THE RIGHT MAN AT LAST. The extremists have at last hit upon the right man; Gen. Phelps, whose head quarters are on Ship Island, Miss., issued a proclamation the other day to the people of the "Southwest," in which he advanced genuine emancipation doctrine. In addition to this, he gave the people of that benighted region his declaration of belief, in which some things occur, far surpassing anything of a similar character that we have seen. For instance, this stupendous General says;

"We believe that every State that has been admitted as a slave State into the Union, since the adoption of the Constitution, has been so admitted, in direct violation of the Constitution.

We believe that the slave States which existed, as such, at the adoption of our Constitution, are, by becoming parties to that compact, under the highest obligations of honor and mortality to abolish elavery.'

This is Gen. Phelps' belief, the fathers of the Constitution who admistered into the Union the States of Kentucky and Tennessee, and whose admission was sanctioned by Washington and Adams, knew nothing of their duties if this "Col. Pluck" knows anything. Now, this crazy blatherskite, like the rest of his kidney, has but a single idea in pros. secuting the war against the rebels; and that is political preferment. The struggle among this set is not to suggest the best means of ending the rebellion, but to see who can go farthest and say the most absurd things in relation to slavery. Fremonts and Cameron, and that talking dandy John Cochrane, will all have to look sharp after this new aspirant for abolition honors. This mischievous honorable in washington, from Every Pennsylvania than in Miss uri. Every proclamation is not intended, by Pnelps, official and contractor should be held to a which is addresser fail in ordinary season; and The anisolators and necessity of the respective state of the season of the seas was issued; it is intended for Eastern his dear New England. The most absurd portion of this most absurd production is the following: "By referring," says Phelps, "to the history of the past, we find that one of the most destructive wars on record, that of the French Revolution, was originated by an institution which was not susceptible of political character. The Church, by being endowed with political power, with its con-tents, its schools, its immense landed wealth its associations, secret and open, became the ruling power of the State, and thus oc casioned a war of more strife and bloodshed probably, than any other war which has desolated the earth. Slavery is still less susceptible of politieal character than was the Church. It is as fit at this moment for the lumber room f the past as was in 1793 the monastery, the landed e ealth, the exclusive privilege, etc., of the Catholic Church in France. It behooves us to consider, as a self-governing cannot, whether we ought not to revolutionize slavery out of existence, without the necessity of a conflict of arms like that of the French Revolution. This kind of a proclamation to the peo. ple of Louisiana, a majority of whose citizens belong to the religion alluded to, is pretty smart in Gen. Phelps.

In order to show the effect this proc. lamation produced upon the officers spread. under the command of Gen. Phelps, we select the following extract from a letter of the Ship Island correspondent of the New York Herald:

"On the evening of the 4th of December a number of the officers of the brigade and others of us who were on board the Constitution were astonished to learn that Gen. Phelos had prepared a proclamation to the indignation, nothing but a sense of duty and regard for discipline preventing the t expressions of disgust. "The next day the substance of the docum

ment spread like wildfire among the officers of the command and of the naval The remark of every officer whom I heard speak of it was that they had not come down here to fight for the abolition of slaverys but for the integrity of the Union.

The assertion in the opening clause of the proclamation, that it is an expression of 'the motives and principles by which my command will be governed,' is (I do Gen. Phelps the justice to believe, unintentionally so) untrue; on the contrary, it is the prevailing opinion that if the proclaion is indorsed by the Aiministration, it will lead to much dissatisfaction in Gen. Phelps' brigade, and very likely to the on of nearly, if not all of his offiis even stronger, and many of its officers have no hesitancy in deciaring their intention of resigning if the precisimation is sanctioned by the Cabinet. BEATEN AGAIN.

The Abolitionists in Congress do not ppear to be getting along quite to swimmingly as they anticipated at the beginning of the session. There have been three test votes between them and the Administration party in the House, and they have been beaten from ten to sixteen votes each time. The last defeat Sugar Froduction in the North. they sustained was on Monday; Lovejoy moved for the adoption of his confisca: tion resolution and it was quietly referthis vote, and the two previous ones alluded to, that the destructives are not Union Convention, for the purpose of select and that the country will survive the effect of their present madness.

An important movement is on hand mong leading Bankers originating in New York, to precipitate another suspension. There may be a necessity for this, but when it comes, as it surely must, it will fall like a clap of thunder upon a hopeful people, who have been led to believe the government strong outside of Banks; at least no effort would be made just now to establish a mammoth national institution at the expense of every State Bank. A suspension now and years may elapse before resumption takes place.

EXPOSURE OF COERUPTION The American people are about to be astonished with the exposure of the most enormous and systematic game of plunder ever perpetrated upon any tax-paying people. The committee appointed to investigate certain charges against Fremont, have extended their investigation to other departments, and the result is that others, some of whom were quite loud in their denunciations of all rascality in the public service are quite as guilty as he is. In fact Fremont ap pears to have been imposed upon, but the others alluded to went at the busi ness systematically, and with the care and caution of accomplished scoundrels, endeavored to cover their tracks to avoid detection. The Philadelphia Inquirer publishes a portion of the testimony, and in alluding to it speaks as follows: "If the people of the United States have heretofore been astonished at the develope ments of speculation, peculation, plunder and malfeasance that have from time to time been exposed by the newspaper press during the rogress of the war against the rebellion, they will experience a still more intense emotion when they come to read the exposures made by the Van Wyck Committee of Investigation. In reading t, words of butning indignation apring instinctively to the lips, bu. we forbear to use them until the record of these infamous transactions is spread more fully before the country.

Peculation and fraud are not more lators who expect to realize fortunes by office degrees. North of that has it incure robbing the public treasury, are as much mis across uniformly consumption, for the liberal people of the enemies of the Union as Davis, Floyd or Cobb. They are but following the example of those illustrious thieres who rob-

NOW READY. THE NEW NOVEL. By the author of "RUTLEDGE,"

THE SUTHERLANDS. One elegant 12 mo. Cloth bound. Price $1,25. For many years there has appeared no work o fiction of such power and originality as "RUT" LEIGE." It flashed suddenly with great brilliancy upon the reading community, whose curio-ity became intense regarding its autho which to this day remains a mystery. The new novel—"Ti. E SUTHERLANDS"—developes fresh literary genius of extraordinary character, and will nquestionably add to the fame of the author. Also a new and superior edition of RUTLFIGE. Uniform in appearance and price with "The Sutherlands." BUTLEDGE, after having passed more than twenty editions, has for some time past been en-
