CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE.

Military Claims.

Asthereare frequent inquiries being made here concerning the adjudication bill of last winter, by officers and others claiming pay under it, we republish the following, from the Harrisburg Patriot and Union:

"It appears that the law is not clear and concise enough, after all, the tinkering expended upon it by some of the ablest men in the Senate, and we understand that it is a decision from the Attorney General in regard to certain points that is delaying the action of the commission rather than the mere preparation of blanks. We heard it alleged that some people so construe the law as to aver that it cuts out men who recruited, subsisted, and forwarded men now in the army, without special authority from the Governor. This would be manifestly unjust. When the war broke out plenty of men advanced their means, and gave their energies to raising companies, and that these men should be re-imbursed is eminently proper. There was one class of men, however, which should not be permitted to draw pay under the provisions of this bill. We have reference to those who, by permission of the Governor, or by virtue of a commission, donned uniforms and strutted the streets of cities without performing any service of any kind for months, until they were ordered to join regiments, and then resigned. These fair weather home guards are not entitled to a dollar of pay in law or equity, and their claims should be closely scrutinized. We foresee in this matter a yearly batch of bills before the Legislature, asking for the adjudication of claims not recognized by the bill of last winter and by the same perseverence manifested by others the Treasury will be most likely to suffer an annual "bleed" to pay men no more entitled to it for military services than the man in the moon."

Accidental Poisoning.

Mr. Woodward, his wife and daughter, residing in Sharpsburg, who were arrested last Saturday on a charge of larceny preferred by Mr. and Mrs. Root, of this city, were accidentally poisoned on Sunday by eating hominy cooked in a copper kettle. They were all quite ill for some time, but are now as well as usual. It was rumored in the borough, and also in the city, that the poisoning had been intentional by Mr. W., who could not bear the stigma of the charge brought against him. This proved a false statement as the circumstance was purely accidental. The two events together have caused much gossip in Sharpsburg and vicinity and we deem it due to the family to state that they allege the case was trumped up to persecute them, and that this will be made apparent when it comes to trial.

I LEARN that a rumor has been curren that the cure of my case made by Lindsay's Blood Searcher has been denied by me since it was given. I now take this occasion to say that I am entirely well, and have been in as good health as ever in my life, and that the cure has been effected entirely by the Blood Searcher, prepared by Dr. Keyser, at 140 Wood street, Pittsburgh. The certificate published by Dr. Keyser, in regard to my case, is entirely correct and true in every particular, and I am desirous the public should know the truth. I therefore give this additional testimony in behalf of that medicine, as I remain well to this day, as any one can know by calling on me at No. 4 Pine street. DANIEL A. BOYD.

PITTSBURGH, May 19, 1862.

Dime Savings Institution.

The office of this new institution, at No. 110 Smithfield street, will be opened for business to-day and the Secretary, D. E. McKinley, Esq., will be on hand to receive deposits of one dime and upwards; also to give all necessary information.—This institution offers, to those who can only save small amounts, an opportunity of accumulating a sum for emergencies, which is constantly drawing interest, and if, permitted to remain, increasing rapidly by compounding. It must be very successful here.

Secession Turtle.

Col. Jos. Fricker, now with the Burnside expedition, has sent to his successor, McCartney, at the Commercial Saloon, Fifth street, a huge secession turtle, which he captured at Beaufort, N. C. Like anything else of rebel proclivities or associations, this monster will find but little sympathy in this loyal neighborhood. We shall take occasion to manifest our patriotism, by demolishing a portion of Fricker's contraband, unless, like his rebel prototypes, he shall this morning be found to have exercised his faculty of "backing out."

Suicide.

On Monday afternoon Coroner McClung held an inquest on the body of Samuel Shaw, a single man about sixty years old, of Versailles township, near Turtle Creek, who was found on Sunday evening, suspended by the neck in the stable of his brother, with whom he resided. He had been in bad health for some time and suffering from mental weakness, hung himself while all the family except a small boy were absent at church. The jury found a verdict of death by suicide.

Fatal Accident.

On Monday, a laborer, about forty years of age, named Adam Lloyd, was instantly killed at Wilmarth's keg factory, Pitt township. He was removing boards from a circular saw, against which he fell, stripping the flesh from his right arm, cutting through the side and penetrating the liver and lungs. The Coroner held an inquest and the jury found a verdict of accidental death. Lloyd resided near East Liberty and leaves a wife and two children.

Dangerous Counterfeit.

Counterfeit $1 bills on the Boyleston Bank, Boston, Mass., are circulating in the East and many persons have been deceived, although the notes are on poor, thin paper. The center-piece is a shield surmounted by an eagle, and having female figures on either side. On the lower right hand corner are two farmers, and on the left hand corner is the word "One."—The printing of "Boston" is very bad.

