THE UNION LEAGUE.

This combination of pretenders, politicians and aspirants have already, we understand, commenced operations by which they expect to silence this paper. The real object of this secret society is, in the language of a member, "to spot people," which means to prescribe every one who will not abandon his convictions in order to build a new organization, intended, under a new name, to keep a party in power which has already inflicted such misery upon the country. No Democrat need be told that he need join another organization to save the Union. Ours is the Union party of the country, and when the leading Abolitionists, who are figuring in these Union Leagues, inform us that they are for the restoration of the Union, they do not mean that it shall be restored to what it was, but to what they intend it to be. In other words these Union Leagues are merely political, partisan, secret organizations of Abolitionists, the leaders of which are not for the Union and never were, unless it is changed to suit their prejudices.

But, in order to make themselves felt, they intend, it seems, to conspire against the personal liberty and safety of obnoxious opponents. How far they intend, in their fancied seclusion and secrecy, to prosecute this system of persecution, we know not, nor do we very much care, save in a general way. Already we have received a few requests to "discontinue my paper," which, we believe, from the character of the men, is the result of combination. We shall retain the names of these "within the book and volume of our brain, unmixed with baser matter," in order that when they perfect the machinery of their star chamber proceedings, we will be enabled to give them to an admiring people. Let the leading men of these leagues be careful how they proceed in their secret conclaves. They may inaugurate a feeling which they can not control. Their presumed sincerity may induce the roughs of their organization to commit serious excesses upon the persons and property of their neighbors, as was common, for years, in Baltimore and New Orleans. The leading gentlemen of these Leagues had better reflect very seriously upon these things; the country is in a woful condition, the people restless and discontented, the public mind is diseased, and secret organizations should not trifle with it. If, therefore, they teach bloody instructions to irresponsible followers, let them beware, lest their teachings "return to plague their inventors." Should contention and strife, and even worse, be inaugurated by these scheming partizans, the Democrats will have no more to lose—the will mourn, and let those who have the most to lose in such a contest be chary how they encourage proceedings which may result in their own, as well as their intended victim's ruin. We hope and trust that the Government may brave the terrible ordeal through which she is passing without our seeing civil strife amongst ourselves; but secret organizations, no matter how specious, in times of commotion and revolution, are to be avoided. There is no necessity for them to begin with, and history, as well as experience, admonish us of the base purposes to which they have been turned.—Should our Union Leagues here attempt any of the excesses to which we have merely alluded, the leaders of it, the respectable gentlemen of large estates and fortunes, could hardly expect to escape the consequences of their own teachings.

DESERTIONS FROM THE ARMY.

The Dispatch intimates that we are not sufficiently explicit in our remarks upon desertions from the army. In our observations upon the subject we merely commented upon the War Department's annual report upon the subject. In relation to the abstract question, however, of desertions from the service, there can be, we presume, but one opinion. Desertion is one of the gravest offences which can be committed against the government. A deserter is a coward, entitled to no sympathy, and we should all insist upon the administration using its vast powers to have returned to the service the immense numbers of deserters now skulking about the country. The return of the 180,000 absentees to the ranks might greatly relieve the balance of us from the provisions of the conscription. Of the vast number of deserters alluded to, Pennsylvania, and perhaps our county, have their proportions, and, in order to avoid the disgrace of being captured and forced back to duty, we trust that they will voluntarily return and endeavor to win an honorable name by greater devotion to our cause. We would be glad to have the Dispatch say a few words upon this subject, if it can spare a little time from the contemplation of the genus copperhead.

The dilapidated condition of Abolitionism, throughout the country, has, perhaps, induced these 180,000 deserters to return home to vote; at the solicitation of Abolition leaders; if so, a word of admonition and warning from the Dispatch would be beneficial. Their presence in the army, if it would do no other good, would make a big show at least, and appearances sometimes are very deceptive. If they would fight their efforts might end the contest. Let us, therefore, ferret them out and send them back to the tented field.

Bonds on Foreign Account.

The sale of twenty year bonds on foreign account is said to be large enough to absorb the entire supply on the market.

The Virginians.

