FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 14

WHEN THE REBELLION'S OVER.

Climbed the baby on her knee,
With an airy, childish grace:
Prattled on her lovely face:
"When will papa come to me?"
"Papa?" left the mother cried—
"Papa! ah! the naughty rover!
Sweet, my pet, he'll come to thee
When the great rebellion's over!"

"Mamma once had rosy cheeks
Danced and sang a merry tune;
Now she rocks me 'neath the moon,
Sits and sighs, but scarcely speaks"
And the smiles team on her wan—
"Sweet mamma has lost her lover,
She will blush and sing no more
Till the great rebellion's over!"

"Till the blush of peace shall come,
Like a quiet fall of snow.
And the merry troops shall go
Marching back! hearts at home"—
"Papa—home?" the baby lisped,
Balmy-breath'd as summer clover,
"Yes, my darling, home at last,
And the sad rebellion over!"

Entered at the open door,
While the mother soothed her child
One who met her sobs or smiled,
Standing on the sunny floor.
Wistful eyes met mournful eyes,
Hope took flight, like airy plover:
Ah! poor heart, thou it wait in vain
Till the great rebellion's over!

Heart, poor heart! too weak to save,
Vain your tears—your longings vain—
Summer winds and summer rain
But already on his grave!
From the flag upon his breast
(Truer breast it ne'er shall cover!)
From its mouldering colors, wet
With his blood, shall spring bright
Lily rose and violet,
And a wreath of purple clover,
With the flag upon his breast,
They have hid away your lover—
Weep not! wail not! let him rest,
Having bravely stood the test.
He shall rank among the blest,
When the great rebellion's over!

The Attitude of Russia.

The following paragraph from the leading Russian government organ has a friendly significance:

Russia, it says, entertains a lively sympathy for the United States of America; based on mutual friendship and common interests. Their posterity she deems necessary for the general equilibrium. The maintenance of the Union is the condition of that power and happines which she desires for the American nation. We are in a position to affirm that the friendly and conciliatory views of the imperial cabinet have not undergone the slightest change. On the contrary, the events which have taken place, the sad experience of war, of its calamities, its burdens, its exhausting results, have tended rather to confirm than weaken their force.—Journal of St. Petersburg.

Cresson Springs, Cambria Co., Pa.

THIS DELIGHTFUL AND POPULAR place of summer resort, located directly on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, on the summit of the Allegheny Mountains, 2,300 feet above the level of the ocean, will be open for guests from the 20th of June till the 10th of October. Since last season the grounds have been greatly improved and beautified, and a number of Cottages have been erected for the accommodation of families, rendering Cresson one of the most romantic and attractive places in the State. The furniture has been thoroughly renovated. The seeker of pleasure and the sufferer from bad disease, will find attractions here in a first-class Livery Stable, Billiard Tables, Ten-pin Alleys, Baths, etc., together with the purest air and water, and the most magnificent mountain scenery to be found in the country.

Tickets, good for the round trip from Philadelphia, $7 60; from Pittsburgh, $5 05.
