CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE.

The Explosion of the Advance-Important Decision of the Supervising Inspector.

In the decision reported below, in the case of the engineer of the steamer Advance, the public will understand the value of efficient officers, who combine skill and promptness of action. The public have a right to demand from all those in authority, whether in the field or in other departments where life is entrusted, the most rigid accountability. A drum-head court martial soon determines and the other was acknowledged by many punishment in one case; the law provides old mountain fishermen to be the largest drum-head court martial soon determines an equally prompt if not so severe a punishment in the other. An engineer of a steamboat is charged with great responsibility-whose recklessness or incapacity may and frequently has involved great loss of life.
