

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE

Counting Room Removed.
After today the counting room of the Post will be found on the second floor of the Post building, in the room recently occupied by the Mercantile Agency.

Not a Prisoner.
We yesterday had a brief conversation with Lieutenant White of the First (and only) Nebraska regiment, who came from Pittsburgh Landing on the 22d ult. He brought with him as a trophy one of the men, rough, unwieldy Bowie knives, so commonly found in the hands of the rebels in the South-west, sent to him here by Dr. William McCallum, former surgeon of the city.

Another Soldier Dead.
John Kinney, Sergeant in Co. I of the 56th Ohio regiment, a sick soldier brought from Pittsburgh by our Sanitary expedition, died on Saturday at Passavant's infirmary, being the first fatal case there. Deceased was about thirty years of age, and served the three months' term at Camp Dennison, Ohio, after joining the company commanded by his brother, under a distinction, Colonel Kinney. He was stricken down with typhoid fever during the siege of Fort Donelson, and subsequently entered the hospital at Pittsburgh Landing when his disease assuming a malignant type, he gradually sank until placed on the morgue, when he began to recover. But his constitution was too much impaired for recovery and he died, as stated, at the infirmary. His father, John Kinney, of Monroe county, Ohio, reached here on Friday and with his son during the last moments. The committee of arrangements have kindly promised to forward the remains of deceased to his home in Ohio.

Woman's Literary Society.
This society of the Western University, gives a public exhibition at Masonic Hall this evening. The exercises consist of a recitation by the President, declamations, comic and original, orations, dialogues, etc. Music will be discoursed by Young's band, and from the names of the participants we have no doubt it will be an entertaining exhibition. Tickets can be had at the book and music stores at fifteen cents each.

Cincinnati Papers.
We are indebted to the indefatigable Pitcock for Cincinnati papers, delivered on the day of publication. The great bulk, curious for news, would do well to see Pitcock, and have the latest papers from the East and West delivered promptly and regularly by faithful carriers.

Another Passenger Railway.
The citizens of Temperanceville, West Virginia and Monongahalia boroughs, held a public meeting on Saturday evening last, to take into consideration the propriety of constructing a passenger railway from this city to the borough of Temperanceville. The meeting was largely attended, and considerable interest was manifested in the project, the result appearing to be determined to push the matter vigorously. Sundry committees were appointed, and the meeting adjourned until Saturday of next week. There is no doubt but the improvement would pay well, as the population of the district it passes through is about 7,000.

Was It a Murder?
On the 1st inst. an inquest was held at Putney Court House, Belmont county, Ohio, on the body of a man found in that vicinity on Wednesday last. The verdict of the jury was: "That the deceased came to his death by violence at the hands of some person or persons unknown to the jury; the deceased having three wounds inflicted on his head, one on his right arm, and one on his breast; appeared to be done with some sharp instrument, and the end of the forefinger cut off." The deceased was about thirty years of age, five feet, five inches tall, black hair and eyes, black whiskers, and had on soldier's dress, with canton on his neck.

Howard's Patent Oil Tank.
This is a new invention, designed to preserve from leakage, soot, age and evaporation the most penetrant, "K" of all liquids, petroleum oil. It is constructed of sheet iron and contains a very large quantity of oil, where it has proved a perfect success. A model tank can be seen by those interested at the office of the inventor, No. 27 Wood street and W. P. Shattuck, the agent, who has the right to use it for sale, can be found at the St. Charles Hotel. Believing it to be a most important discovery of his character, we advise all interested to call and examine for themselves.

Castling Afloat.
On Saturday evening a party of young men got into a difficulty at a tavern on Federal street, above the bridge, and a scuffle, when one of them drew a knife and stabbed two of his assailants. One of the young men received six cuts, on various parts of the body, while the other was on the shoulder. They were all flesh wounds, and not of a serious character. No information was made, and the names of the injured are unknown to the police.

Dr. Howard's Narrative.
At the suggestion of the Sanitary Commission, the Board of Trade yesterday appointed a committee to wait on Rev. W. D. Howard and request him to repeat, in one of our halls, the lecture delivered in church on Sunday, descriptive of the expedition to Fort Fisher, and of the part which he took in it, as it is intended to devote the proceeds to procuring comforts for the wounded men in our hospitals.

Northwestern Bank.
The Oil City Register has the following: "It may interest the holders of bills on Northwestern Bank of Warren, Pa., to learn that the institution has authorized W. S. McCallum, of this city, to take up its bills at par, giving an exchange on Pittsburgh, or other Pennsylvania currency. The bank still continues to redeem its bills with specie."

New Commodity.
Consolidated $50 on the Bull's Head Bank of New York are in circulation. They have a man, boy, barrel and two cows on the left upper corner, and a bull's head on the lower right corner and two large 'E's. They are well executed and likely to deceive even good judges of money.

Deaths of Pennsylvania Soldiers.
John G. Conner, Company A, 4th Pennsylvania Cavalry, and N. H. Jones, Company H, 82d Pennsylvania regiment, died in the hospital at Washington, last week.

A Special dispatch from Columbus, Tennessee, states that on the 1st inst. a telegraph party under Capt. Kendrick, of the 70th, was attacked by Morgan's Cavalry, eight thousand strong, near Tullahoma, and the whole party, of whom but forty were armed, captured, but not till they had fought two hours and lost three men. Subsequently, four companies of the 70th and three of Col. Wynkoop's Seventh Cavalry, with a section of artillery, were sent forward to Tullahoma, beyond which point the rebels attacked a train of Gen. Mitchell's wagons, but were driven back by a small force of Gen. Negley's Kentucky Cavalry, on slick river. This movement, with that of a part of Starkweather's Brigade from Mt. Pleasant, compelled Morgan to fly in confusion, leaving his prisoners and a large quantity of arms behind. The dispatch says one of Gen. Negley's Pennsylvania couriers fought like a Spartan until his ammunition was exhausted, when he rode through a shower of bullets and escaped. In the evening he brought in dispatches, passing through Morgan's pickets, who charged and fired at him.
