HIRAM CARMAN, Engineer. Death of John Drew. The decease of John Drew, the celebra ALBANY, October, 1861. ted comedian, occurred in Philadelphia, on Wednesday afternoon, and was caused MR. T. COOLEY-Sir: It is with pleas on Wednesday afternoon, and was caused by congestion of the brain. He had been complaining since Saturday last, and on Tuesday, while holding a child in his arms, belonging to a relative, fell insensible to the floor, at his residence in Eighth street, between Market and Arch. He remained anconscious to the last. between Market and Arch. He remained anconscious to the last.

He was a native of Dublin, in Ireland, and came to this country early in life. He married, about fourteen years ago, Mrs. H. Hunt—the present Mrs. Drew, who was already an actress of high standing in her profession. He was thirty-five years of age, and leaves three children—one boy and two girls. His performances in this sountry have been chiefly confined to Philisdelphia, though, from his high artistic merit, he was well known throughout the Union. He lately returned from an extended tour of three years in California. Australia and the British isles, where his Union. Did not Arrive. Manager Henderson knows how to draw The bodies of Capt. Brunn, Lieut. Miller and Corporal Young, of the Friend Riffes, killed at Williamsburg, did not arrive at noon yesterday as announced. It was expected that they would come in by the midnight train and he excerted to the respective houses of the deceased, at once. The funeral will probably take place on Monday. When the Parko Zouaves will act as a mili ary escort.

Manager Henderson knows how to draw a crowd on Saturday night, if we may judge from the bill presented for to-night, which is closes the engagement of Cecile Rush. It includes the stirring old play of "Timour the Tartar," strongly cast, the "Two Galley Slaves" and the spectacle of "Valentine and Orson," with two popular recitations by Cecile Rush. If this bill does not fill the house we do not know how it can be done. James Sterling, of Butler county, was yesterday arrested and taken before Mayor Dram, charged with fraud, on oath of John Buhoup, of Duquesne borough, who alleges that he put in a pump for Sterling, for which he was to receive $12. When he work was done Buhoup received $5 on the work was done Buhoup received $5 on a count, but the bill proved to be on a broact of the commander of that hence the suit for fraud.
