NEGRO SUPERIORITY.

The question of negro equality is no longer open for discussion, it is now one of negro superiority. In the South Carolina department, a year ago, fine .wooden quarters were erected for the comfort of the negroes while white Northern soldiers were compilled to lie out in the cold. enduring the pelting of the pitiless storm. More than this, a regiment of Pennsylva-More than this, a regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers were, upon one occasion, detailed to clean up and renovate these quarters, in order to prevent disease from generating therein. These soldiers, who magined that they were to fight for the restoration of the Union, soon found out their mistake, in the Carolina department Building and keeping comfortable the quarters assigned to runaway negroes was the chief duty which they were called upon to perform. And they had to do it, too; the General then in command was the very man to see "justice done" the

Since the proclamation of emancipation in this Carolina department, giving free dom to about a million of slaves, (only it did'nt) our philanthropists have made considerable progress. On Wednesday last. "Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, in the United States Senate, offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War to inform the Senate whether Dr. John Lane and Mr. Meredith, (white men) citizens of Delaware, had been arrested and imprisoned, what charges were made against them, and all the papers relating to their arrest."

This resolution was, by the Abolition majority of the Senate, "laid over," which means laid out, prior to its being finally interred. But, in order, apparently, to let Saulsbury and others like him understand that the consideration of the negro question is paramount to all else, Mr. Sumner arose, and with his usual expression of assumed indignation and expression of assumed indignation and contempt for everything not absolutely of a soldier, that the Secretary of War, of African extraction, offered the follow-

But is it not lamentable and discouraging, Mr. Editor, to the many gallant fellows from our city, who are suffering the hardships of the camp, to observe these assassin stabs at the reputation of those beld by them in the highest esteem? Is this the reward of a soldier for the Union? If detraction is the only reward for meritorious services in the field, then has Col. Roberts exhibited a commendable foresight in abandoning the profession of the soldier, thereby escaping the infliction of increased and increasing slander. These remarks will apply to others as well as to Col. Roberts; there is no honor, it seems, a shriek for negro emancipation and negro equality afterwards. In the cant phrase of the day—that's what's the matter.

LATE SOUTHERN NEWS. FROM NASHVILLE.

BATTE FIELD MAR MAYETTEVILLE, AFKANSAS, Desember 8th, 1862 General Hirron's forces, en route to reinforce Geneal Blunt, met the enemy yesterday on Cawford's Prairie, ten miles south of Fartteville, and had a decided victory. The rebels were 24,000 strong, tack on General Herron, to prevent him trom uniting with Gen. Blunt. General Herron's face consisted of the Ninety-fourth and Thirty-first Illinois, Nineteenth and Twentyth Iowa, Twenty-sixth Indiana, Twentath Wisconsin, with a battalion radical conspirators and delays, the failure or two of ewalry, in all about six thousand nen, with twenty four pieces of artillery The batte raged from ten A. M. until dark, and was desperately fought. Our artillery drive the rebels from ten strong positions, and kept their overwhelming numbers at bay.

The 20th Wisconsin captured a rebel battery of four heavy guns, but were forced to alandon them under a murder-ous fire. The 19th Iowa also took the same battery, and fought most desperately. About four o'clock Gen. Blunt arrived from Cane Hill, with 5,000 men and Our loss is 600 killed and wounded. Sr. Louis, Dec. 9, 1862.
Maj. Gen. Halleck, General in Chief: My torces of the Army of the Frontier united near Fayetteville, in the midst of a hard fought battle. Gen. Blunt had sus tained his position at Cane Hill till Satur day night, when the enemy, 25,000 strong under Gen. Hindman, attempted a flank movement on his left to prevent the arrival of Gen. Herron's forces, which had been approaching for four days by forced marches.

On Sunday, about ten o'clock, a. m. the enemy attacked Gen. Herron near Fayetteville, who, by gallant and desper-nte agnung, near him in check three hours until Gen. Blunt's division came up and tinued desperate until dark. Our troops bivouacked on the battle field, while the enemy retreated across Boston Mountain. The loss on both sides is heavy, but much greater ou the side of the enemy, our artillery creating terrible slaughter in their greater numbers. The enemy had great adier General of the Missouri State Guards. Both Gens. Blunt and Herron deserve special commendation for their gallantry n the battle of Fayetteville, Ark.

(Signed) S. R. CURTIS. Maj. Gen. Commanding. NEW YORK, Dec. 10 .- By a late arrival from the Gulf we have the following in-teresting glance at the progress of affairs near Galveston, with other matters of in-terest. It was well understood from trustworthy authority on the 15th, that the re bels were preparing to make an attack on the Union gunboats in Galveston harbor with an armed flotilla of light draught steamers; that five of these vessels were being fitted up for action by removing their upper or hurricane decks, and forti-lying their sides with cotton bales. All the heavy guns from the battery at Virginia Point have been removed to arm the steamers, and were to be immediated placed on board. It is known that the battery consisted of two 84 pounder rifled guns, two ten-inch columbiads, four eight-inch columbiads, and the remaining nine Their forces at Suffolk and vicinity are now estimated at 30,000 by their own men, who state that this force is to move against Petersburg, while the force at Newburn, N. C., is to operate simultaneously against Waldon.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec, 8—We have no further particulars of the disgraceful affairs at Hartsville. From all I can gather it appears that the new infantry regiments fought but little after relieving the 2d Indiana cavalry, excepting an Illinois regi-ment, which is said to have lost eighty killed. When the infantry came up the cavalry was being forced back, at which the former were seized with panic and fled to camp again, when they were surrounded and taken. The loss is said to be about forty killed and wounded, the rebels a tiring as reinforcements arrived.
