DAILY POST.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 3.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE.

Fire on Wood Street.

Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, fire, originating from a can of varnish, broke out in the third story of warehouse No. 72 Wood street, above Fourth, occupied as a brush factory by James Loughridge. The merchants in the vicinity were much alarmed as the dark clouds of smoke began to roll from the windows and roof, believing their own stores in danger, but the steamers were soon at hand and by their exertions the flames were confined to the room in which it originated, burning off the roof and slightly damaging the adjoining hardware house of Sam'l Fahnestock. Mr. Loughridge's stock was nearly all removed and his loss will be confined mostly to injury by water—$600 or $800, not covered by insurance. Mr. Fahnestock's loss will be more serious, his goods being much injured by water, but it cannot be estimated until the stock is examined. It will not cost much to repair the damage to the buildings. The new iron buildings adjoining Fahnestock's were in danger for a time, but came out uncathed.

The Subsistence Committee.

We are indebted to the Subsistence Committee for a handsome lithograph of the Volunteer Refreshment Rooms, at City Hall, of which it is an accurate representation. The lithograph was paid for by private subscription, chiefly among the gentlemen of the Committee, and the entire proceeds of its sale will be applied to the purchase of hospital supplies for our Western armies. The picture will be for sale at Henry Miner's, Fifth street, and J. J. Gillespie's, Wood street. The picture is dedicated to Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War.

The Committee has been doing a noble work, one which should entitle it to the thanks of the whole community. By request, we publish the following report of its operations:

The Subsistence Committee, since 26th of last July, have fed between 43,000 and 44,000 men, who have passed through our city on their way to the seat of war. They have comprised regiments and companies of almost every loyal State. Many of them came from the distant States of Wisconsin and Minnesota, who have enjoyed the hospitalities with grateful thanks, and have left with many good wishes for the citizens of Pittsburgh. The Committee have also received, since January 15th, the following contributions of hospital supplies, which have been sent to the hospitals of our western armies in St. Louis, Louisville and Western Virginia: 1103 pair socks, 262 cans fruit, 227 comfortables, 364 towels, 33 dressing gowns, 112 bed ticks, 1,000 shirts, 281 under shirts, 462 pillows, 41 blankets, 112 pairs mittens, 442 neck scarfs, 128 sheets, 320 pillow cases, 293 pairs slippers, 132 combs, 250 rolls of bandages and linen, 273 packages of sundries, making a total of 7,031 articles, have also attended to 225 sick of the different regiments which have passed through our city, some of whom have been sent to our hospitals until they recovered.

The Committee would take this method of returning their thanks to the many kind donors who have responded to their appeals for assistance, and they may rest assured they have the heartfelt gratitude of many a poor soldier far from home and friends.

As an evidence of the good these contributions have done in the West, we give the following extract of a letter received yesterday from the Ladies' Aid Society, of St. Louis:

"Please tell the good friends of your city we thank them most heartily for their many kind donations. Let them not grow weary in well doing for the noble men to whom we owe so much. True, the summer is approaching, and they will not require the same articles for their comfort, yet they will need as much. The physicians anticipate that the Hospitals will will be full all summer, for as many will suffer from exposure to heat as from cold, and imprudence in diet—than in winter. We shall not need any more comforts this season, or cotton flannel shirts; but cotton or flannel shirts and drawers, towels, handkerchiefs, pillows, pillow slips, bandages, jellies, etc., will be wanted in any quantity."

We trust that this worthy body may, if they seek further contributions from our citizens, meet with the same liberality as heretofore.

Prof. Anderson's Necromancy.

The nightly soirees of Prof. Anderson, at Concert Hall, continue very attractive, and are still attended by audiences who are very well pleased with the entertainments. They embrace all the tricks of ancient and modern necromancy, executed with such skill as to baffle detection.—Among the most inexplicable of the tricks are the rope tying of his son and the "second sight" of his daughter. The latter affords a wide field for amusement and a still wider one for speculation, which, however, is almost useless, as all theories of the modus operandi seem to fail. A good bill is presented for to night; go one and all.

Quarter Sessions.

The most important cases tried in this Court yesterday, were the following: John Flood, tried for the larceny of a sack of rags, acquitted; Elvira Owens, convicted of stealing a pair of ladies' boots from Gottfried Fox. Liberty street, and recommended to mercy; Mary Leese, convicted of assault and battery on Julia Whitman of the Fifth Ward and recommended to mercy—supposed to be insane; Catharine Murphy, convicted of stealing a piece of calico from R. R. Finton and remanded for sentence.