Cavalry.

Seventy-five members of the Sixth United States Cavalry, in charge of a Lieutenant, shipped on the steamer Mariner yesterday and left for Louisville in the afternoon. They came from Carlisle Barracks and are bound for Pittsburg Landing, Tennessee.

Pittsburgh and Erie R. R.

The Meadville Republican says this road has been sublet from Johnstown to Middlesex, fourteen miles, and that it will probably be completed to that point the present season. About one hundred hands are now engaged on the work. It is intended to connect it with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad at New Brighton, via New Castle.

Death of a Pittsburgher.

It is stated that Robert Criswell, of this city, (son of a former engineer at the jail,) who left here on the steamer Col. Stell for New Orleans before the rebellion broke out, and who was unable after that event to return home, died on the above boat, upon the Texas river, two or three weeks ago. His mother received news of her son's death since the capture of New Orleans.

Committed.

Hugh Quinn was yesterday committed to jail, charged, on oath of Ruth Morris, with selling liquor on Sunday. John McDonald was also committed for threatening the life of his wife Mary.

The Wounded Soldiers from Pittsburg Landing.

Of the many severely sick and wounded soldiers brought here from Pittsburg Landing, on the steamer Marengo and J. W. Hailman, for medical treatment, one month ago, but twenty remain. Eight or nine have died and the rest have so far recovered as to be able to go to their respective homes or rejoin their regiments.—There are still seventeen at the Marine Hospital and three at Passavant's Infirmary. All are constantly and rapidly improving and in a short time all will be in a condition to return to their homes.—These left yesterday for their homes in Illinois and Michigan. Among the patients at the Marine Hospital are two rebel prisoners, one of whom has suffered intensely, but both are now convalescing and will, in a few days, be handed over to Major Montgomery, U. S. Quartermaster, for disposal. They express the liveliest sense of gratitude at their kind treatment here and if released and permitted to go home, we do not think they would again be found in the rebel ranks. All the soldiers have been tenderly nursed, well attended and skilfully treated at the Hospitals and they speak in enthusiastic terms of the kindness of our citizens to them—not only those having charge of the Hospitals, but those who daily visited them and ministered to their comfort. Our people will feel sufficiently repaid for their attentions in the knowledge that they have aided in alleviating the suffering of the brave men who fight our battles.

Falling Back.

The Wheeling Intelligencer learns from a gentleman who arrived on Sunday from Gen. Cox's headquarters, at Raleigh, that Col. Scammon, who had advanced to Princeton, in Mercer county, had fallen back from that village to a stronger position, before vastly superior numbers of rebels. The roads from Gauley to Raleigh, and from Raleigh to Princeton are in a miserable condition. Forage is exceedingly scarce, and it is with the greatest difficulty that food is found for either man or beast.

Union Soldiers Murdered in Virginia.

The Wheeling Intelligencer relates that after the fight at McDowell, Va., when the Union troops had fallen back to Franklin, a member of the Thirty-Second Ohio, from Lima, Allen county, was brutally murdered by guerrillas. He had stepped aside from the road a short distance to wash.—In a few minutes a shot was heard in that direction, and on going to him he was found dead, and stabbed in eight places about the face. The miscreants were supposed to have escaped to a cave called Saltpetre Cave, a short distance up the side of the mountain, where they were known to harbor.

Fanchon.

The new dramatization of this very interesting drama was presented at the Theatre last evening for the first time, Miss Cecile Rush as Fanchon. She was perfectly at home in the part and pleased the entire audience. The scenery and properties were good, the company did well and the piece went off admirably throughout. It will be repeated to-night and we advise all who can to see "Fanchon."

Billy Thomas' Benefit.

Billy Thomas, of Trimble's Varieties, takes a complimentary benefit this evening, when a rare bill of attraction is offered, embracing twenty performers and an infinite variety of songs, dances, &c., with the farce of the "Rough Diamond." Billy gives his very funny stump speech, original with himself. It always takes down the house.

Fatal Accident.

Coroner McClung was called upon last evening to go to Shaler township to hold an inquest on the body of a laboring man, name unknown to our informant. He was found dead in the stable of his employer, behind a horse which had evidently kicked him to death.

Injured.

We hear frequent complaints of the rapidity with which the cars of the Pittsburgh and East Liberty Passenger Railway run down Third Street. Yesterday car No 17 came in collision with the buggy of Mr. E. Edmundson, Upholsterer, on Third near Market, throwing out his son, cutting him severely on the forehead and leaving an ugly gash.

