ARRANGED AT LAST. We have, upon frequent occasions, exposed the trick which the Abolition poli ticians of Pennsylvania, in conjunction people, at the approaching fall election .- any moment. Forney's denunciations of the leading Democrats of our State for the past six months, styling them Breckinridge men, were all preparatory to the arrangement which he and his coadjutors have effected. A call is to be issued for a State Convention, to which all will be invited, and those who do not agree with this new Abolition dodge are to be classed among the sympathizers with rebellion. A number of Democrats were caught last fall in this way, and the experience they have had will not, we experience they have had will not, we think, induce them to try it again.