Removed.

We call attention to the card of Addy & Ewens, practical plumbers, gas and steam fitters, &c., from which it will be seen that they have removed their Pittsburgh establishment from First street, near Wood, to No. 165 Wood street, near Sixth. They are good workmen and do well and promptly all work entrusted to them.

Unclaimed Baggage.

A bill has been read in the Legislature, giving the power to railroads to open and examine any unclaimed freight, baggage, or property of a perishable nature, and sell it at public sale to the best advantage.—When property of any kind has been twelve months in their possession, then they shall have power, after separate public notices for four consecutive weeks, describing the property, the place and time of shipment, and name, if known, of the owner or consignee, to dispose of the same. All excess arising from such sale, over and above all charges, is to go to the State Treasury, and the companies to be relieved forever from any liability.

A Peter Funk.

The Cleveland Leader of Tuesday has the following: "A party from Pittsburgh yesterday morning applied to Deputy Sheriff McKinstry for the arrest of a man who had swindled him out of thirty-five dollars on a Peter Funk watch in Pittsburgh, in the latter part of last week, and thereafter repaired to this city. After hearing a statement of the case, the officer repaired to the hotel in which the guilty party was stopping, and arrested him. The fellow is understood to be a grand scoundrel, and an adept in confidence games and swindling operations."

The Rough Hoods.

From the South, a camp paper published at Port Royal, S. C., we learn that in the six Pennsylvania regiments there have been deaths have occurred, of which thirty were in the Roughead regiment, Col. Lemare.

Oil Refineries Burned.

The business of oil refining seems to be most hazardous, from the number of refineries destroyed by fire. Yesterday morning about ten o'clock, Mr. Jake Hill's refinery, on Herr's Island, took fire and was totally destroyed. About four o'clock in the afternoon the refinery known as Bell's, about three quarters of a mile up Saw Mill Run, was also burned, with a quantity of oil. We did not ascertain the loss in either case.

A Command for Gen. Kelly.

General Fremont has issued an order assigning General Kelly a command. It will embrace all of Western Virginia, north and east of the counties of Jackson, Roane, Calhoun, Braxton, Lewis, Barbour and Tucker inclusive, and west of the Alleghenies, Maryland and Pennsylvania. General Kelly will probably make his headquarters at Grafton, though it is not known that he has definitely settled the matter as yet.

Hellerism.

This is the new principle upon which Robert la Diable, at the Theatre, attempts to account for the wonderful second sight of his familiar, Fred. The public have in vain sought a better explanation and must be content to accept this, unsatisfactory as it may seem; yet the second sight, wonderful as it appears, is not more inexplicable than many of Heller's tricks, which should all be seen to be appreciated. His engagement lasts but three nights more, and the public should bear the fact in mind.

Death of an Ex-Commissioner.

Zacheus Patterson, of Indiana township, who was until recently one of our County Commissioners, and as such imprisoned for contempt of the Supreme Court, in refusing to levy the railroad tax, died of apoplexy, on Thursday last, in Indiana township, being stricken down while on his way to the office of his physician, whose advice he sought, feeling unwell. He was a hale, rugged man and his sudden death will occasion much surprise.

Second Virginia Volunteers.

In the House, on Monday, Mr. Shannon presented a petition, asking that the five hundred citizens of Pennsylvania now serving in the Second Virginia regiment shall be granted the same benefits as the volunteers from this State.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The first through train from Baltimore on this road was expected to arrive at Wheeling at six o'clock yesterday morning. Preparations were made to celebrate the re-opening by firing a salute of one hundred guns. A through train for Baltimore left on Tuesday.

Acquittal of Col. Anisansell.

Gov. Pierpont has been officially advised, from Washington, that Col. Anisansell has been honorably acquitted of all the charges preferred against him by Gen. Lander, and that the Col. has been ordered to the command of his regiment.

The Melodeon.

This place of amusement is to be re-opened in a few days by Fred. Amos, who has engaged a good company in the East.

Summer Resort for Sale.

We refer our readers to the advertisement, in another column, over the name of Hon. Wm. F. Johnston. The property he offers for lease is a popular summer resort, with all necessary appurtenances and conveniences, and as the lease can be had on good terms, the investment could be made very profitable.

