Argument upon a Habeas Cor-pus-Parties Accused of Mur-der Admitted to Bail.

In the Criminal Court yesterday morn-ag, before Judges Mellon. Ritchie and that as no nigher offence than manslaugh-ter could be charged against the parties. there is not perhaps a more successful that they should be admitted to bail. The medicine than Lindsey's Genuine Blood application was offered by District Attor-Searcher. Sold by his agent Sinon Johnapplication was offered by District Attor-ney Miller and F. H. Collier, Esq., who strengt the motion at complexity, who argued the matter at some length. Judge Mellon said the greatest difficul-ty in the way was the fact that the men had in 1860, and a very recent act of Congress, however, the right is now clear and indis-putable to bridge the Ohio and operate a operation of all parties interested, to com-plete the enterprise. Let the landholders ing, before Judges Mellen. Ritchie and Adams, the habeas corpus taken ont in the case of A. Miller, Henry Hoer, David H. Balty, Edward_Kirkchartz, Fred. Leich, Fred. Wincher and Geo. Nessent thaler, charged with being implicated with Reenan in the killing of young Ohey, came up for hearing. After the examfnation of some five or six witnesses, whose testimony was unimportant, E. P. Jones.

Eso, addressed the Court at length in berhalf of the prisoners, asking for the disciplination of the others. Thos. M. Marshall, Easq, followed on the same side, arguing that as no higher offence than manslaughter could be charged against the parties. release their damages, let the contractors be liberal enough to induce the new com-SCROFULA. streets. Murdered near Nashville.

ty in the way was the fact that the men had been committed for murder, as was to be presumed upon evidence taken by the mag-istrate, and the defendants must clear themselves of any complicity in the homi-cide or show that their offence was not so serious as to debar their release on bail. After some further argument, the Court, after consultation, decided to admit Hoer. Kirkchartz and Nessenthaler to bail. They gave security in the sum of 53,000 each to answerat Court and were released.
