ENTIRELY VEGETABLE.

NO ALCOHOLIC PREPARATION!

A PURE TONIC MEDICINE.

DR HOOFLAND'S

CELEBRATED

GERMAN BITTERS

PREPARED BY

J R O. M. JACKSON, Philadelphia, Penna.,

Will effectually cure

Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE,

Chronic, or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases Arising from a Disordered Liver or Stomach, such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, bour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or webs before the sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c. Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and great depression of spirits,

And will positively prevent Yellow Fever, Bilious Fever, &c.

THEY CONTAIN

NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY!

They will cure the above diseases in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big-bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which, instead of curing only aggravates diseases, and leave the disappointed sufferers in despair.

YOU WANT SOMETHING to STRENGTHEN YOU?

YOU WANT A GOOD APPETITE!

DO YOU WANT TO BUILD UP YOUR CONSTITUTION?

DO YOU WANT TO FEEL WELL?

DO YOU WANT TO GET RID OF NER VOUSNESS?

DO WANT ENERGY?

Do you want to sleep well?

Do You want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of restoring. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

From the Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with commendations of different kinds of medicine, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially Liver Complaint it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail, but usually I doubt not it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD.

Eighth below Coats street, Phila., Dec. 24th.

From the Wife of ALDERMAN WUNDER, Germantown.

GERMANTOWN, June 1, 1861.

DR. C. M. JACKSON—Sir—It gave me pleasure, wo years ago, to give you a certificate, testifying that the German Bitters had done for me. I am now perfectly cured of all those diseases your medicine professes to cure, viz: Dyspepsia, Chronic and Nervous debility, disease of the Kidneys, &c. The powerful influence it exerts upon Nervous prostration is surprising. I have been consulted frequently in reference to your Bitters, and without hesitation, have recommended it for the above complaints, and in every instance it has effectually cured. Your medicine has a great reputation in Germantown, and is sold in every Drug Store, and in most of the Grocery stores here. If any one should question what I say, let them come to Germantown, and I will prove to their satisfaction, that the Bitters have cured in this vicinity more than twenty cases of the above disease.

Respectfully, HANNAH WUNDER,
Main street, above Rittenhouse, Germantown, con's.

JUST THE THING FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Will build up the constitution, and give health and strength to an overtasked and diseased saith.

THE TESTIMONY FROM THE ARMY

PHILADELPHIA, August 12, 1862.

DR. C. M. JACKSON—Dear Sir: While in Virginia, owing to the change of water, I was taken with a severe diarrhœa, which seemed incurable, and which greatly weakened me. When we reached Martinsburg, I feared I should have to go home; but noticing some of your Bitters in the store Mr. H. H. Price, in that town, I purchased a supply, and on taking it was speedily restored to health. The diarrhœa was quickly checked, and I experienced no return of it. A number of my comrades, who suffered in the same manner and from the same cause, with whom I shared the Bitters, join me in this certificate. I expect to return to the seat of war with the Legion, and shall certainly take a supply of the Bitters in my knapsack. I would not be without it if its weight in gold, particularly on going into a malarious region.

Yours, truly, A. B. ALTEMUS,
Company H, Scott Legion.

SELECT TALE.

MARRIED BY COMMAND.

"If you doubt my word," continued Catherine, "have Charlotte brought here; she will confirm all I have said."

"Send for Charlotte," supplicated Albert.

"Peace and sign. I shall be back before long," said Major Keller, as he left the room.

For some time Catherine and Albert were silent.

"How are we to get out of this scrape?" at length asked Catherine.

"I would blow up Fort Marienburg, sooner than marry you!" cried Albert, furiously.

"And I would rather be buried alive than marry you!" exclaimed Catherine, weeping.

"Poor Charlotte! When our parents betrothed us, who would have imagined that such a great misfortune as this should separate us?"

"And seperate us just as we were about to be united!"

"But it is not yet done! It is impossible if neither of us sign."

"Do you know what I fear, Albert?—That they will dispense with our signatures, and marry us in spite of ourselves."

"In spite of ourselves!" cried Albert, in a paroxysm of rage. "I would sooner tear the hair from your head, my good Catherine. That is the least I owe Charlotte."

"I would sooner scratch the eyes out of your head, my dear Albert," said Catherine in an ecstacy of grief. "Ludwig may depend upon that."

At this moment Major Keller entered, followed by two soldiers. Albert and Catherine separating, suddenly looked anxiously towards him.