The Washington Republican, the semi-official organ of President Lincoln, has the following in praise of the rebels of the Old Dominion:

If there has been any decadence of the manly virtues in the Old Dominion, it is not because the present generation has proved itself either weak or cowardly, or unequal to the greatest emergencies. No people, with so few numbers, ever put into the field, and kept there so long, troops more numerous, brave or efficient, or produced generals of more merit, in all the kinds and grades of military talent.—It is not a worn out and effete race which has produced Lee, Johnson, Jackson, Ashby and Stewart. It is not a worn out and effete race, which, for eighteen months, has defended its capital from the enemy close upon their borders and out-numbering them thirty to one.—It is not a worn out and effete race which has preserved substantial popular unity under all the strain and pressure and sacrifices of this unprecedented war. "Let history," as was said of another race, "which records their unhappy fate as a people, do justice to their rude virtues as men." They are fighting madly in a bad cause, but they are fighting bravely.—They have few cowards and no traitors.—The hardships of war are endured without a murmur by all classes, and the dangers of war without flinching by the newest conscripts, while their gentry, the off-shoots of their peculiar social system, have thrown themselves into the camp and field with all the dash and spirit of the European nobles of the middle ages, risking, without apparent concern, upon a desperate adventure, all that men value, and after a generation of peace, repose, and security, which had not emasculated them, presenting to their enemies a trained and intrepid front, as of men born and bred to war.

The Attack on Port Hudson.

The attack on Port Hudson was of a very formidable character, as the following synopsis of the naval force engaged will show. Every vessel named belonged to the regular navy, and the Essex is the celebrated iron-clad with which Admiral Porter caused the destruction of the rebel ram Arkansas. A supply vessel called the Sportsman was also attached to the fleet, but she had no guns. Subjoined is the list:

	Tons.	Guns.	Officers and Men.
Mississippi	1,692	10	300
Hartford	1,990	14	300
Richmond	1,929	20	300
Monongahela	1,376	9	200
Genesee	803	4	100
Kineo	507	4	90
Itasca	507	4	90
Essex (iron-clad)	1,000	2	100

In additionto the above the mortar boats and all the war vessels at New Orleans, with the exception of the Pensacola, would be called into service. This is the first engagement of the Monongahela.

No more Passes through the Lines.

Hereafter no civilian will be allowed to enter or go out of the lines of the department, at Washington on the south side of the Potomac without a pass from the headquarters in this city. All persons applying for passes into the lines will be stopped and examined at the outposts, but not allowed to enter the lines. Those persons whom it may be important for the military authorities to confer with will be kept out of the lines until their respective cases can be acted and decided upon at the headquarters in this city.—Washington Republican.

Revenue Decision.

In regard to the amendment of the excise law, that "No stamp duty shall be required on powers of attorney or any other papers relating to applications for bounties, arrearages of pay, or pensions, or to receipt thereof from time to time," acting Commissioner Estee has decided that it exempts from stamp duties, arrearages of pay or pensions, whether such applications are made by or on behalf of officers or privates of the army, or of officers of marines, or sailors of the navy, or of other persons who are or at the the time of such application may have been in the service of the United States.

Pedestrianism.

Jack Cross, a pedestrian, accomplished a wager in Washington on Friday, to walk forty-eight hours on a narrow plank sixteen feet long. Toward the close he looked sleepy and decidedly the worse of wear and moved (especially at the turnings) with considerable difficulty. Cross' feet were considerably swollen, and the glands of his legs also showed the effect of the walk. There was some swelling of the muscles back to the knee. His toe became so painful on Thursday night that it was found necessary to cut the shoe, and both shoes in fact had to be cut in different places. He was obliged also to kick off the heels of his shoes, to facilitate his movements.

The Minnesota Indians.

Senator Wilkinson, of Minnesota, is laboring to arrange for the removal of the Indians from his State, under the acts passed for that purpose. He expects to succeed in the peaceful deportation of the whole of them during the coming Summer. This will give peace and quiet to the frontier of Minnesota, and release for service in the Southwest the troops sent to suppress the Indian outbreak.

The Sea Serpent.

