HOOFLAND'S GEBMAN BITTERS

I was disturbed from these reflections by observing that the people were all go-ing in one direction, and they burried for-ward as if stimulated by 'some extraor-dinary curiosity. I addressed inquiries to some of them; but they were too breath-less and in too great a hurry to make any reply to me. All they did was to point before them and nod their heads. Mot being able to obtain any satisfac-tion from them. I dermined to follow their footsteps, as I was sure there was some thing to be seen. From J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the En-Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in genoral, through disfurst of the second second second second second second second patient medicines in genoral, through disfurst of po-pamfielent reason why a man may not testify to the benefit the believes timiself to favor received from any simple proparation in the hope that he may then contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to 'Hoof' jand's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this bity, because I was prejudiced scainst them for mainy yours, under the impres-tion that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemakar Esq. Act the removal of this prejudice by proper-ents and for encouragement to try them, when altering the present year, was followed the hitty it were of three bottles of these Hitters, at the continue of the investor was the footteps; as I was sure there was some thing to be seen. We advanced at a very quick pace down a handsome street; which I afterwards learned was the chief street in the town, called the Grand Bue; the crowd all the time 'getting' densit, so 'ss to rendersit more difficult to proceed. We might have gone a mile, perhaps; when the street suddenly opened in a large square this square was densaly packed with a large moto. The most distracted noise and con-fusion prevailed, but I saw something there, raised on a platform at the farther end of the square; that engaged my atten-tion and made my blood feel as if it were further into ice.

seq. for the removal of this prejudice by proper ests, and for encouragement to try them, where an encourage of three polities of these Bitters, at the explanation for property of the present year, was followed by syldent rolled, and restoration to a degree of podily and mental vigor which I had not leit for its months before; and had almost depaired of re-lating. I therefore thank God and my friend for Biroting me to the use of them. "FurLADELPHIA, June 23, 1861."
