SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 14. MR. SEWARD AND MERCIER. A Question of Veracity.

The exceedingly pleasant relations here tofore existing between our Secretary of State and Mr. Mercier, the French Minister at Washington, are in great danger of being suspended, even if their misunderstanding does not lead to differences be tween their respective governments. The French representative has published some diplomatic correspondence, to which we alluded in Thursday's paper, in which the following extract occurs, relative to his visit, last summer to the rebel capital.— Says Monster:

Mr. Seward said to me that I could add when I should find an opportune occasion that, in his conviction, the North was no animated by any sentiment of vengeance, and that, for his part, he should with pleasure find himself again in the Senate, in the presence of all those whom the South might wish to send there."

This extraordinary revelation quickly attracted the radical enemies of Mr. Seward in the Senate, and immediately a resolution was passed there, inquiring of the the charter of the Pennsylvania Railroad President what were the "precise rela Company. This Company is a very tat, tions" existing between Mr. Seward and large goose, and, of course, most be the French Minister. In reply to this in plucked. quiry, the Secretary sent to the Senate on flatly contradicts the statement of Mr.

Mercier. Ho says: That no suggestions were made to M.

but no more to than the French gentleman's statement, which it contradicts. There being no written evidence to disprove what Mr. Seward says, we presume that the radicals of the Senate will have to accept his donial of desiring to meet Jeff. Davis in the Senate and permit him to remain a while longer at the head of the State department. But how the Secretary and the French minister are to arrange this palpable Seward was rather hasty in his anxiety to please the radicals, and at the same time irritate the representative of the French Government. Before dismissing the proposition so suddenly, he might, for a tention to a subject of moment.

month or two at least, have gone through the present infamous and God condemned rebellion broke out, Congress the usual diplomatic gammon of the usual diplomatic gammon of was not in session, and the occurrence of renewing the assurance of his prosuch a state of things not having been found consideration." As it is, the dignity, of the French Emperor, may feel insulted; if so, our Secretary's giving the lie direct to the former means should be taken to control the statement of Mr. Mercier, about his visit to Richmond, may answer as a pretext for French interference in our civil war. But
Mr. Seward must head off his pursuers stances the General Government resorted and hold his place in the Cabinet, even if his diplomacy should involve us in for-eigu, as his seachings have, in civil war.
