DAILY POST.

Latest from Yorktown.

NEAR YORKTOWN, April 16.—Yesterday morning we paid a visit to a house, situate on Wormlett's Creek, 2½ miles below Yorktown, formerly occupied by a farmer named Richard Fainholt, now a private in the rebel army. From this point a very fine view of the river works of the enemy at Yorktown, and also of the East side of the town of Gloucester, immediately opposite Yorktown, on the York river. A half dozen or more negroes were stretched at full length on the lawn in front of the house when we approached it; the whole of them jumped to their feet the moment we came in sight, and secured the horses belonging to the party.

The Farinholt house is of the regular style of Virginia construction, built with gable-end chimneys, and containing a porch in front, reached by a flight of steps. It has been unoccupied for several weeks past, the female portion of the family having removed to a negro hut to the right of the building, for fear of being shelled out by the rebels. The little daughter of Mrs. F. is a violent Secessionist, and on one occasion remarked that she would sooner have her father's house burned down to the ground than that a certain gun-boat should have passed up the river.

Passing up a flight and a half of stairs, and we come to a room, the windows of which point to the North and East. In the west window is suspended, by means of a leather strap, a huge spy-glass, through which the operations of the rebels can be plainly seen. Both the towns of Yorktown and Gloucester are situate on high bluffs, which rise from either side of the town, until they form a tableland of unbroken surface. At Gloucester, the fortifications the rebels are erecting appear to be of a formidable character, and are chiefly built with their fronts commanding the river. Yesterday morning, a number of unknown blacks as well as whites were engaged on the fortifications, and horses and carts, shovels and picks, appeared to be in active demand. Directly opposite the house where we sat, on the east bank of the river, was the hospital, from the roof of which floated a yellow flag. On the table-land above several Secesh flags floated to the breeze.

The Snow Blockade in Vermont.

The following extract, from a letter dated Underhill, Chittenden county, Vermont, April 10, furnishes a brief account of the snow blockade which at present exists in Northern New England: The weather is like January, save in the length of sunshine, and sleighing is better than before this winter. As for ways, our highways are not only high in the most literal sense, but broad, too—broad as the valleys and the fenceless fields. No sign of a fence anywhere, and the snow so iced over as to bear up the heaviest teams.—And as for skating, you can skate everywhere now. The "oldest inhabitant" is astonished. This is the proper season for maple sugar making; but the farmers say that it is impossible: they cannot find their sugar houses, or wood, or anything; and the trees which have been tapped every year for half a century show not a single scar.

Prayer in Congress.

The session of the House was opened Thursday morning, with the following prayer by Rev. Thomas H. Stockton, Chaplain of the House:

"We thank Thee for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia. We thank Thee for the emancipation of slaves in the capital of our country. We thank Thee that our soil is now free from slavery, and that this air is now free air, and so shall remain forever. We accept this great blessing, not as the result of human manifestation—not as a matter of party policy—but as a Divine intervention; as the development of another form of confirmation of Thy great and glorious purpose, to carry on and complete the whole work of human redemption. Therefore we bless and magnify Thy most excellent name, uniting with the churches of all lands, and of all ages in saying:—Glory be unto the Father, and unto the Son, and unto the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end!

A Soldiers' Victory.

A private letter from a friend in the West contains the following interesting paragraph:

The battle of Pea Ridge was the best fighting during the war. It was no generalship but soldiership that won it. At the close of the second day all the leading officers, except Sigel and Dodge, were disheartened, and regarded a surrender as a foregone conclusion. But the men had just got up to the right pitch, and around the camp fires on that weary night, they did not have the faintest idea of being whipped, but universally said "To-morrow we will finish up this business and whip those fellows out." So they did, through clear Northern pluck, and nothing else.

To Cure Diptheria.

A gentleman, who has administered the following remedy for diptheria, informs us that it always proved effectual in affording a speedy relief:

Take a common tobacco pipe, place a live coal in the bowl and drop a little tar upon the coal, and let the patient draw the smoke into the mouth and discharge it through the nostrils. The remedy is simple, and should be tried whenever occasion may require. Many valuable lives may be saved, our informant confidently believes, by proper treatment as above.

TO THE PUBLIC.

ESPECIALLY the ignorant and falsely Modest of all denominations, treat secret and delicate disorders, self-abuse and diseases or situations common and incident to youths of both sexes, and adults, single or married. Because DR. BRANSTRUP publishes the fact of his doing so, the ignorant and falsely modest are dreadfully shocked, and think it a great sin very immoral and for contamination and corruption among their wives, promising sons and daughters. Their family physician should be cautious to keep them in ignorance that they do the same as Dr. BRANSTRUP, (except publishing) lest a lucrative practice might be lost to them among stupid falsely modest and presumptuous families, born and raised in ignorance, sprung up as mushrooms and who compare society, intelligence, sense, &c., to dollars and cents, mysteriously, morally or illy gotten. It is to publicity, however, that numerous parents and guardians are thankful that their sons, daughters and wards, previously feeble, sickly and of delicate condition and appearance, have been restored to health and vigor by DR. BRANSTRUP, besides many before and after marriage through him have been saved unutterable anxiety, mortification, &c. Spermatorrhœa or nocturnal emmissions, are completely cured in a very short space of time by his new remedies, which are peculiarly his own. They are compounds from the Vegetable Kingdom, having seen the fallacy of the Mercurial treatment, he has abandoned it and substituted the vegetable. Female diseases are treated with marked success—having had over forty years (40) experience in their treatment in hospitals of both the Old World and in the United States; leads him to say to all with a fair trial, health and happiness will again bloom upon the now pallied cheek. Trifle no longer with unmechanics and quacks, but come and be cured Consumption and all of its kindred diseases, of which so many annually fill our countries, can now be relieved, providing they attend to it in time Full particulars can be had of any treatment by procuring a copy of the Medical Adviser, which is given gratis to all that apply. Having the advantage of over forty years experience and observation, consequently, he has superior skill in the treatment of special diseases, and who is daily consulted by the profession, as well as recommended by respectable citizens, publishers, proprietors of hotels, &c.