A letter from an officer on board H. M. S. Stromboli, at Rio, says: "We go back to the Montevideo as soon as the Curlew arrives. Captain Forbes, of the Curlew, has writen to the admiral to say that the great sea serpent has been caught at last. This monstrosity was washed on shore in a very sickly state, which enabled the natives to dispatch him easily. Report says he is 160 feet long, with a head and tail like a lizard, and that it took six men to carry one of his ribs.

The Forthcoming Draft.

It seems to be very well understood that as soon as the Provost Marshals are selected and an enrollment secured, that a draft will be first ordered in those States that have not filled their quotas under the old allotment, for men enough to fill up deficiencies. This will put at least forty thousand men in the field, with prospects of a call ere June for two or three hundred thousand additional.

Making it Practical.

The Journal of Commerce says it is proposed to insert in the pledge of the Loyal Union League, wich has been circulated, the additional clause, "and we further agree that if drafted, we will go into the army in person instead of paying the $300 authorized for exemption."

Sight Seers at Charleston.

A Charleston journal says that the hotels in that city are filled with strangers of distinction, who have come thither to enjoy the spectacle of a promised battle to take place in that region ere long. The New York Courier des Estats Unis says that this reminds it of the eccentric Englishman who followed everywhere after the menagerie, in the hope of one day seeing the lion bite off the head of the man who put it in the mouth of the beast.

NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Naval Nomenclature.

The new Navy Register contains, among the names of vessels added to the Navy during the year, the following: Cricket, Bahlia, Eugenie, Dandelion, Daisy, Diana, Forest Rose, Fern, Hyacinth, Joy, Juliet, Linden, Laurel, Lily, Mignonette, Mistletoe, Prairie Bird, Petrel, Rattler, Silver Lake, Thistle and Violet. These are all of the gunboat and tender species.

Impending Battle in Virginia.

From information received it is evident that the rebels are industriously feeling the outer lines of the Army of the Potomac. Their movements indicate their apprehension of an attack upon their army or a feint to cover its retreat from its present position.

A Lady Dentist.

The little, but go.s head, town of McGregor, Iowa, is in a high state of jubilation over the advent of a lady dentist.—It is said there is danger that the male population will soon be toothless, so great is the rush to the lady dentist to have molars extracted.

Packages for the Army.

Orders have been issued requiring all packages sent by mail to soldiers in Gen. Hooker's army to pass through headquarters Post-Office for scrunity. This regulation was made in consequence of the discovery that in several cases soldiers have received suits of citizens' clothes by mail, to facilitate their desertion.

Condensed Air Shells.

Condensed air in shells is about to receive a trial at Chatam, England. The elasticity of compressed air augmented by heat, as in concussion, is said to be explosive.

An Illuminating Shell.

M. France, lieutenant of artillery in the French army, has invented a shell which illuminates an area of several hundred yards. Three or four of them are found sufficient to light up a very extensive plain.

Going to Europe.

Charles F. Browne (Artemus Ward) has received a very fine offer, from experienced and responsible parties, to go to England with a "comic lecture." The date mentioned for his departure is some time in next September, and it is possible he may accept the proposition.

The Florida.

A letter from Barbardoes, on the 28th states that the privateer Florida had left for the English Channel, taking a mail for France and England.

Importing Printing Paper.

The New York Times is importing 13,000 reams of news printing paper from Belgium. It will cost, with duty and exchange, about fifteen cents a pound; which it is believe will soon be the ruling price of our paper manufacturers. Extensive preparations are making by some of the latter, in different parts of the country, for the use of the cheapest stocks, such as straw, wood, &c., and this will inevitably affect the market.

Wisconsin Decisions.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin has decided that the Congressional draft law of last summer is constitutional; that only citizens of the United States are subject to draft; and that the State law allowing volunteers to vote is constitutional.

Western Navigation.

The ice in front of St. Paul has disappeared, and it is expected that navigation through Lake Pepin will be open within a week.

How the Contrabands Flourish.

A contraband arrived at St. Louis $ 700 in gold in his possession. He was asked how he obtained it. "The grillers," he said, "come to de plantation an set fire to de cotton; afore it got burnt up, dey luf and went off, and I went up to de pile and scratched out a whole heap an put him out, and den sell him for shiner," and he proudly repeated his exploit to every new questioner.