Visit of the Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury yesterday paid a visit to the County Poor House and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the arrangements of the house and the condition of the inmates.

Pennsylvania Roll of Honor.

In the House, on Monday, the act authorizing the Governor to keep a roll of honor of the Pennsylvania Volunteers was taken up and passed. $1,000 was appropriateh to carry out the provision of the bill.

Hurt while Moving.

On the 1st, John Aiken, while riding on a wagon, in South Pittsburgh, on top of a load of household goods, was thrown off by the horse taking fright and severely cut about the head and one arm.

Philadelphia Cattle Market.

The offerings and sales of cattle at Philadelphia during the past week have been, according to the Ledger, as follows:

The arrivals of cattle during the past week at A. P. Phillips' Avenue Drove Yard amounted to 1129 head. The prices were a trifle better than at last quotations, the greater portion of the animals having been disposed of at from 8 to 9 cent per pound. Several lots sold for 7 cents. Sixty cows were set down, at from $18 to $28 for Springers, and $20 to $40 for those with calves. Sheep have advanced slightly; 4,850 brought from $5½ to $5¾ per cwt., net. The prices obtained for 1,380 Hogs were $5¾ and $6. At H. G. Imhoff's Union Hog Yard, 2,152 Hogs realized from $5 to $5¾ per cwt., for still fed, and from $5½ to $5¾ for corn fed.

FT. PULASKI INVESTED.

An Unconditional Surrender Demanded.

A PANIC AT CHARLESTON.

FORTRESS MONROE, April 1.—The U. S. gunboat Seminole arrived here this afternoon, bringing Port Royal dates to Saturday last. Fort Pulaski had been thoroughly invested for thirty days, and was momentarily expected to surrender. It was said that about five hundred rebels were in Fort Pulaski, and that they had offered to go out with the honors of war, but General Sherman demanded their unconditional surrender, and would on the first of April open on the fort if they still refused.

The rebels have had withdrawn all their forces from the coast of Georgia, and had abandoned their works at Thunderbolt, taking all their guns to Savannah. The gunboat Seminole landed and destroyed the Thunderbolt fort, which is within five miles of Savannah, over a good shell road.

A refugee from Savannah says that the friends of the rebel troops in Fort Pulaski had offered $30,000 to any one who would rescue them.

A refugee from Charleston represents that a great panic had existed there since the capture of Newbern. The women and children were leaving the city for safety, and there was a general expectation that a terrible blow was about to fall on that section.

From Florida the intelligence is most gratifying; the Union sentiment was being strongly developed.

A dispatch from Norfolk in this morning's Richmond papers mentions the arrival of Vice President Hamlin and a large party of ladies and gentlemen here, and the salutes on the occasion; and in the same paragraph says there has been no communication by flag of truce for several days past. There appears to be little doubt that all the movements here are faithfully reported to the rebel authorities. The papers also state that nearly a hundred transport steam and other vessels are in Hampton Roads, and that a large number of Federal troops have landed here.

The Richmond Dispatch, of this morning, says the Grand Army of the Federals seem to have been transferred from the neighborhood of Washington to the Peninsula, which they have probably concluded is a shorter and easier road to Richmond, than via Manassas, which we have courteously placed at their disposal. The Dispatch adds that the roads here are as bad as those on the Potomac, and refers to Gen. Magruder as a man not likely to be caught napping.

There was a rumor in Richmond yesterday that a severe fight had taken place on the Peninsula. This was probably caused by the fact that a strong reconnoissance towards Yorktown was made on Saturday.

A dispatch from Augusta, Ga., dated the 31st of March, says the Charleston papers of that day contained a dispatch dated New Orleans, the 24th, stating that two Federal gunboats on the 28th commenced an attack on Fort Jackson at the mouth of the Mississippi, but up to that time nobody had been hurt.

The New Orleans papers of the 27th, report the loss of the rebel steamer Van Derbilt. The captain, crew, and eight passengers are safe on the Florida coast. A boat containing seventeen men had not been heard from.

The rebel Ordnance Bureau has issued an order calling for all the bells that can be obtained, to be recast into light artillery.

Troops are gathering in large numbers at Jacksonport and Pocahontas. General Van Dorn and Jeff. Thompson were preparing for an early movement on some point on the Mississippi river with their force. It was considered by the rebels that the Mississippi Valley is safe from the enemy.

