of the great destruction of human life in this fratricidal contest is the unparal-lelled acrease of orphans—of which we see the proof all around us. We have not any statistics at hand, but after every battle we hear of many cases where families have lost their natural protectors and of orphan children thrown upon the cold in the number of orphans that the doors of every institution in this vicinity for their reception have been besieged and all are now filled to their utmost capacity. Of course private charity does its full share lin relieving the distress of these poor little unfortunates, but this, being oursely voluntary, and sometimes the state of the common Commo purely voluntary, and sometimes spasmod-ic, is not always effectual, and, however enevolent our people may be, their vigi-

has rendered a decision in relation to the tax on mineral water manufacturers, a synopsis of which we subjoin. It appears that a number of those engaged in the manufacture of this article, in Philadelphia, made returns to the assessors rating the taxable value of the mineral water sold by them at the sum at which they would have sold it by the gallon, and not from the same actually received from the sale in bottles. The assessor, knowing that nine-tenths of their sales were made by the dozen bottles, and that they collect the bottles again on being emptied, rejected the returns, and called the attention of the manufacturers to the section which says the value "shall be estimated by the actual sales made by the manufacturer." This sales made by the manufacturer. This dition of the railroad street, in the Ninth Ward.
