The Relief Tax.

At a meeting of the sub-committees for the distribution of the relief tax among the families of our volunteers, held on Monday, James Salisbury, Esq., of Birmingham presiding, a statement was submitted by Commissioner Hamilton, showing the amount paid out in two weeks ending April 19th, and a like time ending May 31st. During the latter period the suggestions of reduction made at the first convention were adopted and the amount paid out was $3,712 75—$618 less than during the first two weeks. This would require for one year, $96,567 50 (exclusive of $55,000 borrowed) double the amount realized by the two mill tax. To meet this deficiency in part it was suggested that the allowance during the summer months be reduced one half. A. B. Stevenson, Esq., of Birmingham, offered a series of resolutions, recommending that the levy of two mills be made this year, which were unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

British Opinion of Napoleon's [From the London Times, May 15.] Thus, by this sudden and unlooked for ransformation, France finds herself alone on the continent of America, committed to a war with a vast empire, whose very name excites the imagination and quickens the pulse. France has an undoubted casus belli against Mexico, which she may, without any violation of the law of nations prosecute to the utmost extremity. The difficulty which the dislike of the United States to the intervention of other Euro pean Powers would once have presented is for the present removed. Absorbed in their own intestine brawls, the Anglo-most formidable neighbor who could possi-bly place himself there. Spain may probably view with much discontent the threat ened occupation by France of a former dependency, to the loss of which she never wholly resigned herself, and which but a little while ago she entertained apparently no unreasonable hope of regaining. But Spain, although risen for above he decrepitude of the earlier part of the century, is probably neither able nor will-ing to do more than withdraw from partnership in the French expedition. Three of the great Powers of Europe, as Mr. Disraeli says, immersed in domestic diffi-culties, and unable to assert themselves in controlling the affairs of foreign countries.

We can, however, with the utmost sincerity, assure the French nation that we view its occupation of Mexico, on whatever terms it may take place, without the slightest jealousy or ill-will, and that we shall rejoice in its success. To Mexico itself a French occupation would be an almost unmixed benefit.

Prayer from Cuba for Protec tion from America. From the Paris Patrie, May 17. The principal inhabitants of Havana have addressed a petition to the Queen of Spain, in which they pray that the Spanish troops may continue to act in accord with the French in the question of Mexi They point out in the document that t is for the interest of the colony that a trong and stable government should be established in Mexico, in order to prevent that country from falling into the hands of the Americans, who would make it the basis of their operations for hereafter gaining possession of the Antilles, and particularly of Hazana. Marshal Se-

The capture of New Orleans, followed that of Baton Rouge-the political imortance of which is familiar to even those east acquainted with the geography of America-has taken place in happy time. rance was beginning to oscillate under the pressure of England, who, it is said s promised to wink at her occupation of Mexico in the event of a combin policy in a recognition of the rebel States. But victory is adding triumphant laurels to the Federal arms. If England, who, from first to last, has played so foul a part in this mad secession revolt, chooses to acknowledge the helpless Southern States, he will have to do it by herself, for France she will have to do it by nersen, for r rance—her powerful ally—will now have none of it. We expect every mail to bring us tidings of the capture of Savannah, which would then only leave Charleston. Mobile of and Wilmington as places of any importance in the rebel hands. God grant that a glorious victory may soon terminate this horrible civil war, and that the United States, great, glorious and free, with an army flushed with the consciousness of high deeds and indomitable daring, may again make her voice felt in the conneils again make her voice felt in the councils of the world. England has registered a of the world. England has registered a vow that united you shall never again be. Be it yours to make her rue her foul and unnatural oath. She knows full well that she has far more to fear from you than from France, and while ostensibly against this last she pretends to arm, you are the sceptre whose gannt form disturbs her peaceful slumber. She knows that in the army of the United States—nay, in that of the very rebels—a deep and lasting sentiment of hatred and vengeance is engendered and increasing, which will exercises such a pressure on the government that, come what will, it will be compelled to acknowledge and accede to it, and you acknowledge and accede to it, and you acknowledge and accede to it, and you may be very sure, therefore, that so long as an inch of ground remains in the hands f secession England will find means to heat again. Defrauding a Union Soldier. James D. Phillips, a lad nineteen years d age, who had been serving as a soldier, and who arrived here with the returned soldiers by the steamer Atlantic, was solicited by a backman in New York to take conveyance in his carriage, on the morning of his arrival. He accepted the offer and ordered George Hoyt, the hackman, to drive him to the Hudson River Railroad lepot. Before this was done, the sum of S15 was charged, and paid. Officer Dunn, of the City Hall Precinct, heard of the swinlle, arrested Hoyt, and yesterday took him before the Mayor, who made him disgorge he S14, and S4 for the expenses of Phil-ing for his latest lips for his detention in the city. The Mayor, in order to make clean business of the matter, revoked Hoyt's license as a driver.
