THE BATTLE AT GALVESTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 17, 1863.

Further Particulars of the Attack upon the Warrick at Galveston, Tex., on the 10th Inst.

After the Warrick had been captured, the command of the fleet devolved upon Commodore Henshaw, who immediately ordered the whole fleet to sail for Orleans.

STATEMENT OF A SURVIVOR.

Since writing I have conversed with a gentleman who effected his escape from Galveston after the enemy was in possession of the city, and who witnessed part of the fight between the Warrick and the rebel fleet. From his statement I gain the following information:

It was reported that this attack was made along the shore before it actually occurred, but the story was generally credited.
