I render to you my grateful acknowl-edgements for the gallantry and good con-duct you displayed in the battles of the the 31st of May, and 1st inst., and with pride and pleasure recognize the steadi-ness and intrepidity with which you attack-ed the enemy in position, captured his advanced entrenchments, several batteries advanced entrenchments, several batteries of artillery and many standards, and every-where drove them from the open field. At a part of your operations it was my fortune to be present. On no other occa-sion have I witnessed more of calmness and good order than you exhibited while advancing into the very jaws of death, and nothing could exceed the prowess with which you closed upon the enemy when a sheet of fire was blazing in your faces! have not taken the oath. The sixth section authorizing the Legis. I lature to repeal or modify, when expedi-rent, the ordinance for continuing the pres-ent (tovernor and other State officers in office was taken up, which elicited a spiri-ted discussion. A substitute was offered to continue the whole provisional Gov-ernment and postpone all elections till the next regular gubernatorial election. and an nected with what is called the Medical De-partment of the army. Such facts occur-red after the battle of Winchester. There were at least 15,000 men in the hospital now who ought to be discharged, there were men sent to the hospitals so carclessly that not even their names were sent with them, and such men have died and been buried as unknown, leaving years of suspense to their families. The bill was then passed. aext regular gubernatorial election, and an imendment being proposed authorizing he Governor to order an election if he then passed. Mr. Howe, of Wis., called up a bill from hought the welfare of the State required t before 1364, but without coming to a the House for the relief of General U. S.
