PITTSBURGH POST HON. JESSE D. BRIGHT.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1862. IMPROVING SLOWLY.

As the day draws near for the election of a United States Senator by the Ohio Legislature, we perceive quite an im his aid to humiliate and disgrace that be made. provement in the legislative proceedings of Mr. Benjamin Wade. During the for him, but at the same time we cannot present session of Congress the Ohio Senator has been feeling his way with remarkable caution; he has not uttered in his case, more by partizan than cona syllable to which the most fastidious stitutional considerations. Among those in another. alayeholder could take the slightest ob-

The milk in this cocoa nut is the consideration of their duty in this the Conduct of the War has decided to make no question are Cowan of our State, Harris of New York, and Ten Eyck of New accounted for by the fact that there is a supposed majority in the Ohio legislaof New York, and Ten Eyck of New tively, a motion immediately to discharge the ture who do not think precisely as Mr. Jersey, all Republicans. We copy the commuttee and organize a new one will be made Wade does upon the "irrepressible confollowing condensed account of their flict." remarks :

It is very extraordinary that Senator "Mr. Cowan, of Pennsylvania, said he had a very Wade should, in a crisis like the present, slight personal acquintance with the Senator infim Indiana, (Mr. Bright,) and had always opposed remain so remarkablyquiet as he has done him in his political dogmas. He was as much in Riggs & Co, Corcoran, Rittinhouse, Faat & Coupon the causes of and probable results favor of putting down the rebellion as any one. of the rebellion. Among the agitators He claimed that, in examining this case, the 5 n- cern of unquestionable loyalty and responsiblewho were most fierce and defiant in ate must be governed by the same rules as if sit ting as jurors. The charge against the Senator is men of New York, with an inimense capital and their denunciation of every one who did that of treason. The head of this party was James we have now on hand a rebellion which he did his share to bring on the country the irrepressible conflict between the free and slave states is raging, and he has not, during the present session, followed up his teaching by giving the Abolitionists of Ohio a single speech upon emancipation. While other Abolitionists in the Senate-whose terms of office do not expire for several yearsare savage for emancipation, the Ohio member acts as modestly as an old maid at a wedding, not having a word of con gratulation for the "happy couple." We wish that the Pittsburgh Gazette would explain this dodge of brothe Wade. Does he expect to gammon th egislature of Ohio into re-electing him? Is this the extent of his patriotism and sympathy for "the millions now groaning beneath the iron heel of tyranny. If he does, it will be the best politics performance we have had since Cameron assured the Senate that he never med
