The State Militia --- Return of the Remainder of Cotonel Galway's Regiment.

The second particular for the second particu A special train, which arrived at the skin and muscles. He was removed to outer depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad his boarding house in the Diamond, where about two o'clock yesterday afternoon, his injury was attended to by Dr. Walter, this spacen was nonewed by tremendous cheering, which had acarcely subsided when Lieutenant Colonel Jas. M. Cooper took the stand and made a few remarks, giving a me details of the brief campaign of the regiment, stating that they had volunteered to go into Maryland to keep the charge foe outside of our State, and had been in line of battle near Hagerstown, ready to give the enemy a warm reception. The regiment had not been in camp but one ight since leaving home, and had slept it. the open air without shelter or covering except their blankets; while the Philadelphia regiments, who came fully armed and equipped, were made more comfort able by tents provided for them. Fatal Fall in a Well. On Thursday afternoon, at 8 o'clock, a well digger named David Eikins, residing on Middle alley, Second Ward Allegheny, was fatally it jured by falling into a well at which he had been working. He had sunk the well fifty feet, and was engaged in walling it up. Having removed the scaffolding, he dropped some sticks, and was lowered to the bottom in a tub, by his two sons, who were helping him. They raised him to the surface, and were in the act of lowering him sgain, when one of the sticks caught on the side of the well, upset the tub, and threw him out. He fell a distance of twenty five feet, but was soon after taken out, and conveyed to his residence where he did in the sticks caught on the side of the well, upset the tub, and threw him out. caisson, but the rebels rallied and took it off. A regiment was drawn up on the canal bank during the affair and some short exchanged, but without any serious results. One man, Sergeant Crowley of the 5th was wounded in the leg.

Yesterday afternoon the 52d Pennsylvania regiment, Colonel Sweitzer, with a section of the 1st New York Artillery, at tached to Griffin's brigade, crossed the river at Reynold's Ford, below Shepherdstown and brought four handred rifles, mostly marked London, IS62, and one 12-pounder rifled brass piece, English manufacture. The aftair was accomplished rapidly and with entire success. The rebeliekers fell back without resistance and not even a shot fired. These little affairs have excellent effect upon the men, and their cheering as the prize reached this side was hearty and enlivening.

Harrissure, September — A forward movement will no doubt be made by Gen. M'Cicilan soon. His preparations are completed.

The general opinion here is that the militia, who had been sent by Governor obtained the been disbanded, but kept in reserve until such a movement is made. If McCicilan is defended in his attempt to cross the Potonac, and should fall back again towards this State, the militia would undoubtedly be of great service. The rebels are certainly aware of the fact that the militia shew now been sent home, and this fact no doubt gives them encouragement to attempt another raid into Maryland, in which they may, perhaps, be successful, as their army, in all probability, equals, if not except, in numbers that of our own. The militia should have been retained.
