INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSES is unrivalled by any, in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprains, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is, magical and certain. Harness or Saddle Galls, Scratches, Mange, &c., it will also speedily cure Spayin and Ringbone may easily be prevented and cared in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a EADICAL CURE. No case of the kind, however, is so desperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will alawys remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative case.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidadiseness mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

WANTED-A WAR CABINET. Prove its incomparable superiority to any pipe now in use. It may be smoked without any deleterious or unpleasant effects, as the oil of to bacco is not drawn into the mouth, and the tongue does not become furred or coated from inhaing its poisonous properties. The bowl is made of the finest Devonshire clay, and gives to the tobacco a peculiarly pleasant fragrance. The tobacco a neculiarly pleasant fragrance. The tobacco connot become moist, as in ordinary Pipos, because the drip beneath receives the saliva that insensibly scappes into the stem: hence the pipe never becomes offensively rank, and the breath of the smoker does not proclaim to every one homest that he has been indulging in a pipe.

When the bowl becomes clogged, or the drip beneath requires cleansing, the pipe may be taken apart by removing the rim. The clay bowl may at any time be retored to its original whiteness by burning in the fire, (first drying it thoroughly) or a new bowl may be procured of the dealur.

Mesers. Bates and Blair-both highly respectable gentlemen and useful officers range of Republican sements.

It is clearly evident that a cabinet selected on such principles, and with a view to the satisfactory adjustment of rival personal aspirations, was not likely to combine the ability and vigor which might have heen brought into it, if the aim had been merely to form the most efficient administration which the whole range of ministration which the whole range of the Marshal, and, after a brief examination, left, and in the meantime Officer Cassell superintended the removal of the Government existent available them could abord. We trust that in remodeling the cabinet neither personal, geographical, nor partisan considerations will be permitted to have any weight as against energy and ability. At present, a cabinet meeting is a conclave of eight lawyers. We should be sorry to see an administration in which the legal profession was not largely represented; but considering how eminently practical a business the conduct of a great war is, it might be of advantage if the cabinet consultations had a liberal intercabinet consultations and a moral inter-fusion of the practical sagacity which has enabled our great railroad and steamboa kings and heavy merchants to distance their competitors. But the country cares little for the profession, and nothing for the party politics of its saviours—for we have really got to such a pass that the country needs to be saved. Sagacity, energy, and unity in the administration o the war are all that is needed, and the people care not in what walk of life the President finds them, if they are only forthcoming.—N. Y. World.
