detail to clearly state the extent of the victory-great in its results and accomplished with trifling loss of life.

GLORIOUS NEWS.

We refer our readers to our telegraphic naval expedition. It will be seen that our forces have penetrated into the heart of the rebellion, and that South Carolina and reduced them to submit and sue for cing legions. No other State has stood out so violently against the authority of the general government as she has, and to a legal trial, and punish them if they cossity of resuttling and revouching the it is but right that she receive the greatest punishment. Her complete destruction would be a blessing to the Union.

Other Southern States have had their agitators, but they were chiefly bred up by South Carolina influences and derived their pernicious tenets from that State, the course of emigration from which can be distinctly traced everywhere through the slave States by the disturbed political condition of the communities where the emigrants have sets tled. The Union had strong, ardent enthusiastic friends everywhere throughout the South save in South Carolina, and the secession which has resulted in the present unhappy war would not have happened but that it was forced by that single State. In Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Arkansas the Union was overwhelmingly triumphant on the popular vote; and in Georgia, Alabama, the separate States. The reply of Gov. Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas vigorous Union parties existed and were battling for the republic But the pestilential example and influence of the Palmetto State distracted the whole South- still fewer speeches during the war: ern mind, and prevented an adjust PENNSYLVANIA EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

We say that the weight it has been at any period during the course of this war ought properly to be removed thence. South Carolina is the true battle ground. There the desolation of war can do no real injury to the nation, for if the people are determined not to let other States be at peace, the more their country is laid in ruins the better it will the fact that it is now less serious can afford be for the rest of mankind.
