THE REBELLION AND SLA-VERY-INDICATIONS FROM VARIOUS SOURCES-BREAK-ING UP OF THE REPUBLI-CAN PARTY

If the extreme men of the Republican party would only decide upon some plan for the suppression of the rebellion, including the utter annihilation or slavery, the people of the free States would take it into immediate consideration. The suppression of the insurrection is what we all desire, and no one more anxiously than the President himself. Frothy speeches, however, and polished rhetoric tion from fanatics, will not affect this thing done except the offering of an indefinite number of resolutions, of various | we entertain no feeling whatever in recharacters, upon the slavery question. The most promi- out of spleen. nent among them were open in their declarations, that an emancipation policy would instantly throw their States into the Southern Confederacy, annihicrush out all Union feeling among them. Yet, notwithstanding these assurances, the extreme men of the Republican party are acting precisely as if they desired to inaugurate the horrors which these border State men are laboring to

The leading Republican papers, too, are full of suppressed bitterness at the report. The ablest of them, the New York Evening Post, says of the message

"Nothing in this message speaks to the popular heart; nothing in it seems up to the spirit of the times; no sententious utterances of great truths are there to stir the public mind in the midst of trial and

The Cincinnati Gazette, too, the leading Republican paper of Cincinnati, takes sides with Cameron, and says;

"The document, as originally prepared, is thus accidently laid before the public, and we have now given the modifications. While the cause of this disagreement is to be deplored, inasmuch as it exhibits a deficiency on the part of the President that was not to be expected, the occurrence by which the people have been made aware of the position of Mr. Lincoln and members of his Cabinet is not to be regretted. The light which was caefully denied by the President in his message has thus been, by accident, shed upon the country. The Secretary of War has reflected the sentiment of the people; and it is easy to see, from the proceedings of Congress, that the members, fresh from their constituents, are

The Dispatch's reply yesterday to he Post on the question of the Presi dent's message was not so jocular as were its former allusions to the same subject. Instead of informing us that 'some things can be done as well as others," and that it "does not know nor want to know what little bird brought the message in at its window," it now grows serious, and intimates that it will stand no insinuations against its characacter for thuth and honesty. Why the Post has insinuated nothing; it has merey stated the facts in connection with the reception and publication of the document in question. The Disputch informed us that it "did not care" by what means it received it; which we take to be a defiant announcement of its total indifference as to what may be thought of its integrity and character. The reasons given in the following paragraph for a certain appointment in he regular army, are so conclusive that

Among Union men in that State, it is generally believed that they had "falling out" about that time. The cause commonly ascribed to the cowardice exhibited by the Missourians, which is supposed to have dis gusted the chivairic Ben. But we learn from Col. Melligan-who spent six weeks as a prisoner in Price's camp, and during that time was not an idle bserver of men and things—that the true reason of the disaffection between these two rebel chief sine is that Price has lost confidence in McCuiloch while McCulloch, by virtne of his greatness as a President's modification of Cameron's general of the Confederate army, chooses not to play a supordinate fart under a general of the single State of Missouri.

At the battle of Wilson's Creek, McCulloch was the chief in command, and it is to his incompeteacy that Price attributes the disaster that befel him on that occasion. The plan of the rebels was o attack General Lyon's camp on the very might that Lyon attacked them. For this purpose Me-Cu loch ordered all the pickets to be drawn in, and get everything in readiness to march.

Case of Mrs. McConnell.

I had been affected with Disease of the Lungs for four or five years, when I heard of Dr Schenck coming to Mertin Koch's. Previous this ume I had given up all hope of ever getti well, but Mr. Koch, whom I knew to have be cured by Dr. Schenut, urged my husband the prevalled upon me to go and see the Dr who found both my lungs affected, the hro tubes were both diseased; when I breather would rattle so that it could be heard dist! I have now taken by medicines for so, and since of the distance of th Case of Mrs. McConnell.

Cortificate of Jane Grist.

I have been troubled for about two years with a pain is my breast. Lass in the Spring of this year i heard of Dr. Schenck coming out to Martin Koch's, and I determined to call and see him, and get examined with his Respirometer. I did so, and also took all three of his medicines, according to directions, and I have been greatly benefitted. I hope from the benefit already experienced, that it will not be long until I am entirely well.

Cure of Mrs. Warner.

For about five years I had been affected with pain in the right side of my breast, and in hopes of getting reliet, I had taken many different kinds of medicines, tuit found no beneft from them whatever. I then heard of Dr. Schenet, and the great cures he was performing with his treatment, and concluded to send to his Agent in Piv sburgh, Dr. Keyser for some of his medicine. Previous to taking it, I was so prostrated as to be un ble to undress mysell, or even to lay in bed; I was obleged to sit up in a chair in order to obtain any rest at all. After having taken Dr. Scheneck's medicines. I heard that the Detetor was coming to Martin Koch'a, and I determined to sees him. I was already so much improved by the use, of his medicine, as to be able to go over to Mr. Koch's, which is a distance of a mile from my house. The bector pronounced my disease to be Bronchial Consumption and Liver Complaint, with an adhesion of the Pieura to the ribs. I would moreover add, that I coughed almost continually, and spit up large quantities of matter daily. I took the Pulmonie Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Philas, secording to the Doctor's directions, and am happy to say that I am nearly well. ANNA WARNER, Oct. 29:1861.
