Eracuation of Cumberland Gap.—The Secretary of War yesterday received a dispatch from General McKeown, commanding in East Tennessee, dated Knoxville, Sept. 19th, in which he states the Federal forces evacuated Cumberland Gap Thursday night, and General Stevenson was pursuing them. Previous statements with reference to the condition of affairs had induced the belief that the enemy were hemmed in and that his escape was impossible; but this dispatch indicates that the real position of things has been little understood. If the enemy has evacuated, it is fair to presume that we had no force to oppose him, north of the Gap, and that his escape has been effected in that direction. General Orders No. 37.

The call made upon the people of Pennsylvania for fifty thousant volunteers to resist the threatened invasion of the State was nobly and promptly responded to, and thus thousands were deprived of their right of appeal under the regulations providing for the coming draft. This right must not be forfeited by a patriotic effort fo guard our State against the advance of a ruthless foe, and the coming draft becomes a necessity that I cannot but respect. Notwithstanding the earnest efforts of the officers charged with the duties of preparing for the draft, the city of Philadelphia and the counties of Allegheny, Erie, Luzerne, Montgomery, Franklin, and others, embracing more than one-third the entire population of the State, cannot be prepared to make the draft with justice to these citizens at the time appointed nor for some days thereafter. In Philadelphia and several other sections of the State, where temporary residents are numerous, it has been found impossible to ascertain, with any degree of accuracy, the proper credits to be allowed for men in the service, without resorting to the descriptive rolls at Washington. To avoid manifest injustice to these districts, the number of men they have contributed to the service must be thus ascertained before the draft shall be made. Believing the should asked a charl of its peonle should asked a charl of its peonle should asked a charl of its peonle should asked the sand and the course of the service must be thus ascertained before the draft shall be made.
