CITY MATTERS. The Death of Mrs. Davis--Verdict o

The Coroner's jury setting over the body of Mrs. Davis, found at Four Mile Run on Tuesday morning, reassembled at Alderman Donaldson's office yesterday morning, when some additional testimony

A son of deceased, ten years old, who night, testified to starting home with his father and mother at eleven o'clock, both being very drunk. They went towards home, but on the way the mother sat down, while witness and the father went nome. They afterwards turned back to where the woman was, and found her lyng on the ground. She did not speak. They tried to get her home, but could not They tried to get her nome, out could not All her clothes were on her. She was lying very near the run. Witness and his father staid with her some twenty minutes, but failing to get her up, they went home, and father went to bed. They went back a second time, and found part of her clothes off. This was bafore daylight. She can from these sides simple propagate with the sevent of the country of on, but lost them on the way. She fell on the spot where she was lying. She had fallen once before on her face, and father had lifted her up. They were not quar-relling on the way, but Davis did not strike deceased. She was dead when they durned the seconed time.

Dr. McCook, who made the post mortem examination, described the condition of the body. There was a flesh wound over the left eyebrow, but no fracture of the skull and no injury sufficient to produce death. Wounds of this character might have been produced by a blow or fall.—

There were other wounds of atrivial character on the hody which witness thought the confederacy have been modified by Congress, in secret arcsion, so as to declare that no peace ought to be concluded with the United States which does not ensure to Maryland an opportunity of forming a part of the Confederacy have been modified by Congress, in secret arcsion, so as to declare that no peace ought to be concluded with the United States which does not ensure to Maryland an opportunity of forming a part of the Confederacy have been modified by Congress, in secret arcsion, so as to declare that no peace ought to be concluded with the United States which does not ensure to Maryland an opportunity of forming a part of the Confederacy.

A private dispatch received at Richmond on Sunday, says that the steamer Gordon has run the blockade into one of the South Dr. McCook, who made the post mortem acter on the body, which witness thought might have been received in her attempts to rise. The blow over the left eyebrow of coffee, salt and West India fruit. might have been received in her attempts to rise. The blow over the left eyebrow was sufficient to have stunned the deceased, but the exposure to which she was subjusted was the immediate cause of her death. A person stated here that he had amained a rock near where the deceased lay, and which was its iid with blood.— It corresponded in street with the character of the wound, and he had no doubt but that the cut referred to had been made by her falling on it. Dr. M'Cook, two, gave it as his opinion that the wound was received in this way, and accounted for her nudity by stating that she might easily have torn the clothes off in her death.

After this chester all the Charles are not to be here. After this some additional testimony

DISTRESSING SUICIDE. -On Tuesday evening Coroner McClung head an inquest on the body of a middle aged man named George Jacobs, found hanging from a tree on the farm of Mr. Fisher, in Hampton township. The deceased, who resided in Ross township, had been for some time leading a dissipated life, and about five weeks ago, left home in a fit of anger, bidding his wife and family a final good-bye. His son started in pursuit of him the same evening, and trac a him to Mr. Fisher's, where it was ascertained he had stopped over night. After this all trace of him was lost, until Tuesday, when his remains

F.'s farm. A verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered. COMMITTED TO ANSWER -James Mc Creely, husband of the woman drowned in the canal at Duquesne borough, last week had a hearing before Mayor Drum on Tuesday. Mrs. Rafferty, of Snyder's Hol-low, testified to deceased having been at her house on the afternoon of her disappearance. McCreely came in, but remained an hour after his wife, who drank freely there, had left. A German woman living in Duquesne borough saw, about the time Mrs. McC's body was found, a man, whom she did not recognize, sitting on the canal bank, two hundred yards above, monring and talking to himself incessantly. Mrs. Bolings, residing near the spot where the body was found, thought struggle without her knowledge. Though there was no evidence to sustain the charge murder, Mayor Drum did not feel jus

ROBERT W. FENWICK! Counsellor and Patent Agent AT WASHINGTON CITY, D. C. From Hon. Chas. Mason, late Commissioner of Patenta.
Washinston, D. C., October 4, 1860.
Learning that R. W. Fenwick, Esq., is about to open an office in this city as a Solicitor of Patenta, I cheerfully state that I have long known him as a gentleman of large experience in such matters, of prompt and accurate buildness habits, and of undoubted integrity. As such I commend him to the inventors of the United States.

Mr. Fenwick was for nearly four years the manager of the Washington Branch Office of the Scientific American Patent Agency of Mesers. Munn. & Co. and for more than ten years officially connected with said firm, and with an experience of fourteen years in every branch relating to the Patent Office, and the interest of inventors.