The Memphis Avalanche, of the 29th ult., says:

The forces of the enemy, in attempting to take Island Number Ten, have been throwing shot and shell for 240 hours, without doing any damage to our works or guns. Up to this time only one Confederate soldier has been killed.

Small tugs came down the James river yesterday afternoon, and at long range threw some shell into Newport News camp, no damage was done. The distance was so great, it would be useless with our guns to make any reply.

The military stationed at Norfolk, from the Gulf States, have been very severe on the Virginia Chivalry since the defeat at Roanoke. Even the Richmond Blues, the very punk of Chivalry, have fallen in public estimation, All award bravery to O. Jennings Wise; but his father has so fallen in public estimation, that he is proclaimed on the streets of Norfolk a coward and a poltroon.

In his escape from Nag Head he rode thirty miles on horseback, notwithstanding he had previously reported himself too ill to remain on Roanoak Island at the head of his command. Wise and Floyd now rank together as the fleet-footed. My informant says that Wise would be hooted if he ever appeared in the streets of Norfolk or Richmond. He has retired to his farm in Prince Anne county.

Commissioner's Report of the Missouri Department.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Commissioners to examine into the affairs of Western or Missouri Military Department, have made a voluminous report, in which they state they examined 1,200 witnesses and had claims presented them amounting to eight millions of dollars. They remark they have devoted principal part of their report to an exposure of the abuses which characterized the late administration of that Department and testify to the integrity which generally has been displayed by merchants, mechanics and manufacturers, when permitted to deal directly with the Government, wide spread as has been the demoralization in official circles and among their dependents and favorites and startling as are the frauds which have been attempted and consummated. A larger majority of the claimants have presented themselves before the Commissioners, unimpeached by imputations, either on their loyalty or honor. The following dispatches to day, received here, dated Woodstock, Va., April 2nd:

We have driven the enemy from Strasburg to Woodstock, a distance of 12 miles, and then to Edinburg, 11 miles beyond.—He contested the march most of the way, and at a strong position at which he contemplated making a stand, as at Edinburg, quite a sharp contest occurred. He burned the bridges in his flight, except the one at the narrow passage, which we were enabled to reach in time to extinguish the flames. We lost but one man and had but one wounded. The enemy suffered more, but I cannot state the extent; Col. Ashby received a shot through his cap, which he exhibited, with some satisfaction, to the people of Woodstock; others suffered more severely. The man behaved admirably. During the advance yesterday, our vanguard and skirmishers were frequently fired upon by the rear guard of Jackson's retreating forces; we shelled them through town, and as often as they appeared in range; after passing the bridge over Stone Creek, they set fire to it; but our troops arrived in time to save it; also another bridge, further on, and the railroad bridge, all [illegible] this side of Edinburg. Our artillerists endeavored to prevent the destruction by pouring showers of shells into the enemy's ranks.

The Richmond Enquirer, of the 27th, places our loss at the Winchester battle at twelve to fifteen hundred, theirs at three fifty to four hundred. Among their casualities, Col. L. T. Moore of Winchester, T. H. Towner, of General Assembly, killed, Col. Echols, of the 27th Virginia, wounded. The 2d Virginia Regiment lost 100 men.

Capture of Fort Pulaski.

BALTIMORE, April 2d.—The special correspondent of the American, at Fortress Monroe, says: "In connection with the knowledge the rebels seem to possess of our movements, I may also state that two drummer boys who were captured by the rebels a few days since, are known to have given information they possessed to the enemy. This fact was ascertained from two rebel prisoners who were captured yesterday.

The Seminoles advices from Port Royal are to Saturday last. The surrender of Fort Pulaski was daily expected For 30 days all communication with Savannah had been cut off, except an occasional row boat, which escaped the pickets. Several of these boats had been caught on their way down, but some are supposed to have escaped the vigilance of the guard at night. The number of rebels in Fort Pulaski was reported by deserters at five hundred. Two German companies of the garrison had revolted and were placed in irons.

It was the intention of Gen. Sherman to summon the Fort to surrender on the 1st of April, if the demand was not acceded to, he would immediately commence to shell it. His mortar and siege guns were so stationed that the guns of the Fort could not reach them.

A boat's crew from the Seminole landed and destroyed the Fort at thunderbolt, setting fire to the barracks and blowing up the magazine.