"All in good time," exclaimed the major. "You are agreed at last. I expected as much—I know the fair sex." Then turning to Albert, he said, in a low voice: "In case of any hesitation on your part, my fine fellow, I have brought you two comrades from the reinforcement, charged to take you before a court-martial, if you have not signed at the fourth beat of the drum. There is the first," as the drum was heard outside. Albert started at the sound. "You know the discipline," continued the major: "disobedience to the king—penalty of death—shot immediately! Come sergeant," added he, pointing to the table, "take the pen. Now for the conjugal flourish!"

Catherine suddenly gaining her self possession, exclaimed: "He will not sign major; he does not wish to sign—neither do I! He detests me—I execrate him!—Ask him if it be not so,"

Keller was quite puzzled what to make of this sudden change, and said, addressing Albert, "Your betrothed is joking, I imagine?"

Albert answered, timidly: "But she is not my betrothed, commander. Charlotte, her sister, is my betrothed."

"Always the same story! I will not stand it any longer," said Keller. And addressing the soldiers: "Advance—shoulder arms, present arms. You know the orders; that is enough." The two men, obedient to the command, placed themselves on either side of Albert. Major Keller then addressed the latter in a low tone: "Pay your court now, and I will aid you as well as I can with my experience of the fair sex; and the drums will serve as a serenade. If, at the second beat you are not at the feet of your intended—if, at the third, she does not hold out her hand—if, at the fourth you do not sign, it is evident that you would rather marry a score of balls, and they shall be served to you, hot."

At these words Albert shuddered, involuntarily, "Twenty balls!" thought he, "and he will do as says. Good heavens!"

Not a word to the young girl," continued Keller, still speaking in an undertone. "Respect for the feelings of fair ladies.—I wish for her free consent." Having said this, Keller twirled his mustache, and stationing himself in front of the young people, took up a newspaper and began to read.

After a short interval the drums were heard, and the major spoke. "Sergeant Albert Hosten," said he, "what are your sentiments towards Catherine Reiwal, whom his Majesty has appointed to be your wife?"

"Now is the time," said Catherine, in a low voice. He is relaxing. Say that I inspire you with horror."

"Well, yes said he with an effort, "Catherine inspires me——." He had got so far when the drums beat the second time. He suddenly interrupted himself and, as they beat louder and louder, fell on his knees beside her, exclaiming: "I love you Catherine—I love you with all my heart—I adore her, commander—I adore her!" Turning to Catherine, who knew not what to think he said, in an undertone: "I hate you, never fear; but do not contradict me, or I am dead."

"Very well," said Keller, at the third beat, as he watched Albert in the act of kissing Catherine's hand. "Sergeant Albert Hosten, does Catherine reciprocate your sentiments?"

"Yes, commander, she loves me—she loves me to desperation; but excuse the first moment—she is in reality as delighted as I am. She thanks the king; she thanks you." Again the drums were heard. "Is it not so, my good Catherine?" Then in a low voice—"It is for Ludwig!—He is lost if you do not give me your hand."

Catherine was quite distracted at these words; this was the only thing that could shake her determination. If Ludwig were in danger she would do anything to save him. She was silent. The sound of the drums decreased.

"For Ludwig," said Albert, emphatically, and poor Catherine could no longer resist, and gave her hand to Albert.

The drum ceased.

"You see, major," cried Albert triumphantly, "she has given me her hand!"

"So much the better! Now, Sergeant Hosten, and you Catherine Reiwal, you have only to sign the engagement, which is on the table."

At these words they looked at each other in consternation, for they knew that if they signed they could never retract.

"You first, sergeant."

"Yes, major—certainly I am going——" Then hearing the drums he started, and approached the table. He hesitated, but the drums beat again; he took the pen, then threw it down, and pressed his hand across his head in great perplexity. The drums continued to beat. "Shot! shot!" thought he, quickly taking up the pen again and preparing to sign.

Catherine, who had been eagerly watching his movements, caught his hand. "Oh you will not do that, Albert,"

"No, never!" cried Albert recovering himself; "rather die!" Then, after a pause, during which the last beat of the drums grew fainter, and at last ceased.—Keller, who had been attentively observing the scene, now said, as he slowly rose:

"You have not signed?"

"No, sir," replied Catherine, resolutely.

"I will marry no one on earth but Ludwig."

"No, major, I look forward to meeting Charlotte in heaven."

"Well, execute your orders," cried Keller to the two soldiers. "Arrest the sergeant. Forward march! To the court martial, to be instantly judged, and shot as a rebel to the commands of the king."

"Albert!" shrieked Catherine.

Full particulars can be had of my treatment, by procuring a copy of the Medical Adviser, which is given gratis to all that apply. Having the advantage of over forty years of experience, and observation, consequently, he has superior skill in the tre
