37 See First and Third Page for Commercial Daily Markets and River New THE BADICALS HEADED. Now that the President has got rid of his radical tormenters—the leaders of his party in the late Congress—he is about to return to his former conservative views, and conduct the war hereafter for the restoration of the Union, regardless of its effect upon the institution of slavery.— This is the reason why John Van Buren and other Democrats of New York have been in unison with Mr. Seward's particular friends, advising a vigorous prosecution of hostilities for the simple restora-Empire State. The radical Abolitionists, viewing the new organization as being calculated to merely weaken the Democratic party, welcomed it as being the very thing for the times and the occasion. But these restless fanatics have now found out that Seward and Weed have undermined them, and that the Persident looks with favor upon the Weed have undermined them, and that the President looks with favor upon the invention of his Secretary of State to obtain control of his party in New York.—

The Radical Camp in a Ferment. The loyal league movement throughouthe country is regarded with dismay by the ultra abolition radicals in this city. They ultra abolition radicals in this city. They see in it a complete abandonment of the emancipation proclamation, and the whole negro equality programme, to which they supposed they had committed the administration. Seward and Weed, they say, are again masters of the situation, and the "border State policy" is reinstated.—Of course they are furious, and the malcontents and sore-heads are again rallying around this banner of Fremont and dearound the banner of Fremont and denouncing the Union league movement.

Thurlow Weed, "the deep, revolving Duke of Buckingham, has got the Greeleyites under his feet. He has turned the Republican party of New York into a Union league; he has got the leaders of it committed to the necessity of such an organization, the principles of which exclude all discussion of abolitionism, as being foreign to its purposes. The effect of this is already apparent. The people, even in New England, are thundering through the ballot-boxes their utter condemnation of the radical action of the Administration. That Administration, slarmed at these demonstrations, now lends itself to Seward and his followers to break the power of the radical faction, which was the reason of fastening all the mischievous legislation of the last Congress upon the country. As Greeley said, upon a remarkable occa sion, "the world still moves."

NOW AND THEN. The facility some people have for what plain folks call lying is strikingly illustrated by the following extracts from the Pittsburgh Chronicle. On Tuesday last it

It is the Post knows we never made.

It is the Post which grossly slanders and insults the Democracy of its own district in applying the word "copperhead" to out any reason, all articles on "copperhead" to out any reason, all articles on "copperhead" to don't care to what party they belong.

Here it will be seen that the Chronicle of Thursday denies what it said on Tuesday, and that, in its estimation, the term copperhead applies to other parties as

Mr. EDITOR-I was surprised and much offended to find the editor of the Chronicle denouncing many of his patrons and supporters as Copperheads. I am a Demerat, and I venture to state that among the best and most respectable of its supporters are the Democrats of the two cities. What has provoked this assault upon us? The Gazette is a party paper. From that sheet we Democrats look for nothing but slanderous abuse and vilest epithets. Its antecedents have been vicious and vindictive; its proclivities are low, scurrilous and sometimes debasing. These are its established characteristics, nd hence it is that so many Democrats fuse to take or use it as a medium. The Thronicle, up to the present time, has been held to be neutral, and, unlike the Gazette, unexceptionable with the Demoocrats and the Democratic party?
