HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. From J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. Although inci disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the beinefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofmand's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jeckson, of this city, because I was prejudiced sgainst them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture, fam indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq. for their moval of this prejudice by proper ests, and for knocuragement to try them, when uffering from great and long continued debility. he tief three buttles of these Bitters, at the continued of the present year, was fellowed by

Dr. C. M., Jarkson – Sir; — It gave me pleasure, wo years are, to give you a certificate; testifying out the German Bitters had done for me. I am ow perfectly cured of all those diseases your leading professes to cure, vir. Dyspepsia, Chronicand Nervous debility, disease of the Kidneys, to. The powerful influence it exerts upon Nervous prostraction is surprising. I have been consulted frequently in reference to your Bitters, and without hesitation, have recommended it for the above complaints, and in every instance it has coffectually cured. Your medicine has a great sputation in Germantown, and is sold in every Drug Store, and in most of the Grocery stores here. If any one should question what I say, let them come to dermantown, and I will prove to their satisfaction, that the Bitters have cured in this violinity more than twenty cases of the above Imeases.

DR. C.M. JADRSON—Deer Sw: While in Viria, which is the change of water. I was taken with a severe districes, which seemed incursible, and which greatly weakened me. When we eached Martinsburg, I feared I should have to ome home; but noticing some of your Bitters in the store, I purhased a supply, and on taking it was speedily restored to health. The diarrhess was quickly checked, and lexperienced no return of it. A number of my opmrades, who suffered in the same manner and from the same cause, with whom I shared the Bitters, join me in this certificate. I suppet to return to the seat of war with the Legun, and shall certainly take a supply of the Bitrish my knapseck. A FRIEND IN NEED. TRY IT-DR. SWETS INFALLIBLE LINIMENT is prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the great bone setter, and has been used in his practice for the last twenty years with the most astonishing success. As an external remedy it is without a rival and will alleviate pain more speedily than any other preparation. For all Rheumatic and Nervous Disorders it is truly infallible, and as a cure for Sores, Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, &c., its southing healing and powerful strengthening properties, excite the just wonder and astonishment of all who have ever given it a trial. Over four hundred certificates of remarkable cures, performed by it within the last two years, attest this fact.

It is, perhaps, no exaggeration to say that half a million of the bravest and best of our people have, in that miserable interval, perished by the sword—there is mourning in five hundred thousand desolate homes to-night—Two years ago we knew taxation only by hearing other nations complain of its intolerable burden on themselves. To-day the national resources taxed to the utmost scarce can supply the ever increasing demands of the government, and we may prepare ourselves for the certainty, if public affairs continue to be conducted as now, that we shall be in one year hence the most nations to spend as much of their times the sail peace; and was it intended by the framers of our Constitution that, at the first blast of war, or the first outmost the constitution was

They know that a horde of speculators, contractors, jobbers, and politicians, plot and plunder with impunity, and, by some device or other, grow rich on the national disasters. The past has been, for two years, a series of unprecedeted national calamities; the present is an hour of affliction, insecurity, distrust. The people see no sign that the party whose guidence of public affairs have hitherto caused misfor-

Yet to take such steps as the Constitution and the laws allow, for the purpose of giving to the nation other advisers, of infusing into its veins new life, new thought, new intellect, new hope—this is stigmatized as a factious opposition to the government, and disloyalty to the nation. It would seem that to scribe this condition of affairs was to describe this condition of affairs was to develop its utter absurdity. If the same story had been told us two years ago, of France, Spain, or Naples, think how our hearts would have thrilled with indignation, pity, and contempt. I. John and a real section and continuous and simple days and section of the continuous of the constitution of the constituti licafairs continue to be conducted as now, that we shall be in one year hence the most heavily taxed people on the earth. Two years ago we were governed according to the terms of a written Constitution, by which we fondly thought freedom of person, of speech, of the press, were forever guarenteed, forever secured to the dwellers of this land. It was written by men just fresh from the struggle against at the first blast of war, or the first outbreak of insurrection, the Constitution was to be cast aside, and all cith or war to yield to military supremacy. themselves forever. We thought it a thing too plain to be misinterpreted, too clear to be evaded, too sacred to be trampled under foot. We had laws, too, and courts, and forms of proceeding, by means of which guit could be detected and innocence protected. To-day the personal liberty of every one of nathers in the oity of New York depends, not on the Constitution or the law, but on the good pleasure of one man and his delegates. While one set of men can freely, boldly, insolently criticise and threaten the government, express their contempt for the constitution, make and unmake generals, plan campaigns, alter policy, set up, knock down, appoint, supersede—to all others is alloted the part of passive obedicence; on their lips remonstrance is disloyally.
