seem to be well cared for. They are found in hospitals in Fortress Monroe, Balti-more, Washington City, Philadelphia, New York, &c., and are made as comfortable as the most skilful surgical talent, and the tenderest and most watchtul nurs-ing can make them. Kind hands of the gentler sex soothe the noble fellows' brows and minister to every want. These re-marks are in no way applicable to the HOSPITALS AT YORKTOWN, which in their sanitary and dietetic ar rangements are, to say the very best for them that truth will permit, most misera-ble. We are glad to know that the Government is about to take steps for the removal of the sick and wounded to mor comfortable quarters.

is necessary to make this plan practicable and successful-is for the people to con-tribute (and their contributions should be generous) of their means to further the object. The co-operation of the War Department should be obtained, and this, we doubt not, can be easily effected, and then it only remains for the right kind and the right number of devoted nurses, to take their lives in their hands, encounter all risks, and, trusting to Almighty God. to go forth upon this errand of mercy, prompted by an ardent desire to do good, to relieve suffering and to exercise gentleness patience and unwearying vigilance and a pare christianity in behalf of and toward our brave troops. It is essential that those who go should be selected only with reference to their fitness for this life of self-denial and this mission of benevolence. No one should proffer his services who is not actuated by the holiest impulses, who has not a due appreciation of his duties, and who is not willing to devote all his energies to the work. We would warn any one against scing from any motive of curiosity or sel-hancess; we would advise all to go pre-pared for scenes of indescribable suffering, for basels work and for every emergency. THE RESULTS will be most gratifying. The sick soldier n. der this care will have new hopes inspir. d, deeper feelings of patriotism will be stir. ed within him and many a hundred be stir. who oth wise will "pine away and die" will be ret fored to the fond embraces of leved ones at home.
