Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant quacks and unserquious adventurers, have opened upon suffering numanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious arugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachies and Bitters.

Althungh not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general; through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no guilicient reason why a man may not testify to the benefit he bolieves himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholte mixture, I am indebted to my friends Robert choemaker, I so, for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by syident relief, and restoration to a degree of sedily and mental visor which I had no loft for 1x months before, and had almost depaired of realning. I therefore thank God and my friend for lirecting me to the use of them.

DE. JACKHOM - DEAR B.E. — I have been fruently requested to connect my name with comnendations of different kinds of medicine, but egarding the ractics 2s out of my appropriate phere, I have a sail cases declined; but with a glear proof in various instances, and particularly my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hooflands German Bitters, I depart from my usual course, to express my full-conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially Liver Complaint it is a safe and valuable preparation. Le some cases it may fail, but usually I doubt not the will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours very respectfully,

SECECT TALE. THE OLD SOLDIER'S STORY

BY ALEXANDER DUMAS.

I was just eighteen years of age, an had been serving for two years, as ensign, in the Paulovsky regiment. The regiment was stationed at the great uilding still standing on the other side of Champ de Mars, opposite the Summer Garden
The Emperor Paul I. had reigned for three years, and lived in the Red Palace, which had just been completed.
Oue night, when I had been refused leave, owing to some hovish freak, and was alone in the guard-room, asleep, I was arqueed by a voice, whose breath swept along my face, and whispered in my "Dmitri Alexandrovitch, arise, and fol

I shuddered.
From the emperor! What could be want with me, a poor ensign of good fammy name to have reached the emperor's ears. I remembered the Russian prover which originated in the time of Ivan the terrible, "Near Czar, near death." Still I dare not hesitate. I leaped from the bed and dressed myself. Then I looked attentively at the man who had come to wake me. Although wrapped in his pelisse, I fancied that I could recognize an old Turkish slave, first the barber, then the favorite of the emperier. This examination, however, was not long; by prolonging it, it might have become danger-J. STEWART, Passen,

My discomfiture was doubled when I saw my conductor, instead of opening the barrack-gate, descend a small staircase leading into the cellerage. He lighted our road with a species of dark lantern. After several turnings, I found myself op-posite a door quite strange to me. Du-ring the entire walk we had not met a soul; the building seemed deserted. I fancied I saw two or three shadows flit past; but they disappeared in the obscur-

In truth, when we New styles selling cheap, at had passed, I distinctly saw a man close the door and follow us. After proceed ing five hundred paces we reached an oper grating, which my guide unlocked and closed after us. I now remembered that a subterranean gallery connected with the Red Palace with the grenadier's barracks. We arrived at a door like the one we bad gone through first. My guide knocked; it opened, and we found ourselves opposite a staircase which we ascended. It led OF PENNSYLVANIA: nto the office of some large building OFFICE ST.
