

DAILY POST

Published every morning except on Sundays and public holidays. Price, 10 cents per copy. In Advance, $2.50 per month. Yearly, $25.00. Single Copies, 10 Cents.

Published for the Proprietor by J. W. HARRIS, at the Post Office Building, No. 100 North Second Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Copyright, 1900, by J. W. Harris. All rights reserved.

Printed at the Post Office Building, No. 100 North Second Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Published by J. W. Harris, Proprietor.

Disabled Soldiers from General

On Thursday night fifty soldiers from General Banks' division, discharged from the service for disability, after being some time in the Virginia hospitals, reached this city from the East and remained here until afternoon, when they were left for their homes. They belonged primarily to the 11th and 12th Michigan regiments, but several were from Indiana and Michigan. They were supplied with breakfast and City Hall, for which they were extremely thankful, expressing their gratification in the warmest terms. Some of them seemed much debilitated, but the rest, though travel-worn and sun-burned, were apparently in a convalescent state. Twenty more, from the same division, were expected here last night.

Col. Rippey's Body.

The remains of Col. O. H. Rippey arrived by the afternoon train yesterday from Baltimore, and were conveyed to the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. A. B. Cutting, Cathlamet street, followed by a large concourse of citizens. With them came Lieut. Wm. Rippey, previously reported killed, who is slightly wounded, and received a shot behind the ear, which cut the scalp, but did not fracture the skull. He is at his father's residence.

Col. Rippey's Servant.

Col. Rippey's servant, a young man named Shoemaker, who came with the body, says he fell early in the fight, at the first fire of the enemy. The regiment had fired six volleys at them. A Minnie ball struck him near the right shoulder and passed through his chest. Finding himself wounded, he tried to get up, but failed, and then asked for help. Surgeon Dr. Tisdale, soon after, under a heavy fire from all sides, the regiment was forced to give up the column. Rippey's body was left on the ground. It was not recovered until Monday, two days after. It is supposed that he died in the arms of a young man named Anderson, the resident of Lawrenceville, as both bodies were found together. Anderson's lying at the head of the column, and Rippey's at the foot, the Colonel's money, watch, rings, coat, hat, etc., were taken, but even his boots had been carried off.

Shoemaker reports that of 800 men who went in the fight, but 400 remain.

Adj. Gen. W. G. Miller, reported that the regiment is now in command of the regiment. Captain Bryson, also reported killed, is alive and well. Lieut. Matthew Steel, of the same company, supposed to be killed, has a broken arm, but is otherwise unharmed.

Funeral.

The funeral, as will be seen by the announcement under its proper head, will take place at two o'clock this afternoon. It will be attended by military guard of honor, the members of the Odd Fellows, and a great many citizens. The arrangements for the interment will be perfected.

Resolutions on the Death of Col. Rippey.

At a meeting of the members of the bar held yesterday afternoon at the Court House, the following resolutions of respect were unanimously adopted, and were reported by a committee appointed for that purpose:

Resolved, That in the death of Col. O. H. Rippey, in common with our fellow citizens, we mourn the loss of a valued citizen, a patriotic soldier and a brave and gallant officer; whose life was characterized by every person capable of cherishing the high qualities which were his characteristics whether in private, public or professional life.

Resolved, That as members of the bar we deeply deplore his decease, regarding him as a gentleman, a patriot and a man of integrity, courteous in his manners, and among the most talented, learned, eloquent and sagacious of our members of our profession; and given prompt and continued aid to us, rising to the most noble rank at the bar.

Resolved, That in his noble career, in abandoning his prospects of riches in a brilliant profession, upon the first call of his country, and the zeal with which he embarked in his honorable occupation, military duties, and his noble and gallant conduct, but likewise eminently worthy of imitation by every sincere lover of the Constitution and laws.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Resolved, That we tender to the friends and relations of the illustrious patriot our respectful sympathies for their irreparable loss and that, while mingling our sorrows with theirs, we shall cherish the memory of one who, whether as a friend, a citizen or a soldier, was so eminently worthy of affection for his private virtues, and of gratitude for his public services.

Medical Chronicle.

On Thursday at the Cemetery, to which we referred last week, under the direction of Prof. J. T. Wanelink, will take place grand eulogies on the life of the deceased, and the performers are all amateurs of fine powers. The Prohinn Society have kindly offered their assistance on this occasion, and will give some of their finest eulogies. We anticipate a full attendance.

Benefit of J. H. Allen.

Mr. Allen, who has appeared every night this week at the Casino, and who, on Tuesday evening, will take place in the grand eulogies on the life of the deceased, and the performers are all amateurs of fine powers. The Prohinn Society have kindly offered their assistance on this occasion, and will give some of their finest eulogies. We anticipate a full attendance.

Drowned Himself.

Joseph Crow, an old man nearly seventy years old, drowned himself in the Monaca river, on Saturday last, near lock No. 4, at the mouth of Maple Creek, in Allegheny township, Washington county. He went to the river, took off his clothes, and having considerable property and a large amount of money at interest.

Another Pittsburgher Wounded.

