FRIEND BARR:—To the onere capital preciator, or to the transient visitor, our goodly city presents none other than and Brazil eaceful aspect. But to the man who penetrates this deceptive striace, said obtains a glimpse of the agitation and excitement beneath, there is revealed a condition of things at ouce disheartening and cheering. He finds two opposing elements at work, preparing for a conflict which reatens consequences disastrous to all. The famous "Union (disunion) League" of this city, has perfected its organization and, as has ever been the braggadocio secciations opposed to the stordy Democracy, its friends claim for it the very quintescence of respectability, intelligence and patriotism. Unfortunately for these empty pretensions there is an element of intelligence in the community, possessed of vision and foresight keen enough to pene-
