"Soldiers:—We have been separated for a few weeks, and while I have grieved at the separation, I am elated to know that you have fully proved yourselves to be brave and true soldiers. During this separation you have sought honor and glory on the battle-field, and have won it. I have been in this city seeking justice, and I have obtained it. I am again your birth, and if so, does she belong to the city or is she merely a sojourner among us? If this story is correct we cannot help thinking that the Committee have acted somewhat hastily—perhaps wrong-fully accusing a defenceless female, as was done here not very long since in the case of a poor young actress, of whom naughty stories were circulated. It is true that the female referred to may have been overgand in her attentions to the rebel prislin, Bennet, Brownsville in, Clark, Brownsville. 4th appearance of the young and beautiful tragic PITTSBURGH. Bettleffen of the Revenue Laws.
Under an Act of Assembly of 1862.
Governor Curtin, of this State, was authorised to appoint a committee to revise and codify the revenue laws. It was understead, at the time of the passage of the act, that cortain members of the Legislature would receive the appointment. It has since been ascertained, however, that no Session of Representative can be selected to fill any civil office during histerm in the Legislature. The Governor has therefore appointed the following named commissionars: Wm. M'Clelland, Franklia county; Charles Gilpin, Philadelphia; Rebert E. M'Comb, Lawrence county.
