A WORD ABOUT THE MES-SAGE.

Our city cotemporaries-those who appropriated the President's message, have, ever since its publication, been laboring to prove petty larceny respectable. The Gazette indeed does not seem much troubled, but like the generality of hardened and detected rascals, looks incorrigible and sulky; it neither acknowledges its crime, nor promises amendment in the future.

Unlike the Gazette, that pious and conscientious little paper, the Dispatch, which almost daily indulges in so much Lunentation over the corruption of the age, thinks that abstracting a President's message rather a meritorious performance. It said in its issue of Saturday that "indeed we don't know nor expect to know what little bird brought it an at our window." The "little bird" here alluded to is, we presume, the poor devil who was paid for stealing it; and i that 'little bird' had handed over with the message, some gentleman's pocket book, our neighbor, we presume, would put it to one side and make no inquiry as to the species or plumage of his feathered messenger. The wit of the Disputch about the little bird is no better than its morals; it is defective in both. This dodging, however, to get clear of a vile transaction, or lessen its enormity by lame attempts at wit, does not come well from one who is so felicious in proclaiming his own virtues, and whose sense of fair-play was so delicate as to prevent him from supporting the late Union ticket in this county, because, upon his motion, it was not nominated vive roce.

Things will change, however, as is evident, not from this exhibition only, but as was before demonstrated in the change of the Dispatch's every day abuse of Si mon Cameron into one of his principal and most obedient followers. This mere ly goes to prove that the would be virtuous Col. F. is not insensible to the attractions of the War Department, and to secure an aspiring and a valerous of the troops, and except he is actually in youth a snug place in the army, he is willing to take it whether conferred vive

The Chronicle, too, seems not only pleased with the part it played in the dirty business alluded to, but complains that we did not give it an earlier opportunity to do so. Keeping the message, it says, from the public, from the time we received it until we published it, is unpardonable, and remarks that the "hub" of the matter lies just there. This means that if we had issued the message the night we received it, it would have been far more convenient for the Chronicle and others who desired to steal it. Had we issued it "in time," our cotemporaries would have been spared the trouble and inconvenience of skulking about in the cold to secure a copy. Besides the joke of the thing would have been quite exhilerating; paying for a message, setting it up, and issuing it in bors. We issued it at our regular time of issuing our paper. The agent of the Associated Press having refused to send it, the public could not reasonably ex. But I now feel much satisfaction in stating, for them more than that length of time in of either master or oversecr.

But if keeping the message In conclusion, I would respectfully advise that for our regular issue be an offense so commenced, issuing three and four editions, when all the news it had could be measure to their absence given in its first? Why keep news re ceived at 10 o'clock out of its first edition, in order to make a second issue, and keep news which should be in the Ex-President Buchanan on the second in order to manufacture a third-This is the hub we would like to have explained, and in explaining it we shall be under additional obligations it our liberal cotemporary will state whether

Of course it was. The wily Secretary of War desired no quarrel that would toward a cargo of provisions to be sent to the starcounter to the President's opinions upon governmental questions; and even if he had, Secretary Cameron is not the man to exercise it. In the nervous language of another, he now exclaims—"I am not that man!"

Contrac's The Washington correspondent of the Evening Post intimates that certain contractors, occupying high places in the government, are beginning to grow nerrous in anticipation of certain developments. It says; -"The evidence taken by the House Committee of Investigation n Contracts is soon to be published, or a batch of it at least. Some of the devel opments will not be pleasant to certain important gentlemen. The fact that some of the printed testimony has been obstracted by the reporters of one or we journals was this morning brought before the committee, and, upon the romise of the offencers being given not offend again, they were discharged with a slight reprimand. The business of stealing evidence from committee rooms should be made disreputable by the action of Congress, if the journals themselves will not put an end to it."

to be much pleased with the President's message. In private the President expresses himself as being undecided upon the slavery question. He says ;—"This is a great question, and one that I do Hamturg at Son Francisco. but seriously and prudently, and then give me its advice either in the form of resolution or a bill." This is precisely what Congress will do, but the question will not be hastily settled.

Case of Mrs. McCouncil. Case of Mrs. McCounell.

I had been effected with Disease of the Lungs for tour or tire years, when I heard of Dr. Schenck coming to Martin Koch's. Previous to this ume I had given up all hope of ever getting well, but Mr. Koch, whom I knew to have been cured by Dr. Schenck, orged my husband until his prevailed upon me to ago and see the Doctor who found both my lungs affected, the bronchast tubes were both diseased; when I breathed, they would rattle so that it could be heard distinctly—I have now taken his medicines for some time, and find myself wonderfully improved, sithough not entirely recovered; I now find myself able to attend to mose to my household duties, and have ro deubt of my ultimate recovery. From the benefit I have received from Dr. Schenck's treamen., I would advise all persons similarly affacted to apply to him when he makes his next visit.

I have been troubled for about two years with a pain in my breast. Late in the Spring of this year I heard of Dr. Schenck coming out to Martin Koch's, and I determined to call and see him, and get examined with his Respirometer. I did so, and also took all three of his medicines, according to directions, and I have been greatly benefited. I hope, from the benefit air-rady experienced, that it will not be long until I am entirely well.

Oct. 31, 1861. Cure of Mrs. Warner.

Cure of Mrs. Warner.

For about five years I had been affected with pain in the right side of my breast, and in hopes of getting relief, I had taken many different kinds of medicines, but found no benedit from them whatever. I then heard of Dr. Schenck, and the great cures he was performing with his treatment, and concluded to send to his Agent in Piu-sburgh, Ir Keyser for some of his medicine. Previous to taking it, I was so prostrated as to be un ble to undruss myself, or even to lay in bed; I was obliged to sit up in a chair in order to obtain any rest at all. After having taken Dr. Schenck's inedicines. I heard that the Doctor was coming to Martin Kech's, and I determined to see him. I was siready to much improved by the use of his medicine, as to be able to go over to Mr. Koch's, which is a distance of a mile from my nouse. The foctor pronounced my disease to be Bronomical Consumption and Liver(Complaint, with an adnessing of the Pleus is the riss. I would moreover add, that I coughed almost continually, and spit up large quantities of matter daily. I took the Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, according to the Dector's directions, and an happy to say that I am nearly well. ANNA WARNER, Unity Township Columbiano Co. Onto.