Lieut. Col. Herron Gone.

Lieut. Col. F. J. Herron, of the Ninth Iowa Regiment, who has been spending a few days with his parents in this vicinity, left for Washington on Tuesday morning. He has improved very much since his arrival here, and his wounds will not detain him much longer from active duty.

Home on Furlough.

Lieut. Tyson, of the Forty-fifth Pennsylvania regiment, in service at Port Royal, S. C., has arrived on a short visit to his friends in Allegheny.

General Sigel.

General Franz Sigel, one of the most popular officers in the Western army, passed through this city on Monday night. He was on his way from Washington City to rejoin his command.

Arrest for Larceny.

A man was arrested by the regular police last evening, charged with stealing fifteen dollars from a stranger, at a tavern in the Fifth Ward, by taking it from the counter, where the countryman was carelessly exhibiting it.

Gideon Welles.

Special Correspondence of The Chicago Times.

WASHINGTON, May 15.

The Morality of the Republican Party, as illuminated by the venerable Gideon Welles, formerly of Connecticut, now a curious specimen of human longevity preserved in the Navy Department, is truly lovely to contemplate. This "ancient mariner" is supposed by many to be the original Captain Noah who commanded the ark, but as an admirer of that respectable sailor I deny that Gideon reminds one of him, save slightly in his morals.

Noah, you remember, got on a terrible "rampage," drank considerable, and committed divers and sundry little indiscretions, just after landing from a forty days' cruise; but it is a common failing for "old salts" to do similar things, even down to this day, and I think, therefore, that Captain Noah should be forgiven, and not be abused by odious comparisons between himself and Gideon.

Noah had no brothers-in-law by the name of Morgan. He neither married a Morgan, nor did any Morgan marry a Noah, as far as heard from. But, if such relationship had existed between the Noah and Morgan families, I very much doubt whether Noah's sense of propriety would have permitted him to have paid his brother-in-law $14,000 a month for purchasing the ark, or whether his shrewdness would have allowed him, for a moment, to think that the most economical manner of employing a man is to pay him two per cent. upon all the money he can possibly spend; nor do I believe that the idea of honesty then entertained by Captain Noah would have sanctioned such an arrangement.

But Gideon Welles, of Connecticut-moral, Puritanical, Chadbandish, nigger-beloving Gideon—being of the Yankee persuasion and an exemplary member of the great moral reform and retrenchment Republican party, deems it safe, expedient, and entirely christianlike, to buy a few vessels for the navy through his brother-in-law, George D. Morgan, another pious Republican. And Secretary Welles kindly and economically tells George D. Morgan, that he cannot afford to pay him any regular salary, but that he will give the mere trifle—enough for a Republican patriot—of two per cent. upon all the money that he, George, could spend for ships, steamers, &c., in five months.

Upon this, Geo. D. Morgan, with great and ardent patriotism, pitches right into the marine dicker, and, in five months, buys boats enough to make the snug sum of seventy thousand dollars profit to himself, for which you and I and other poor people "out West" must be taxed.

John P. Hale, Republican, of New Hampshire, Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs in the Senate, investigated the whole matter, and he reports it a swindle on the Government and the people—one that ought to meet with the severest punishment—a grand marine larceny perpetrated upon the be-taxed citizens of the United States through the corruption and the connivance of Gideon Welles, Yankee moralist and general philanthropist, from conscientious Connecticut.

The Van Wyck committee prove it all, and demonstrate the fact that Welles, the Cabinet officer of "honest" "Old Abe," is a regular thief, a robber, a pirate upon the Navy of these United States. A House committee prove it; a Senate committee endorse it; John P. Hale reiterates it in a Senatorial speech: and the House gets 45 votes to censure this high-born knave, and condemn him before the people, upon the same day that they passed a resolution damning, with ineffaceable disgrace, the late Secretary of War.

But Gideon Welles had patronage in his grasp. Republican members could not afford to give a vote against patronage, and so Gideon escaped.

Iowa Politics---More Indications.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times, writing from Des Moines, Iowa, says:

We have to-day had our charter election, and as I have anticipated and confidently predicted, it is a complete and overwhelm-Democratic triumph. We have elected our Mayor by eighty-seven majority, and twelve out of the fourteen members of the City Council. As I stated in my last letter, it was a straight political fight. All the elements of opposition were arrayed against us. Our candidate for Mayor being, in addition to a sound Democratic, an Irishman and a Roman Catholic, every charge of secessionism, treason, know-nothingism, was rung out industriously, but with no effect. For the first time in years the Democracy are able to celebrate a decisive and most glorious victory in Des Moines. The aggregate vote polled was near eleven hundred—the largest ever cast here at a charter election; so that the abolition organ, in its morning issue, in bewailing the fortunes of the day, cannot attribute the defeat of its party to the absence of its voters at the seat of war; their "Wide-Awakes" were all here.

