States. If he was a member of a slave State he would raise the banner of emancipation, and never lower it until it was secured, as a mere matter of interest and pecuniary benefit to his State. But there was a higher reason than that. Slavery is wrong. That is the opinicn of all the civilized world, except the South. He was bound by constitutional objections not to attempt to aid the States to emancipate their slaves till they should ask for it, and then he was willing to do it to the last dollar. He thought it was the duty of the Republican party to go against all unconstitutional and unnecessary measures hence he was assonished at the resolutions of the Senator from Massachusetts (M. Sumner.) He could see no distinction between them and the doctrines of Jeff. Davis, (ser the resolutions of the Senator for Massachusetts (M. Sumner.)