The Attack on Charleston.

A gigantic attack upon Charleston has been decided on, and will be put into execution very soon. Admiral Dupont has been prepared to make the naval assault, with every prospect of success, for some time past, and has only delayed it to accommodate the military powers.

A New Description of Ordnance.

James T. Aines, of Chicopee, Mass., has received a contract to furnish two guns to the Navy Department, which shall be made of a composition of metal of his own invention. It has borne an explosive force of 80,000 pounds to the square inch.

The Rebellion Dying Out.

The Administration has information, through bankers in Baltimore and Washington, who are in possession of news from Richmond, that the rebellion is rapidly "caving in."

Cheap Newspaper.

The price of the Memphis Appeal, now published at Jackson, Miss., is $30 a year in advance. Let those who are disposed to complain at the slight rise in the price in Northern papers think of that, and consider how well off they are in comparison.

Claims Against Costa Rica.

The claims against Costa Rica comprised about forty cases; of these eighteen or twenty were, in the absence of the parties interested, managed by an attorney selected by the government, and the remainder by Reverdy Johnson, Cushing, and other eminent counsel. J. M. Carlisle was attorney for Costa Rica, and the Italian minister acted as umpire. The aggregate claims were $2,500,000, but the result of the commission is only $25,000 one per centum on that amount.

General Burnside.

It was at one time last week determined that General Burnside should supercede both Generals Hunter and Foster, but an unexpected agreement between the latter gave General Burnside his position in the West.

A Singular Duel.

A Vienna letter of the 27th ult., says the Count I——, a lieutenant in the Chasseurs had been found on that day dreadfully wounded by a pistol shot, fired by himself, as is supposed, in consequence of one of those desperate duels in which the antagonists draw lots to see which of the two shall commit suicide within twenty-four hours. There was but little hope of the Count's recovery.

A Ten Year Loan.

It is said that Secretary Chase will offer a ten year loan at par to those who dislike the five twenties on account of the probability of their too speedy redemption.

Preparing for Emergencies.

Information has been received from Richmond by the Government that rich and prominent rebels, Secretary Benjamin for one, are converting the bulk of their property into foreign exchange—a significant circumstance. They are also making remittances to New York through the medium of their State stocks.

Quinine.

In consequence of the extraordinary rise in the price of Quinine, the Medical Department has determined to commence the manufacture of it at laboratories in New York and Philadelphia. Since the war began the price of this drug has gone up from two dollars to four dollars an ounce. It is speculated in, in the same manner as gold.

The "Last Ditch."

It is stated that the rebel leaders are preparing to concentrate their whole available force in the vicinity of Chattanooga, there to make the last grand effort of the rebellion.

Books Wanted.

It is understood that the vigilant librarian of Congress has sent a demand, by epistle, to a member of the last House from a New York District, for the immediate return of two hundred volumes belonging to his trust. The rebinding of the books will not prevent their identification.

Cotton.

The Memphis Argus of the 22d says the Champion had brought news that the Von Phul, Empress, Fanny Bullitt and Chancellor, had been sent to American Bend to get some six thousand bales of cotton discovered hid at that point.

Discharge of Mrs. Hartung.

Mrs. Mary Hartung, whose name has long been before the public in connection with a murder case, has been released from custody by the New York Court of Appeals.

Strawberries.

In one county in Maryland there are seven hundred acres of strawberries, and two persons in that State have each one hundred and twenty acres, and three others one hundred acres each in strawberry plants.

The Ossipee.

The screw sloop Ossipee, for some weeks at the Washington Navy Yard, is now in fine sea condition, the alteration of her machinery having just been thoroughly and satisfactorily tested.

The Last Words of a Hero.

The last words of Gen. Sumner were: "God save my country, the United States of America."

Loss by Rebel Privateers.

The amount of Northern property destroyed by the rebel cruisers and privateers Alabama, Florida, Retribution, Sumter, Jeff. Davis, &c., is estimated at from ten to fifteen millions of dollars.

A Rebel General Married.

On the 24th ult., Gen. Hardee was united in bonds of wedlock to Miss Ready, of Murfreesboro, sister to the wife of Gen. John H. Morgan. The marriage took place at Tullahoma, and was attended by all the military grandees.

