The party in power having put forth the President's recommendation, as their confession of faith, let us see what it amounts to, and what it is all about. In the first place the States, themselves, are recognized as being the only parties interested. and it is for them to say whether they desire to get rid of slavery. They are the tenants, eight Sergeants, twelve Corporals, one hundred and five privates, one hunsole judges, from whose decision there can be no appeal. Next, if they desire to dred and twenty horses and six ten-pound emancipate their slaves, the States have or Parrott guns.
