THE ANDREWS PATENT PIPE. (PATENTED JANUARY 21, 1862.)

REQUIRES ONLY A TRIAL TO tongue does not become furred or coated from inhaling its poisonous properties. The bowl is made of the finest Devonshire clar, and gives to the tobacco cannot become moist, and in continuity pleasant fragrance. The tobacco cannot become moist, as in ordinary Pipes, because the drip beneath receives the saliva that inemship eacapes into the stem; hence the pipe never becomes offensively rank, and the breath of the smoker does not prochaim to every one he meets that he has been "indulring in a pipe."

When the bowl becomes clorged, or the drip beneath requires cleansing, the pipe may be taken apart by removing the rim. The clay bowl may at any time be re tored to its original whiteness by barning in the fire, (first drying it thoroughly) or a new bowl may be procured of the dead with the possibility of a Radical Cure. No case of the kind, however, is by this limitent, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the this pipe:

Fourth of July.

From the Petersburg Express, June 24.
From the circumstances by which we are surrounded it will be impossible to observe the approaching anniversary of this welcome day with the usual demonstrations. But there cannot be a dissenting opinion, we think, in regard to its continued and perpetual claims upon the reverence of the people of the Confederate States. The great doctrine embodied in the Declaration of Independence is that there can be no just government without the consent of the governed. This was the principle for which our fathers fought and bled, and it is this for which we are mainly due to the men of the South, and we can no more ignore the day than we can ignore Washington and his comparities. What day may be hereafter designated to commemorate the second war of independence was mainly due to the men of the South, and are ignore Washington and his comparities. What day may be hereafter designated to commemorate the second war of independence the second war of independence the second war of independence was mainly due to the men of the South, and the second war of independence was mainly due to the men of the South, and the commemorate the second war of independence was mainly due to the men of the South, and the second war of independence was mainly due to the men of the South, and the second war of independence was mainly due to the men of the South, and the second war of the State school fund, as well as of the State school fund, as wel triots. What day may be hereafter desigtriots. What day may be hereafter designated to commemorate the second war of Independence we cannot say; but the Fourth of July can never be left out of our calendar. That the Yaukees will make it a season of excessive jubilation is altogether probable. After profaning overy principle of the Gospel of Christ, while their lips have been filled with puritanical professions, they will make broad their phylac. [81,000] was carried without a dissenting voice. A Presbyterish unities and laymen of all denominations advocated the measure. The parties to this amicable arrangement, which will doubtless be productive of much good feeling, are Mr. Barrett, Dr. Wm. Pierson and D. N. Ropes, trustees, and Father McKay and S. J. Ahren, committee on the part of the Catholics.

The Greatest Living Scoundrel. We had thought that the depths of villary had been pretty well sounded by the innumerable wicked ones who have been exploring them ever since the first murder upon earth. But it seems that a profounder abyss had to be yet reached than any known before, and that it was reserved for Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts, (a descendant, we presume of that free-botting concern called the "Pilgrims of the Mayflower,") to reach it. He is, beyond all question, at this time, the most We had thought that the depths of vilyond all question, at this time, the mos infamous of living men, and the grave never closed over his superior in all the attributes of a scoundrel. Not only does the South ring with the atrocities of this monster, but the whole civilized world is rapidly discovering and proclaiming his title to detestation and abhorrence. The name of Butler will henceforth be associaname of fatter will nencetorth be associa-ted indeliably with the lowest, meanest, most deprayed and heartless criminalities that ever disgraced the human character. He has, in the brief career of his military adventures in this war, brought universa execration upon himself and the whole race to which he belongs. He is spoken of even, already by foreign journals in terms of the extremest bitterness and obloquy, as some evidence of which we refer to an article from a Montreal paper, which will be found in another column,

Announced the detection of a negro insurrection in Mississippi. The Greensboro'.

(Miss.) Motice gives the following particulars of the affair:

"We learn from a reliable source that the negroes were arming themselves very rapidly with such weapons as they could get at Double Springs, Oktibbeha county, 22 miles from this place, to kill all of the men and boys. By some means they were detected in their plot by the citizens of Double Springs, and were arrested. Upon being questioned as to what their intention was, they replied that they were to murder all the white males on the 18th of June, and they were to be led by two white men, and they had already picked out their choice of white women for their wives.—Our informant says that the citizens had arrested some eight or ten negroes and two white men. He further states that they are to be tried to-day, and three of the negroes will certainty hang, and the others will be severely lynched. We do not know what they will do with the white men, but we are confident, if they can prove what the negroes say, they will pull hemp."
