In the Supreme Court, during its late session, Judge Lowrie delivered the opin-ion of the Court in an application to prevent certain gentlemen, elected to the Com-mon Conneil of Philadelphia, from taking their seats, on the ground that returns sent in from Colonel McLean's regiment were fraudulent. The Court admitted that the ALL STYLES, proof was strong, but they had no power to interfere at that stage of the proceedings, the Common Council being the proper ribunal. We quote as follows from Judge Lowrie's opinion: "If in this way we suffer a gross fraud to pass through cur hands without remedy, if not because we have any mercy for the raud, but because we cannot frustrate it by any decree of ours without an act of usurpation. Another tribunal is appointed to administer the remedy, and we believe that, on proper application, it will administer it rightly, according to the evidence it may have; and if we had doubts of this, we should still not be justified in interfering. Sad, indeed, very sad, has been ou ent experience of election frauds; but we cannot believe that our partizenship has become so reckless, and our ejective franchise so carelessly exercised, and our thirst for power and office so intensely selfish, that any official body will sauction so base and frightful a fraud upon the public as this now appears, or that any man deemed worthy of an office would accept it under such circumstances."

"Our elections have become so intensely selfish that oposing parties taeat each other as enemies, and thus many on each side come to think that tricks and lies, fraud, and perjury are legitimate strategy, and even honest men are led to claim the fruits of it, and candidates are very apt to be selected not because of their honesty or their competency for office, but of their capacity to lead in an election combat, and of their readiness to reward their assistants at the expense of the public. When elections are conducted in any large degree on such principles, they become a forum of civil war, repeated annually by appoint. ment of law. For a while it is a question | SELLERS' COUGH SYRUP. honestly or dishonestly, by fair argument or by lying charlatanism; but soon it becomes a question which party can force the election returns to count the highest numbers, and then forgery and perjury lend them assistance. This is a frightfu stand point to occupy for a look into the future. We shall not a tempt to report its

A FEMALE IN A R.W .- About two o'clock yesterday afternoon, a young wo-man, rather good looking, feeling aggriev. ed for some cause at the proprietor of a tavern in the vicinity of Wood and Water streets, attacked his door vigorously with fists a dfeet. He came to the door, whereupon she "pitched in" in true pugillatic style, but was soon left lying on the pavement by a blow from the man, who was in turn attacked by a burly bystander. When the woman recovered herself she wished No. 78 Market Street. but was prevented and the meles ended be fore the arrival of the police.

Boys' BATTLES .- On Saturday and Sunday the boys of Bayardstown and Alles gheny indulged in pitched battles with st. nes and brickbats, on the Alleghony side, some receiving severe injuries. The Seventh ward and Pitt township boys, who have also been at feud for some time, also amused themselves in like manner on Sunday. The Mayor is determined, if possible, to put a stop io these disorderly proceedings, and yesterday three of the Seventh ward lads were arrested and locked up in the tombs for hearing. One was subsequently fined and the others discharged

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE .- This worthy institution opened its halfs yester day for the reception of students for the winter term, with a most flattering atten dance. The prospects for a full term are of the most encouraging kind. We know of none which affords greater facilities for acquiring all the elements of a solid and ornamental education, KILLED AT PORT ROYAL. -Benjamin Stewart, Orderly Sergeant in Capt. Templeton's company of Leasure's "Round. head" Pennsylvania regiment, formerly of West Middletown, Pa, was killed at Port Royal, a few days since. He was preparing a bombshell to send home, and having, as he supposed, taken out all the powder, threw it down rather roughly, when it ex-ploded, and killed him. He was a young man of superior intelligence, and much esteemed by all who knew him.

DISCHARGED. - Mayor Wilson has discharged Barns, the supposed murderer from Vincennes, Ind., a close examination showing that he did not correspond to the picture and description so-closely as was at first supposed, and that he lacked some of the prominent marks Smith was known to have. Aided to this he seemed to be an inoffensive man and his bearing was in all respects that of an innocent one. He was accordingly discharged and the Vincennes authorities notified of the FIRE.-Yesterday afternoon, about one o'clock, the coal office of McFarlane & Co., on Liberty street, Fifth Ward, a small frame building, took fire and was soon turned to the ground.
