Our advance arrived within sight of the enemy's entrenchments one hour before dark, and opened upon them with shot and shell. Night closing in put a stop to further demonstrations. At daylight next morning, a steamboat was observed transporting troops across the Cumberland.

Whitmore's battery of Parrott guns brought to bear on the boat, which, in a few minutes afterwards, was in flames.

The 10th Kentucky and 14th Ohio were ordered forward by Gen. Thomas to advance on the enemy's breastworks. Movering up in line of bittle and scaling the entrenchments, they found the camp entirely deserted, and everything standing as when occupied by the enemy. Houses, tents, horses, mules, wagons, baggage, cannon, ammunition and fire arms were found in perfect preservation. The enemy's forces in the attack were led by Crittenden and Zollicoffer, and were 8000 strong. The Federal forces in the fight did not exceed 3000.
