of Clark vs The Birmingham and Pitter be the workingmen's independent burgh Bridge Company. The plaintiff in didate for Mayor of Allegheny City. burgh Bridge Company. The plaintiff in arror brought an action in the court below to recover demages for the loss of a canal boat, caused by its coming in collision with the piers of the bridge, which it was allegwere unlawfully erected and maintage ed in and near the ordinary channel for coal boats and other craft, and by reason thereof were an unlawful obstruction to the navigation of the river, and a common nuisance. She court below entered a nonsuit, and the case was removed to this court OB & Writ of error.

The charter of the company prescribed no mode in which the bridge should be built, and it therefore possessed a discre tion unlimited by express restriction. The court say that the erection, &c, of these piers was not unlawful, and for any loss that the plaintiff might have sustained by their simple erection the company was not their simple erection the company was not liable. It was further said that the grant of a franchise by the State carried with it the immunities to which the State would be entitled, and is liable for consequential damage only so far as the State

As the legislature had not defined the number of piers, nor their location, it followed that they left to the company a disetion in the matter, and the exercise o that discretion could not be call d in ques-tion by a jury. The judgment of the court below was affirmed.

OIL ITEMS—A meeting was held in Franklin on Saturday night, to consider the project of constructing a branch railroad from Franklin to Meadville or Jamestown, connecting with the Great Western at one of those points. A come mittee was appointed to take necessary measures for the improvement. Bushnell, Duffield & Co. have opened a flowing well on Oil Oreek, five miles above Franklin, which yields five hundred barrels par day The supply of oil on the creek is so large that it is difficult to get teams and wagons to convey it to the railroad stations.

To those who do not know Canada, who do not know the ample freedom we enjoy, social, civil and religious; who do not know how many institutions sacred to an Ir'shman's worship, and dear to an lrishman's sense of equality, are found flourishing on this soil, the declaration I have made may seen doubtful or exaggerated. But, I repeat, solemnly, and most absolutely, that I know what I say to be the literal and exact truth. There is hardly a group of Irish settlers in U, per or Lower Canada. that I have not personally visited during the last four or five years. There is not a man of note amongst them, layman or cleric, that I have not met, and I declare that I have yet to meet the first mon, of all those bodies and orders of men, who does not frankly and loyally prefer our Canadian them, (as I own it was some years ago with myself); but, since the era of "the Klow-nothing" move ment, the last vestige of political preference of the United States has disappeared among the Irish here. There is—and I think there ought to be—a warm good will toward the Federal cause in its integrity. There is a natural interest felt in the Irish contingent in the federal army; there is a would be for the Irish, in truth, a fratricidal war; but for all this, no Irishman in Canada will hold back from the detence of his own soil; and if other hand for sie by en-maled by false reports of our discon