We are informed that Adjutant George P. Cortis, of Col. Hays' 6th regiment, received two wounds in the battle of the Clouds, one in the back and one in the hand, neither of which are serious, and the regiment lost about 100 in killed and wounded.

Contrabands.

The roads leading from Virginia to Pennsylvania are, according to the Chambersburg and Hagerstown papers, swarming with slaves of all ages and colors, and of both sexes, making their way Northward. Many have passed through Chambersburg and the negro houses in the place are still crowded with them.

Why Is It, and How Is It?

That McClelland can sell boots and shoes of every kind and style, warmer and cheaper than any, at so much below others, but such is the fact, will be shown by calling on 55 Fifth street.

Sale of Orphan Iron Works.

The sale of the Orphan Iron Works and saw three children left upon the road side, who were sold in the morning County Bank, for something over thirty thousand dollars.

For Europe.

Among the passengers from New York in the Scotia was William Smith, Esq., of the firm of Smith, Park & Co., of the International Exhibition at London and the Exposition and Prussia.

At Home.

Mrs. Etie Henderson, who has become a great favorite not only here, but wherever she goes, has just returned from New York and will appear on Monday evening.

Photograph Albums at Low Price.

LESLIE AND HARPER for this week, at Pitcock's News Depot, opposite the Post Office.

All the Pittsburgh Daily at Pitcock's News Depot.

New Books to be had at Pitcock's News Depot, opposite the Post Office.

Steel Engravings only 25 cents.

Steel Engravings only 25 cents, at Pitcock's, opposite the Post Office.

Any person wishing to purchase some extra large Mules or driving Horses, should call on Clark's.

Any person wishing to purchase some extra large Mules or driving Horses, should call on Clark's, at 100 North Second Street.

JOSEPH MEYER & SON,

MANUFACTURERS OF FANCY AND PLAIN FURNITURE AND CHAIRS. WAREHOUSE, IS SMITHFIELD STREET. (Between Sixth Street and Virgin Alley.)

PATENT WRITING CASE.

THE CASE IS NOW ARRANGED AND GIVE THE WRITER A TABLE OF NINE INCHES TO WRITE UPON, WITH PEN AND PENCIL, Paper and Checkers.

W. S. HAVEN,

611 WOOD & THIRD STS. CHARLES H. MUEP, DRUGGIST. CORNER PENN AND SAINT CLAIR STREETS.

FRUIT SYRUPS.

The finest quality of the trade in any quantity to suit purchasers.

RECEIVED.

A large stock of BLACK SHAWLS, With Fine Brooch and Gold Mixed Border, Very cheap. BEAUTIFUL LAWN, or 12-12 Colors. Fine Jaconet and Organdies, LIGHT COLORED. BALMORAL SKIRTS. Just opened a very nice assortment of SUMMER DRESS GOODS.

W. & D. HUGUS,

Corner of Fifth and Market streets.

JNO. MOORHEAD,

COMMISSION MERCHANT, PIG METAL AND BLOOMS. NO. 1 WATER STREET, BELOW MARKET STREET.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS—SO-DAYS ADVERTISEMENTS.

LETTER AT THE INDEX CITY COLLEGE, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, Monday morning at 8 A. M. COMPARATIVE VALUES.

C. HANSON LOVE & CO.,

BEST BARGAINS EVER OFFERED, in their SUMMER DRESS GOODS, bought at Auction and selling at unheard of prices.

Bee Hive Store,

BLACK LACE SHAWLS, Very Cheap. BLACK SILK VERY LOW. BLACK SILK SHAWLS & SACKS. HONEY CUMQUILTS. Selling Cheap.

74 Market Street.

BUY YOUR BOOTS AND SHOES AT BORLAND'S. GAITERS AT $1.25. CHILDREN'S SOILED SHOES AT AT HALF PRICE AT BORLAND'S. MEN'S & BOYS' CONGRESS GAITERS, THE CHEAPEST IN THE CITY AT BORLAND'S. LADIES AND MINNESOTA GAITERS AND City at the Cheap Cash Store, 74 Market Street, second door from Fifth.

BECKHAM & LONG, SO. 127 LIBERTY STREET.

AGENTS for the Buckeye Mower and Reaper, and all kinds of Farm and Garden Implements, wholesale and retail.

DRY GOODS AT AUCTION THIS DAY AT McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

COOKS CELEBRATED MEAT MARKET, 127 Liberty Street, next door to Hart's Hotel.

LADIES LANTING GAITERS, VERY CHEAP AT McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

FAMILY GAITERS, FOR EX. PRESENTING THE LATEST PATENT, a splendid article for family use, for sale by McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

CHILDREN'S SHOES, IN EVERY COLOR, AT McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

FINISHING TACKLES, A COMPLETE ASSORTMENT, FOR SALE BY McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

BOOTS AND SHOES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, AT McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

RAPE BALSAM AND WILLOW BARK, FOR SALE BY McClelland's, 55 Fifth St.

ODD TORKS, OF ALL KINDS, FOR SALE BY McC