTERS. THE EMBARKATION AND DE-PARTURE OF GEN. NEGLEY'S BRIGADE.

Fearful Accident - Falling in of the Hurricane Roof of a Steamboat. An Artillery Horse Killed-Two Men out of danger, at least for the present. Dangerously and Several Slightly Wounded.

had been chartered by Commodore W. J. Kountz, who has charge of the transportation by river of troops and government stores, viz: the Moderator, Argonaut, J W. Hailman, Clara Poe, and Sir William

The removal of the baggage and provisno trifling matter, and took up the entire Wagons and drays conveyed packages to the boats, which were at once stored away. All this time, anxious knots ple were assembled on the wharf, awaiting the arrival of the brigade.

The brigade was formed in Camp Wilkins about one o'clock in the afternoon and an hour later was on the levee, with all its equipments. The time occupied in Railroad. the embarkation of the men was short, and in half an hour all were on board. By this time a large crowd had gathered and the scene was a most animated and unusual one. It now became apparent that for desertion, at the instance of Capt. Jno. the five boats would not furnish sufficient accommodations for the entire brigade, and one more, the Silver Wave, was char-

J. W. Hailman, made a mis-step and fell to the ground at the water's edge, head foremost, breaking his neck and causing his death almost instantly. This caused a rush to the forward part of the huricane roofs, and the immense weight on that of the Sir William Wallace caued it to give way and precipitated all who were unable to retreat in time, some to the cabin deck and some to the boiler deck. The Wallace was occupied by a portion of Colonel Hambright's Lancaster regiment and the regimental band, which was on the huri ane roof, while the space in front of the smoke stacks, on the second deck, was crowded with soldiers, officers, and privates. The roof fell, breaking away the front railing and crushing those underneath. One private was thrown, with his musket, to the boiler deck, but was fortunately saved by his weapon, which became entangled in the wheels of an artil- McDonald has been detailed by Colonel S

W. Smith, a relative, on Second street.

Daniel Landis, a private in the same regiment, was thrown from the hurricane oof to the lower deck, receiving a fright. ful wound on the head and serious ful wound on the head and serious injuries of the back. He was conveyed to Mr. White's house on First street, where he received medical attendance, but he was so seriously injured that it is feared the result will be Corporal Michael Coyle, Jno. Cramer and Chas. Heckler, privates, all of Co. B, (we believe) were more or less injured.

Daniel Clemens, a musician, had his burgh office opposite the Theatre. Pit-wrist broken, and Adam Bartch and F. Hepting, belonging to the band, were also injured, but not very seriously.

Lieut. Col. T. H. Duchman, and J. B. Chamberlain, hospital steward of the regiment, were slightly injured, the latter receiving a flesh wound upon the nose. The skill of all the surgeons of the brigade was called into requisition, and the wounds of all the injured were promptly with the expedition, except Adjutant Frailey, Landis and Clemens. The accident was the occasion of general ters. Complaint among officers, soldiers the accident, and there was a universal desire to know who was responsible for the inhuman policy of packing five hundred men on a small steamboat, with artillery horses, gun carriages, ammunition, stores, sideration than the government stock daily transported towards Washington City. We do not hesitate to denounce such treatmen, of the brave men who go forth to fight the battles of our country, s barbarous and inhuman and we have good reasons for asserting that Commodore Kountz is responsible for it, and he alone. On Thursday, when the Governor was here he, as well as others, protested against such crowding of the men (then contemplated) and insisted upon Mr. Kountz giving them ample room, that they might be comfortable on the voyage. Finding the express wishes of the Governor disregarded, some of our prominent citizens resterday interested themselves so far as to deavor, by telegraphic correspondence with the general government, to procure an order for increased transportation facilties, but the effort failed, owing to application in the wrong quarter. The government did not intend that, with scores of idle steamboats at the wharf, and Mr. Kountz fully empowered to employ as Kountz fully empowered to employ as many as were necessary for the transportation of this brigade, two men should be cooped up in a space scarcely large enough for one, subjecting them to a thousand inconveniences, to say nothing of increased danger from heavy loading. According to the process of the proc aliotted to a regiment of seven hundred and forty men in carrying troops to New Orleans during the Mexican war, and now we find three thousand men, an artillery and cavalry company, with their horequipage of the brigade, crowded upon six boats, none of them very large. It may be well enough for Com. Kountz to make a reputation for economy in performing the duties of his position (even presuming he derives no pecuniary advantage from employing men and boats at less than half price) but he should be taught that he mast not do it at the expense of the health and safety of our brave soldiers, in direct op-

cording to our recollection five boats were

The planks were drawn in, and amid hurried farewells, the shrill whistles piped, the wheels turned and the boats moved off, just at dark, while the cheers of the assembled multitude went up on shore The scene was impressive, and one which may never be enacted here again. May Henven protect the noble fellows in their undertaking, and grant them a safe and speedy return. -The latest intelligence we had from the wounded, at ten o'clock last night, was that both Adjutant Frailey and Landis had recovered so tar as to be considered
