from actual survey it has been found that the geography and topography of the country both show, that an outlet can be had by the city of Pittaburgh in less time and expense than by any other route. Hence the importance of immediate and prompt action of Congress, for it is a fact that the resources of this vast enpire have been to a great extent exhausted in building the railroad now done and centering into Pittaburgh; and at the present time from thence. H. G. to be Hungfor Shot. The N. Y. Tribune of Thesday, has ver surious or haught upon Mr. William B. Beed, of Philadelphia, because that gendeman holds views on the war very similar to those of Mr. Greeley himself. It seems Mr. Reed has been guilty of wri and of this production the Tribune says:

martial or other speediest method, and promptly hanged or shot. The celebra MASTIC CEMENT

cy, and would authorize and require i citizens, through a convention to be as-sembled for that purpose, to determine with whom their lot shall be cast—wheth er with the North and East, whose fanati-cism has precipitated this misery upon us, or with our own, or whether Pennsylva via shall stand by herself, ready when oc-cadion offers to bind together the broken Union and resume her place of loyalty

That resolution was written som dnths before the rebellion broke into pen war. Infamous as its sentiments hen were, it might be supposed that the subsequent hideous development of the Southern conspiracy would have shamed their author into regret for such an ex pression of sympathy with its leaders and plans. But Mr. Reed is neither susceptible of shame nor capable of conversion As this resolution is all the Tribune quotes, we take for granted it can find nothing worse in the body of the documen t complains of. Now if Mr. Reed is to be hung or shot for certain objectionable views held previous to the breaking out of vast empire alluded to above, hence the the war, of course Mr. Greeley is willing importance; and which can be effected and to suffer the same fate for giving expresthe war, of course Mr. Greeley is willing sion to precisely the same sentiments, a witness the following:

From the Tribune, Nov. 9, 1860. If the cotton States become satisfied that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace. The right to secede may be a rev dutionary one, but it exists nevertheless

* We must ever resist the right o any State to remain in the Union and nul lify or defy the laws thereof. To with-draw from the Union is quite another mat-ter, whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in. We hope never to live in a republic whereof one section is pinned to another by bayonets. From the Tribune, Nov. 26, 1860.

If the cotton States unitedly and ear nestly wish to withdraw peacefully from the Union; we think they should and would be allowed to do so. Any attempt to compel them by force to remain would be contrary to the principles enunciated in the immortal Declaration of Indepen-dence—contrary to the fundamental ideas on which human liberty is based. From the Tribune, Dec. 17, 1860

If it (the Declaration of Independence justified the secession from the British em-pire of three millions of colonists, in 1776, we do not see why it would not justify the secession of five millions of Southron from the Union in 1861. From the Tribune, Feb, 23, 1861. Whenever it shall be clear that the great body of the Southern people have become conclusively alienated from the Union and anxious to escape from it, we will do our best to forward their views.

This settles the question. If Mr. Reed is to be shot, Mr. Greelev must be buried in the same grave. Their views are identical-their crime, if any, is one.-New Fork World.
