SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 28.
CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE

Organization of the Temperanceville Council.

A general meeting of previous John D. Richards, Burgess; John J. Jones, James McIlvane, James W. Moore, Codington and Charles Geiger, Councilmen elect of the Borough of Temperanceville, at the Council Chamber, on Thursday evening, March 26, 1863, for the purpose of organizing a council, whose office was administered by the Burgess, Dr. Cochran, after which Burgess John D. Richards administered the office to the Councilmen, John J. Jones, Kenedy, McBride, Wallace, Codington and Geiger, the Council thus organized by appointing George A. Cochran, Esq., Secretary pro tem.

On motion the Council proceeded to elect officers to serve for the ensuing year.

The following officers were elected: Clerk, Councilor S. H. French; Bro. Treasurer, Michael; Bro. Solicitor, G. A. Cochran, Esq.

On motion the Clerk's salary was fixed at twenty dollars for the ensuing year.

To insure the Treasurer's salary was fixed at $100 per month, all money received paid in full.

On motion the Pittsburgh Post was designated and the publishing sheet of the Post for the ensuing year.

On motion Messrs. Codington and Geiger were appointed a committee on streets and board walks until the next meeting.

On motion adjourned to meet on the last Wednesday of April.

JOHN D. RICHARDS, Burgess.

Attest: G. A. Cochran, Clerk, pro tem.

The Seville's Championship.

The Voice of the People, a new paper published in New York, copies a communication attacking Mr. Hamill, our champion of the day, from the Clipper and the comments of the Post thereon, upon which it makes the following remarks:

"Hamill" Roberts is allowed to in both the above papers as being possessed of information which would give those who feel an interest in these champions and their friendly contests, a chance to speak to the "Champions" about it. The champion thus derived is that according to Hamill, he had continued training for several months before he came to the challenge to Ward, by rowing, whenever he had time to pass, and to fro, between his place of residence and the glass house where he worked.

This fact, however, proves nothing to Mr. Hamill's disengagement. As the Post observes, the champion was bound to be always ready, when challenged; and, as we do not know the law, we made the plea for himself, which "Hamill" advanced that he felt himself to be sufficiently prepared before he entered on the contest. The truth is,

"So have they it to say?"

and our present information leaves it probable that Ward's time had come, as the case when Bob Martin succumbed to the "Champions," who, in the end, in his turn, yielded to him, the fighter, a tight pull to his successful competitor, Andrew Fox.

Telegraphic Dispatches.

An important act has just been introduced into the House of Representatives to provide for the better safety of the contents of telegraphic dispatches. It provides that any one who shall enter a room or enclosure of the company or by whomsoever knowledge of a misdeemeanor, and liable to conviction, to pay a fine of not more than $100 and to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year.

Received Home.

Col. Jas. K. Kerr, of the Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry, who left here last week in very poor health, reached his home at Franklin on Saturday, after a severe illness. The physician says of him: "The hard service of Col. Kerr has been sufficient to prostrate the strong physical organization. We are glad to see him recovering, and trust that he will soon be fit to be the head of his boys of the garrison, Frank, who now make him a commander."

Old Fellow's Election.

The election in the subordinate lodges of Odd Fellows took place on Friday, April 4th and May 1st from Liverpool, and the officers elect will be installed during the week following. The presiding officer of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania is now installing officers in the lodges within his jurisdiction.

Another Veteran Dead.

We have now to record the death of another soldier of the war of 1812, John Steele, in the 78th year of his age. He died in the city of Baltimore on Friday evening, April 4th, in the 78th year of his life. His body was removed to the hospital of the city, and the services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Pitcock, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Burglary at Middletown.

Last Tuesday night the jewelry store of Hugh Flinn, Rattanack, was broken into and robbed of goods worth some $1,200, to which no clue has yet been discovered.

The thieves also entered some of the police offices, but got nothing of much value.

The Virginia Amendment Ratified.

We have now to record the death of another soldier of the war of 1812, John Steele, in the 78th year of his age. He died in the city of Baltimore on Friday evening, April 4th, in the 78th year of his life. His body was removed to the hospital of the city, and the services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Pitcock, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Commitments.

Alderman Hubbard yesterday charged Mr. Dunlap, charged by Hattie Swiger with assault and battery. John H. C. Rankin, of Union township, was committed to prison from Court charged with violating the liquor law.

A Panther at Large.

A panther has recently been seen on the Gardner road near Medville, Crawford county, and has recently pursued Mr. Wm. W. Lee, who only escaped with his horse by hard riding.

Charter.

The Bank Committee of the Senate have reported to the Senate for five years the charter of the Exchange Bank of Pittsburgh, Farmers' Bank of Somerville, Lebanon Bank, York County, and Bank of Montgomery county.

Atlantic and Great Western Railways.

The branch of this railroad from Meadville to Franklin is progressing rapidly. The track is finished from the junction to Cochranton.

Bedding Stock.

The bill giving drivers the privilege of bedding their own stock as they may see proper, and purchasing their feed from those who please, has passed the House of Representatives.

Farmers' Almanac, all styles and prices.

The finest assortment in the city, at Pitcock's, opposite the Postoffice.

Tax Act.

The new Democratic paper published in Philadelphia, persons wishing it delivered at their residence should call on the Agent, John W. Pitcock, opposite the Postoffice. Received every morning—also sold at the counter.

Quine Lamps.

We are just to receive a large assortment of hats and caps, the newest styles and best quality of hats, caps and straw goods, in great variety. Every novelty in the hat and cap line can be had at this house.

Wholesalers and retail buyers will find it to their advantage to call and examine this stock before purchasing.
