Last Night's News up to Two O'clock. Thirty-Seventh Congress.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—House.—Mr. Blair, of Mo., reported back the bill to increase the clerical force in the War Department, and it was passed.

Mr. Cox, of Ohio, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported the Senate bill authorizing Capt. McKean and other Naval officers to accept certain presents from the Emperor of Japan.

Mr. Mallory, of Kentucky, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the Secretary of War, if not incompatible with the public interest, to inform the House, as soon as practicable, in what way a sufficient military force can be extended to the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in order that the road may be repaired.

Mr. Stevens, of Pa., remarked that this was not an accidental rebellion, it had been planned for years past, and gradually grown up. It would be better to have the whole South under the control of the Union, than to have it divided into rebel and loyal States.

Mr. Harris, of New York, objected to the bill making a great innovation on the common law of evidence, by which anything which may tend to criminate him, he opposed making such an innovation.

Mr. Bayard, of Del., moved to strike out that portion of the bill which would compel a witness to answer questions which may tend to disgrace or make him infamous.

Mr. Trumbull claimed that the subject of the bill was to put the witness on common law ground. The law as it now stands enables the greatest criminal to escape if he can only get before an investigating committee and tell something about it. That very case occurred in relation to the clerk who stole two million of the Indian bonds and went clear in that very way.

Mr. Bayard, of Del., introduced the amendment. Mr. Harris offered an amendment that in law shall not be so construed as to require any witness to testify to any fact which would tend to criminate him. Lost: yes, 19, says 21. The bill was then passed.

Arrival of the Water Witch

New York, January 22.—The gunboat Water Witch arrived at Havana, from Ship Island. No one was to blame in the recent collision between the United States gunboat De Soto and the French Ship-of-War Albatross. The latter had a paddle box and one oar wheel injured. She was repaired at Ship Island, and has since reached Havana.

Col. McCook Wounded. CINCINNATI, January 22.—A dispatch from Somerset says that Colonel McCook of the 9th Ohio, was wounded in the recent battle. Three balls struck his horse, the fourth passed through his overcoat, and the fifth hit him. The wound is painful but not dangerous.

Missouri Troops in the United States Service. St. Louis, Mo., January 22.—A report by Adjutant General Harding to Governor Campbell, shows that 33,882 Missouri troops have entered the Federal service for the year of the war, of which 25,000 are Infantry, 3,000 Artillery, and 5,882 Cavalry. The number of militia organized under the Governor's call for six month's man is upwards of 6,000.

From Kentucky. LOUISVILLE, January 22.—The entire Louisville loss at the late fight is 39 killed, 150 wounded, 3,000 Artillery, and 6,000 Cavalry. The number of militia organized under the Governor's call for six month's man is upwards of 6,000.

Another Account of the Battle of Mill Springs. LOUISVILLE, January 22.—G. N. Tomlinson, a new recruit in the 1st Kentucky, who was with the 1st Kentucky at the battle of Mill Springs, has just returned from the front, and has given the following account of the battle.

Arrival of the Columbia. NEW YORK, January 22.—The steamship Columbia from Havana on the 18th, arrived at this port this evening. The news from Mexico is to the 10th inst. Communication with the interior had been cut off by the war operations.

Arrival of the Transport Illinois. NEW YORK, January 22.—The Government transport Illinois arrived at this port this evening, from Key West. The gunboat Tahoma was at Key West on the 18th. The Illinois passed the steamer Ericsson on the afternoon of the 18th, and the gunboat Connecticut with a schooner, a sloop, and a prize.

Arrival of the Water Witch. NEW YORK, January 22.—The gunboat Water Witch arrived at Havana, from Ship Island. No one was to blame in the recent collision between the United States gunboat De Soto and the French Ship-of-War Albatross.
