conviction that either abolitionism or constitutional liberty must die forever. has for the time being dissolved the Union, and while it lives it will remain dissolved. No free people either will or ought to submit to its sway. It has been the author of all our political woes. Congress passed a resolution that the only object of the war was to suppress rabel. two cannot exist together. Abolitionism bject of the war was to suppress rebel object of the war was to suppress reper-lion and nothing else, and the loyal peo-ple of the border states took heart and courage. How has Congress kept this pledge? They abolished slavery in the District of Columbia, established a paradise for free negroes from Delaware and Maryland, where they were supported by taxing white people. They are paying negro teamsters $30 per month, while our white soldiers are working at thirteen (13) dollars per month. They have legalized negro teamsters and established deplo-matic relations with Hayti and Liberia, the council chamber of the nation has een turned into a house of waiting for the wrongs of the negro. The bill which has passed the House of Representatives and Senate, entitled an act to repeal that part of an act of Congress, which prohibits the circulation of Bank Notes of a less denomination than $5 in the District of Columbia has received my attentive consideration and I now return it to Senate in which it originated. The bill purposes to repeal the existing legislation property the circulation of bank notes of a less denomination than five dollars within the District of Columbia, without prohibiting the issue of such bills or bank notes by those now legally authorized to issue them. In my judgment it will be found impracticable in the present condition of the currency to make such a discrimination. The banks have generally suspended specie payment, and a legal sauction given to the circulation of the irredeemable notes of one class of them will almost certainly be so extended in practical operation as to include those of all classes, whether authorized or unauthorized. If this view be correct, the currency of the District, should this act become a law, will certainly and greatly

The object of this bill submitted to me namely: That of providing a small note currency during the present suspen-sion can be fully accomplished, by nuthorizing the issue as part of the new emission of United States notes, necessary by the circumstances of the country, of notes of a similar character but of a less denomi

WASHINGTON, June 23d, 1862. Mr. Howard, of Mich., was earnestly in favor of the passage of the bill from the House, and as earnestly opposed to the passage of the bill as reported by the Special Committee: as he thought the latter in many of its provisions was entirely without the support of the Constitution.—In the first place it mitigates the punishment of treason. Treason has always been regarded as the most henious of crimes, and he did not think it proper to reduce such an offence down to an equality with petty larceny. Again, the bill from the Special Committee seizes the property of every reled in the army without distinction. It also provides for the criminal properties in a count ret association to the construct that the special control of the criminal country is a country to the criminal properties in a country to the criminal country is a country to the criminal country to the criminal country to the criminal country is country to the criminal country t prosecution in a court not according to the proceedings prescribed by the constitution, dispensing with the jury and with the right of persons to be present at the trial and taking away his property, contrary to the due process of law presented by the constitution.