Sold into Slavery.

Two free-born colored boys, who went out as servants to some of the officers, in the 42d Massachusetts regiment, and at the capture of Galveston were taken by the rebels, have been sold into slavery by their captors.

The Royal Wedding.

The London papers are full of the Prince of Wales' wedding. The entrance of the Princess Alexandra into London was a magnificent reception. Descriptions of the bridal presents, trousseau and everything else pertaining to the great event, crowd the English press, and have been for weeks past the mental condiment of the English people.

"When this Cruel War is Over."

The author of this ballad, so universally popular, has [illegible]

Evacuation of Vicksburg.

The rebel papers are again advocating the evacution of Vicksburg, in order that the army there may be employed in Tennessee against General Rosecrans.

Invasion of Kentucky but a Cavalry Raid.

ATTEMPTED FIRE AT NORFOLK.

FOREIGN NEWS.

&c., &c., &c., &c.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A special to the Herald from Murfreesboro, Tenn., dated March 25th, says: The Chatanooga, Tennessee Rebel of the 26th, contains the following:

"PORT HUDSON, March 21.—Reports of the sinking of the sloop-of-war Richmond, from injuries received on the 15th inst., prevail. Nothing definite is known. The mortar fleet still occupies the old positions below, out of range of our fire. Twenty deserters have arrived within the past two days, and they are continually arriving, and confirm the previous reports of demoralization in Bank's army."

The Richmond correspondent of the Charleston Mercury says: General Lee's whereabouts remain a profound mystery. In his official report of the battle of Stone river General Bragg severely censures the course of Breckinridge.

LOUISVILLE, March 27.—The Frankfort train was delayed last night by a locomotive being thrown from the track, which required some time to be removed.

The train brought the news of the retreat of the rebels from Danville towards Somerset; but as the military authorities had not been advised thereof by telegraph, they considered the report premature.

Danville refugees are coming in. Some excitement exists in Lexington but the popular opinion gains ground that the recent invasion of Kentucky, was merely a cavalry raid.

Passengers in the 11 A. M. Frankfort train disagree in their reports concerning the evacuation of Danville, some affirming and others denying the fact.

There is no telegraphic intelligence from that quarter.

PORTLAND, March 27.—The steamship Bohemian arrived this morning from Liverpool.

She brings dates of the 12th and 13th via Londonderry.

On the occasion of the wedding illumination in London, seven women were crushed to death and upwards of one hundred persons had their limbs broken.—Several riots occurred, and the streets on several occasions had to be cleared by the soldiers at the point of the bayonet.

The pirate Alabama spoke an English vessel and reported that she had destroyed thirty-four American crafts.

Langiewitz has been proclaimed dictator of Poland and has issued a stirring address to the Poles.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 27.—An effort was made to burn the Quartermaster's store house in Norfolk, at an early hour yesterday. The incendiaries were discovered in time to thwart their designs.

HALIFAX, March 27.—The steamer Delta from St. Thomas on the 17th, and Bermuda on the 23d, has arrived here. The United States steamer Vanderbilt arrived at St. Thomas on the 12th.

The Governor at Barbadoes invited the veteran patriot declined, saying, that the Governor had entertained the pirate Maffit.

Admiral Wilkes had transferred his flag from the Wachusetts to the steamer Vanderbilt. The former was at St. Thomas on the 16th; also the British frigate Phaeton and two blockade runners—one named the Aries, and the other unknown. Admiral Wilkes threatened to seize both vessels.

The Aries sailed on the 16th, but observing the preparations of Admiral Wilkes to pursue, turned back and anchored. The Captain of the Aries applied to the Phaeton for protection, which was afforded.

The Vanderbilt sailed on the 16th, it was said for Havana.

On the morning of the 18th the Phaeton convoyed the two blockade runners out. The United States steamer Wachusetts did not follow them.

The commander of the Phaeton had communicated with Admiral Wilkes regarding the seizure of the Peteshoffe.

The bark Fame sailed from St. Thomas on the 27th with the crew of the burned ship Jacob Bell on board. It is reported that the captain of the Princess Royal is a passenger per the Delta.
