CITY AND REIGHDORSOOD INTELLIGINGE Difficulties in Shipments for the

the West.

As: soon as the shippers were known, the permit was obtained from Pittsburgh withpermit was obtained from ratisburgh with-out difficulty. An application was then made at the Philadelphia Custom House for a similar permit, but Collector Thomas declared that the issue of such from his office had not been authorized. The only course which was left to the shippers to pursue, was to pursue, was to undergo the difficulty, on each occasion, of passing the goods through the hands of the Surveyor of the port of Pittsburgh. This appears to be the present position of affairs. It is understood, however, that shippers by express experience no such difficulty, the embargo applying only to railroad freight. Why the Collector of this port is not authorized to issue permits and whereast. thorized to issue permits, and why goods sent as freight are subjected to more scrutiny than those sent by express, are questions pertinently asked. It is very evident that the Surveyor of the port of Pitts-bargh can know nothing of the loyalty or disloyalty of the parties to whom goods are consigned, and is equally unable to judge of the character or standing of ship-pers from this city."

Fire--Arrest for Arson.

About twelve o'clock on Saturday night a fire broke out in a favern in the Diamond kept by Charles P. Mugle, which was extinguished after some slight damage to the dining room. On examination some combustible matter was discovered in the vi-cinity of a "musical clock" in the diningroom, which was burned, and Mr. Phillip Vierheller, owner of the House, suspecting Mugle had him arrested on a charge of arson, alleging that his motive was to obtain the insurance of $1,900 on the furni-tage and clock, which were insured in the "Penasylvania." The furniture was not much damaged, but the clock was destroyed. There is an insurance on the liquor and bar fixtures in the "Girard" and the house is insured in the "Home" of Nev York. After a preliminary hearing Mugla was discharged on his own recognizance to appear when the insurance companies have investigated the affair.

A Terrible Weapon. A correspondent, writing from Newbern, says: By order of Governor Curtin, it is expected that the Fifty-First Pennsyl vania Volunteers will be furnished with a battery of two of the newly-invented guns which are easily transported, and are capa-ble of discharging one hundred one-ounce balls per minute. If the weapon is approved by the General of the division, the guns will be forthcoming immediately.— One man can carry the gun proper, and it requires but five men to man it in action.

Once get the range of the enemy, and no force could stand against a regiment capashow, armed with this new weapon, "somebody will be hurt."

Brakeman Killed.

On Thursday night last, Samuel Wilt, of Akzona, a brakeman on one of the freight trains between Harrisburg and Altoona, fell from his train and was run over and killed. It appears that, for the purpose of riding more comfortably, he had placed a board diagonally-across a stock car, between the slate, leaving one end protruding over the bumper he occupied. While passing through the narrows, below Lewistown, it is supposed that whe board was abaken out of its place at the opposite end from the one on which he sat, thereby, we had he one on which he sat, thereby we had not of its place at the opposite end from the one on which he sat, thereby went the bumpers. He fell with his legs acros. The rail and his body on the outside of the Lack. One of his legs was crushed from the Vaight to the knee, where both legs were c.'t off. He lived but a few hours after the secident. His remains were taken to Altoona of Valla Mistake." Mr. J. S. Maffare of Val

The Philadelphia Inquirer has the following to which there is but one reply, viz: that the Collector of the Port here understands his duties and is carrying out the instructions of the Government:

"It appears that difficulty has been experienced in making shipments of goods from Philadelphis to points in Kentucky and Tennessee. A firm in this city recently made a consignment to parties in those States, but the goods were stopped at Pittsburgh and a permit demanded.

FROM CORINTH A correspondent of the New York World, writing from Corinth, says:

The Army Unfit to Resist Attack. At this rate it will be some days before we can be in sight of Corinth. In the meantime our army is in the worst possible condition for fighting in case Beauregard should decide to attack once more. Our twenty miles in extent, our baggage wagons and artillery blocking up the roads, our men scattered between the front and the river, some of them trying to get rations, others in search of clothing, and but very few in line. It is a melancholy sight to see what a poor, thin, straggling line of men is left of what was once a full and noble regiment. Several of them

Luckily the condition of Beauregard's men forbids his making an attack. He will probably let the golden moment slip, and if he does he is inevitably lost. It has been well said that it is not the numbers of men that gives victors, but the bers of men that gives victory, but the number of yood men, and in that case we shall probably have the advantage if he waits till we attack. The whole force may he ordered up when we come to blows with the enemy, but in its present condition is neither fit for fighting nor running.

KLLING. 137 Bowery, New York, Post Office Bez, 4866. Dr. B. Brandreth's Pille. fering for many years from hereditary hemorrhoi-dal affections, of which I had the first attack in 1840. Since that time I was regularly visited with such complaints every spring. I felt in the merning a most severe pain in the back, as if the lower oints of the spine were broken or bruised, and in asthmatic pressure on the chest. Owing to my co-cupation which keeps me all day hunglest of doors, and entirely distrusting any so called frequent reatment" that would have confined me to my house, I thought of following a plea, of my own, which might cure me without the inconvenience to my business attending the treatment of a "regular practitioner." So I put an Allecch's Plaster right over the groin, renowing it every fortnight; every Saturday night I took a dees of Brandreth's Pills, three or four, as I thought necessary to a dose, which operated on me after getting day, Tuesday and Thursday nights I took one Life Addition Pill, which produced one large events. could attend to my business without interens soundly and awaked every day with less pain, and now I know nothing of the complaint at all, so that now I know nothing of the complaint at all, so that I feel obliged to make you this statement for proper use, hoping that this simple proceeding may benefit many as it has done use.

I am dearsir, Yours meet respectfully.