The great beauty of this contest is the fact that the two candidates for Mayor were competitors for the same office two years ago, when the Republicans elected their ticket by a sweeping majority. "The world moves."

Another correspondent of the same paper, writing from Ottumwa, Iowa, announces one more Democratic victory as follows:

The Democracy of this city, following the example of Chicago, yesterday achieved a glorious victory. We elected every one of the city officers, for the first time ie two years; we also elected six out of nine aldermen. Thus the work goes bravely on; city after city, town after town, are rapidly returning to the old Democratic standard.

The Republicans were afraid to bring out a straight Republican ticket; so a Union Convention was called, and they had the magnanimity to place one Democrat upon their ticket, but the Democracy, ever faithful to the Constitution and the Union, routed them, horse, foot and dragoons.

Look out for Iowa this fall. We shall send some Democrats to Congress.

Dissatisfaction of the Soldiers in the Department of the South.

A Washington correspondent says that intelligence received from the Department of the South states that our army there is impatient at the kind of duty assigned to them. They object seriously to being maintained as a sort of special armed police, merely to facilitate experiments in the social development of the negro race, and are anxious to be engaged in more soldierly duties pertaining to the prosecution of a war for the suppression of rebellion and the restoration of Federal authority throughout the rebel States.

In this connection I may record the fact that, according to the testimony of military gentlemen who came passengers from Port Royal in the Atlantic to-day, the proclamation had already been attended by mischievous effects upon the troops. Some of the officers are said to have told General Hunter to his face that they thought white men were abundantly competent to suppress this rebellion, and that, whether such was the case or not, they were determined never to fight shoulder to shoulder with slaves (or contrabands.)

Texas Sick of the War.

Accounts from Texas represent that the Union feeling is becoming so strong among the inhabitants, that the secession force in the state will soon be compelled to evacuate or surrender at discretion. The people have become sick of the war, and the medicine that is daily administered to them will be likely to make them worse.

CONSISTING OF THE RICHEST and most characteristic writings of this great American Humorist. For several years there has appeared no first-rate humorous hook from the American press, and a good one at this time, when the community is craving for something wherewith to dispel the depression into which it has been plunged, will be welcomed by every one.

Many of the irresistibly funny letters of the immortal "Artemus Ward," have become familiar by being copied and recopied in the newspapers of the day: others, however, have escaped the eye of the reader, and an attempt has been made in this volume to collect the best, and to issue them in one handsome volume, splendidly illustrated. No one will be dissatisfied after investing a dollar upon a book that will illumine with peals of laughter every household into which it finds its way. For sale by

☞ The River—Last evening at twilight there were 6 feet 6 inches water in the channel and rising. Weather cloudy, with occasional showers.

☞ Capt. W. Dean's new steamer Navigator leaves this day for Cincinnati and Saint Louis. The hull was built by Messrs. Cock and Williams, Brownsville, and is complete in every respect; the cabin is one of Gullet's best jobs, and that is saying a good deal; the hull is 154 feet, beam 35 feet, hold 5 feet; painting by Wm. Nelson; her capacity is about 500 tons, and in her construction no expense has been spared. Capt. Dean, one of our most experienced boat builders has, to use a common phrase, "spread himself."—Competent judges pronounce her one of the best adapted boats of the season. Captain Dean has hosts of friends, because he is upright and honorable in all his dealings. Mr. J. L. Lytle goes out as first clerk, and we congratulate the owners in securing so worthy and competent officer. We wish the owners and officers the largest success, and are confident they will deserve it.

☞ The fine steamer J. T. M'Combs, Captain Donnelly, leaves this day for Cincinnati, Louisville and Evansville. This boat has been fitted up in a superior manner, and offers the best of accommodations to passengers and shippers.—Our attentive friend Captain Lightner will do the honors in the office, with credit to himself and with profit for the owners.

☞ The splendid passenger steamer Dacotah, Capt. D. L. Hendrickson, is announced for Cincinnati, Cairo, Saint Louis and Saint Paul. This boat has the best of accommodations, attentive and experienced officers. Mr. Otis B. Childs will do the attentive in the office, whilst Captains Hendrickson and Evans will see that passengers have the best of attention.

☞ Capt. Maratta's steamer Emma was sold to Capt. Mann, of Cincinnati, for $8,000.

☞ The favorite steamer Science, Capt. Reno, is the packet for Marietta, Gallipolis and Portsmouth this day at 4 p. m. She is a favorite and
