DAILY POST

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 8

A Union Man in the Rebel Ranks

Joseph Jennings, a young merchant of this city, once in the employ of the Confederate Government, was arrested and being charged with the crime of being a Union man, he was sentenced to be hanged. He was, however, rescued and returned to his home in this city.

He is now residing at No. 123

Fourth street, and is engaged in business. He is a very intelligent and energetic man, and is well known to all who are acquainted with him. He is a native of this city, and has spent most of his life here. He is a very successful business man, and is well respected by all who know him.

He is a very kind and generous man, and is well liked by all who are acquainted with him.