The City of Savannah was understood to be very strongly fortified in all its approaches. The force their was variously estimated by refugees at from 20,000 to 50,000, probably 20,000 is more correct. The greatest despondency existed among the people and troops at Charleston.

The fall of Newbern created the greatest consternation. The fire-eaters ridiculed the North Carolina troops, and charged them with cowardice.

The shopkeepers and bakers in Charleston also immediately refused to receive North Carolina money. There being two North Carolina regiments encamped in the city at the time, a revolt was the consequence and the shops were broken open and the troops helped themselves. These regiments had refused to serve any longer and were allowed to return home.

The advices from Florida are very encouraging. Many of the inhabitants were renewing their allegiance. No doubt information of the abandonment of Pensacola has been received, but it was generally believed that our troops had crossed over from Santa Rosa and also occupied the place.

The latest intelligence received from Norfolk, by the underground railroad, leaves no doubt that the Merrimac is thoroughly repaired and in commission, ready for another expedition against the wooden walls of the Federal navy and the river transports lying in the Roads. The delay in her coming out is believed to be caused by her waiting for ammunition for the heavy guns that have been placed on board of her, and also for some infernal machines which are being constructed by bombastes Maury.

The steamers Yorktown and Jamestown are also being strengthened and more thoroughly clad with iron, to accompany the Merrimac. There is also a rumor that two more steamers are being clad with iron at Richmond, to join the expedition. As to the loss of life on the Merrimac, we have now what is claimed to be positive information, that it was pretty heavy; one of the recently arrived contrabands states that he was a nurse in the general hospital and that up to the time of his departure he had helped to shroud thirty-two of the crew of the Merrimac, and that both Captain Buchanan and Lieutenant Minor are dead. There was still a number of the wounded surviving. They (the contrabands) also state that the last two shots of the Monitor were represented to be the only ones that seriously injured the Merrimac; these were thrown under her shield at the moment she attempted to run the Monitor down.

Latest from Richmond.

WASHINGTON, April 2nd.—Intelligence has been received from Richmond, via. Baltimore, that the rebels are removing their tobacco to the interior, toward Danville and Farmville and beyond Petersburg. It is added that private citizens have no control over the cotton and tobacco, the military having assumed the charge of it.

Burnside Reinforced.

NEW YORK, April 2nd.—The steamers Ericesson, Fulton and Star of the South, had landed a strong reinforcement for Gen. Burnside. The 8th Connecticut and 9th Rhode Island Regiments were within four miles of Beaufort. The town of Goldsborough had been strongly fortified. It is represented that Fort Mason will soon be stormed.

Rebel Force on the Rappahannock.

The prisoners taken in the recent reconnoissance to the Rappahannock, state that the rebel force in that vicinity to consist of eight regiments of infantry, two regiments of cavalry and six pieces of artillery. Gen. Ewell, of Drainesville notoriety, was in command.

Capture of Stragglers.

On the return of our forces to Warrenton Junction, several stragglers who, contrary to strict orders, left the main column and wandered beyond the lines, were captured by rebel scouts following in our rear. Being well acquainted with every by-path, and in many instances disguised as farmers, the rebels hover around the outskirts of our army, and frequently succeed in picking up small parties of our men who, contrary to commands, go out on fool-hardy foraging expeditions.

Captured.

Adjutant Lombard and a sergeant major, with five privates of the Eighth Illinois Cavalry, were captured by a portion of the privates of the Prince William cavalry, at a farm house near Rappahannock river, Sunday last. Some of the numerous visitors, looking at the sights around Manassas and Bull Run, will perhaps find themselves captured by the guerrilla bands of Confederates, waiting to seize all stragglers.

Arrested.

R. E. Byrd, of Winchester, Va., (arrested at Winchester by Gen. Shields,) passed through here this morning, on his parole, to report to Gen. Dix, at Baltimore. He has not been actively identified with Secesh, though one of the most influential gentlemen of the Valley, and his arrest was probably through some mistake.

Rebel Impudence.

While the steamer was near Newport News the usual salute to the Vice President was fired from our batteries, and in a few minutes two Rebel tugs, evidently expecting some distinguished arrival, made their appearance and threw several shells in close proximity to the illustrious visitors. The Sawyer gun immediately paid its respects to the saucy Rebel craft, and they retired as usual.
