How to Get Coal Miners.

The Louisville Journal publishes the following plan, for increasing the supply of coal in the South, now getting very low : "It is known, that, owing to the scarei ty of miners in the coal regions the price of coal has been greatly enhanced. The cure laborers to dig the coal was an im-posibility. Coal dealers, therefore, in view of this emergency, have advanced the gency, and it is gratifying, as we learn from the Cincinnali Euquirer, that they have under consideration an important movement, looking to a relief from this oppression. It is suggested that the Govrnment provide for the transportation o all contraband negroes within the Federal lines, between Cincinnati and Memphis, of whom there are many hundreds now lying from the United States. These contra-bands could be conveyed to the mines and put to work at one dollar per day, so that before the fall rise in the river a sufficient quantity of coal could be dug to meet the demand, and at rates even less than last winter's quotations.
