CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE

Democratic Meeting. An adjourned meeting of the Allegheny City Democratic Club will meet at the warehouse of Thomas Pinsky, Esq., No. 164 Federal street, on Friday evening next, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of perfecting their organization. A practical attendance is requested. By order of JAMES C. CUMMINS, Chairman, Nov. 19th, 1862.

Supreme Court. Wednesday, Nov. 19th, 1862. Court met at 9 a. m. Present Chief Justice Loring and Justices Woodward, Strong and Read; Justice Thompson absent from illness.

Atlantic and Great Western. The Philadelphia News-American has a discourse on Railroad matters in Western Pennsylvania. Akron, Ohio, is one of the most important railway centres of the West, and the Atlantic and Great Western line direct communication with the whole rail system of the West, for which it will be indebted to Pennsylvania. This road connects with the New York and Erie, and is really but an extension of the Erie road, which is dominant in the Lake route, which is dominant in the State of Pennsylvania.

Peterston's Detector. Miner, Fifth street, sends a Peterson's Detector for No. 10th street. The detector is a small portable instrument, which is used to detect the presence of gas in a mine.

Fresh Oysters. The "Corona" is the corner of Union and Fifth streets, kept by our good natured friend "Fritz," has already achieved a reputation under his administration. Here the best oysters are served, and they are well known to the people of the city.

Gift Book Store. A fresh supply of splendid photograph albums at 15 Wood street, at greatly reduced prices and a valuable gift worth fifty cents to one hundred dollars given each.

Shipping of the Steamer Denmark. A Pittsburgh bound steamer, sunk last week on her way from St. Paul to St. Louis. When she reached the head of the Ohio, she ran upon a rock, which tore her hull badly, and caused her to sink in eight feet of water.

In Season. In an announcement of H. J. Lynch, in another column. He has a splendid stock of goods, embracing, in addition to the usual variety of staples and winter dress goods a lot of fashionable and very cheap, cloaks of the latest patterns and shawls of various designs. The stock is well worth examining, and the goods will be sold at very low prices.

Alleged Frauds in Contracts. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Journal, writing from this city, says: "Frauds upon the Federal Government to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars have just been discovered. Three leading firms in our city, who are well known abolitionists, and advocates of the prosecution of the war, are the parties concerned."

Steuenville Railroad Bridge. This structure, over the Ohio at Steuenville, for the purpose of connecting the Pittsburgh and Steuenville and Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Cincinnati lines, is being pushed rapidly forward. The stone is very substantially built, water-bridge when completed will be one of the finest in the country.

Boat Sold. Capt. Richard Callow, formerly of the "Citizen," 7 a. m. (to be sold), purchased for the sum of $15,000, a schooner, which he has run as a regular packet between this city and Cincinnati and St. Louis.

Improvement. The increased business of the Custom House has caused Captain Batchelor to take the accommodation of his office, by introducing a new counter, which is being carried by the main force, for the accommodating of the public.

For the Farmer. Henry Miner, Fifth street, has the illustration of a Register of Rural Affairs for 1863. It should be in the hand of every farmer.

Hempfield Railroad Election.

The annual election for President and Directors for the Hempfield Railroad, by the stockholders, took place in Washington, Pa., on Monday. The annual report was read and adopted, after which the election was held. The result was as follows: President, C. M. Reed; Directors, Joseph Henderson, Wm. McKennon, of Washington county, and James C. Clark, of Westmoreland county, and S. Brady, T. Sweeney and J. C. Cheson, of Whately, Directors. The meeting of stockholders then adjourned.

The Seven Thirty Bonds. Among the bids for the seven thirty Government bonds, recently opened at Washington City, we find but one bid from Pittsburgh, viz: Foster & Smith, $10,000, at 11 per cent. premium. We do not know who the bidder are.

Discharged on Habeas Corpus. Yesterday morning a man named James Anderson, drafted from Westmoreland county, was brought before Judge McClelland, in the United States Circuit Court, on a writ of habeas corpus. The discharge was asked for on the ground that he was exempt from military duty, having attended his forty-fifth year on the 10th inst., and not having been sworn into the service of the United States. He is a family Bible, in which his birth was recorded, and by the affidavit of his mother, Candless ordered the discharge, except appellant—and he went on his homeward way rejoicing.

Cavalry of the Harrisburg. Orders were received on Tuesday for the five unattached cavalry companies in Camp Montgomery, to proceed to Harrisburg, and they will all start on Wednesday morning except two companies, which were delayed until afternoon.

THE VERY LATEST TELEGRAPH.

No telegraphic news up to the hour of going to press.

THE WAR IN THE SOUTHWEST.

Important Military Movements in Progress. Rebels in Arkansas 82,000 Strong. St. Louis, November 17. General Herron, of the frontier army, the arrivals and movements and counter-movements on foot are discussed in their respective columns.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 11. The correspondence of the Missouri Democrat says: Matters with the army on the frontier are in statu quo. Preparations are being made, however, for a demonstration on some of the Missouri State military posts. The army has been somewhat reorganized, and several volunteer regiments of change for Missouri State military posts, which are to occupy towns in the State. The change is gratifying to all parties.

The enemy in Arkansas is reported to be 80,000 strong, under Hindman, and Ozark, the latter near Little Rock, and is, however, not to exceed 170,000 men in Arkansas. The North-western portion of the State is now in the hands of the rebels, and is under their control. Small bands of guerrillas. It is not likely that any attempt will be made to occupy that portion of the State.

Gen. Hunt, with the first division of his army, occupies Northwestern Kansas and 60,000 under Hindman. He is working the salt mines there, and is doing excellent work and yielding an abundant supply of military stores. They are three or four miles from their homes. They are driven from their homes. They are driven from their homes. They are driven from their homes.

From Warrenton. Indian Summer in the Old Dominion. To-day is beautiful beyond description. A mellow but bracing sunshine is above and around us. Precious hours, lustrous moments, these to the legion of proud, brave hearts that throng the great army of the North. To many these Indian Summer days are the last they will witness, for disease will sweep them away and conquer thousands of the nation's fighting men.

Warrenton approves of more intimate association, for like many people who have been in the front, we were not predisposed to think favorably of it from "first impressions." It is really a pleasant and companionable town, the capital of Fauquier county, and a desirable place of residence. It is built on the dividing ridge that separates the two principal valleys of this country. The land here is fertile, and the soil is rich. The climate is healthy, and the scenery is beautiful. The people are kind and hospitable, and the town is well supplied with all the necessaries of life.

Several eminent families belong to Warrenton vicinity. Chief among them are the Smiths, perhaps the most illustrious and distinguished of all our great judges, was born a few miles from Warrenton. His sons now reside here: one being a member of the Virginia Senate, and another a member of the Virginia House of Delegates. The town is well supplied with all the necessaries of life, and the people are kind and hospitable.
